INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE APPOINTMENT AND PROCEEDINGS OF VISITING COMMITTEES OF SECONDARY SCHOOLS MAINTAINED FROM PUBLIC FUNDS.

[These rules are supplementary to the rules for the management of schools, which are already in force.]

1. For every secondary school managed by Government or by a District Board, Municipal Committee or Joint-Committee there should be Visiting Committees, consisting of local residents adequately representing the classes from which the students are drawn.

2. For Government schools, except collegiate schools, the members of the Visiting Committees should be appointed by the District Officer in consultation with the Inspector of Schools. For collegiate schools they should be appointed by the Director of Public Instruction on the nomination of the Principals of the attached colleges, who should consult suitable local authorities before sending in their selections.

3. For schools managed by District Boards, Municipal Committees or Joint-Committees, the members should be appointed from among the members of the District and Local Boards, Municipal Committees or Joint-Committees, as the case may be, by the Chairmen concerned. Other gentlemen interested in education may also be appointed members.

4. The term of office of members of Visiting Committees should be for a period of three years from the date of their appointment. Any member should be eligible for reappointment at the end of that period at the discretion of the appointing authority. Members who have not fulfilled the duties for which they were appointed should not be reappointed on the expiry of the three years' term of office. A member should be appointed whenever a vacancy occurs.

5. Visiting Committees shall have no power to issue any orders to the Head Masters of schools, their functions being confined to the offering of advice for the consideration of the school authorities and the officers of the Education Department.

6. The Visiting Committee of a school should inspect the institution at least once a quarter. Visits should not, however, be paid to the school during school-hours more often than once a month. Due notice of visit should ordinarily be given to the Head Master, but surprise visits may be made when necessary. The number of members visiting a school on any occasion should not be more than two.

7. The Visiting Committee should either record their opinion in the Visitors' Book of the school for the information of the Inspector or the Deputy Inspector of Schools, or the Principal of the College, as the case may be, or may communicate their suggestions in writing direct. A copy of the remarks should also be forwarded in the case of schools managed by District Boards, Municipal Committees or Joint-Committees to the Chairman concerned within three days of the inspection.

8. The members of every Visiting Committee should elect from amongst themselves a Chairman and a Secretary, and submit their names to the District Officer, the Director of Public Instruction or the Chairman of the District Board, Municipal Committee or Joint-Committee, as the case may be, for approval.

9. A meeting of a Visiting Committee should be called by the Secretary when considered necessary, or at the requisition of any two members of the Committee, for the general discussion of matters relating to the school. Not less than seven days' notice should be given of any meeting.

10. The notice should set forth the business to be transacted at the meeting, and no business other than that so stated should be transacted, except with the consent of all the members present. When any business of which notice has not been given is considered at a meeting, the decision recorded or resolution adopted at such meeting should be communicated forthwith to all the members, and the subject should be capable of being re-opened at a subsequent meeting convened on a requisition made by three members of the Committee within seven days of the communication of the original resolution; but, save as hereinbefore mentioned, no subject once finally disposed of should be reconsidered within six months, unless two-thirds of the members consent by signing a requisition.

11. The maximum number of members of a Visiting Committee should be ten and the minimum six, and one-third of the members in office should form a quorum. The Chairman should have a casting vote, in addition to his ordinary vote, in cases where the votes of the members present are equally divided. In the absence of the Chairman, one of the members present should be elected to preside. Committees should formulate any further rules of business that may be necessary.

12. Under the directions of the Committee, the Secretary should carry on correspondence with the proper authorities on behalf of the Committee, and be in charge of all papers belonging to the Committee.

13. The Secretary shall keep a record of the proceedings of each meeting and submit it to the next meeting for confirmation. Such proceedings and all work done by a Committee shall be duly recorded in a book kept for the purpose, which should be open for inspection by all inspecting officers of the Education Department.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE APPOINTMENT AND PROCEEDINGS OF COMMITTEES OF MANAGEMENT OF AIDED SECONDARY SCHOOLS.

[These rules are supplementary to the rules already in force in schools aided by Government or by District Boards and Municipalities.]

1. The general management of an aided secondary school, high or middle, is subject to the rules prescribed from time to time by Government or the Department for the management of aided schools The local management should remain in the hands of a Committee of Management, the members of which should be so selected as to represent all classes of the community - legal, commercial, trading, industrial and agricultural; but in cases in which the Director of Public Instruction is satisfied that the promoters of a school can give guarantees for efficient management otherwise, it will be sufficient if it is placed under a Visiting Committee as in the case of a school maintained from public funds.

2. Appointments to a Committee of Management should be made with the approval of—

(a) The District Officer, in consultation with the Inspector of Schools, in the case of a school aided by Government;

(b) The Chairman of the District Board or Municipal Committee, in the case of a school aided by a District Board or Municipal Committee.

3. The members of a Committee of Management of a school should elect from amongst themselves a Chairman, a Secretary and an Auditor, and submit their names to the District Officer or the Chairman, as the case may be, for previous approval.

4. A meeting of the Committee should be called by the Secretary, usually once every month (except in the long vacation months), or oftener if need be. Not less than seven days' notice should be given of any meeting.

5. The notice should set forth the business to be transacted at the meeting, and no business other than that so stated should be transacted, except with the consent of all the members present. When any business of which notice has not been given is considered at a meeting, the decision recorded or resolution adopted at such meeting should be communicated forthwith to all the members, and the subject should be capable of being re-opened at a subsequent meeting convened on a requisition made by three members of the Committee within seven days of the communication of the original resolution; but, save as hereinbefore mentioned, no subject once finally disposed of should be reconsidered within six months, unless two-thirds of the members consent by signing a requisition.

6. The monthly audited accounts should be presented at the next month's meeting of the Committee for the purpose of being passed.

7. The maximum number of members of a Committee should be ten and the minimum six, and one-third of the members in office should form a quorum. The Chairman should have a casting vote in addition to his ordinary vote, when the votes of the members present are equally divided. In the absence of the Chairman, one of the members present should be elected to preside. Committees should formulate any further rules of business that may be necessary

8. Under the direction of the Committee, the Secretary should carry on correspondence with the proper authorities on behalf of the Committee. He should also keep a record of the proceedings of each meeting and submit it to the next meeting for confirmation. Such proceedings and all work done by the Committee should be duly recorded in a book kept for the purpose.

9. The trust-deeds and other important papers relating to the school should be in charge of the Secretary or of some resident member of the Committee, except those which it is necessary to keep in the special charge of the Head Master; but all papers relating to the school in the shape of accounts and records should be available at any time for inspection by all inspecting officers of the Education Department.

10. No teacher should be appointed, promoted, suspended or removed, except by a resolution passed at a meeting of the Committee. In all cases of appointment, promotion and removal of the staff, the Head Master's opinion should be on record, and the Committee should always record reasons for removal, punishment, stoppage of promotion and supersession of the staff.

In exceptionally urgent cases relating to teachers other than the Head Master, however, the Secretary should, after consultation with the Head Master, make a provisional appointment in anticipation of the Committee's sanction; but the matter should be reported to the Committee at their next meeting for approval.

Similarly a provisional arrangement should be made by the Secretary in consultation with the Chairman, and subject to the approval of the Committee, in respect of a vacancy in the Head Mastership when the case is exceptionally urgent; but this should not be taken to dispense with the necessity of final confirmation by the existing educational authorities, as required under the grant-in-aid rules.

11. Subject to the provisions of the grant-in-aid rules, the list of holidays will be settled by the Secretary, in consultation with the Head Master. In the case of a difference of opinion between the Secretary and the Head Master, the matter should be referred to the Committee for decision.

12. The arrangement of classes, the settlement of the school routine, and all other details relating to school discipline and teaching should be in charge of the Head Master, acting under the advice of the departmental educational officers, but the Committee, however, should have the right to offer their opinion and advice in these matters in writing to the Inspector or the Deputy Inspector of Schools.

13. All questions relating to the promotion of boys and the selection of candidates for the Entrance and Scholarship examinations should remain in the hands of the Head Master and be subject to the supervision of the inspecting officers of the Education Department only.

STATE TECHNICAL SCHOLARSHIPS FOR NATIVES OF BENGAL.

1. With a view to provide for natives of India the higher technical education which may qualify them to assist in promoting the improvement of existing native industries, and the development of new industries wherever this may be possible, the Government of India are ready, as an experimental measure, to give a small number of Technical scholarships, if promising candidates, well qualified in some particular branch of industry, present themselves. The outlines of the scheme are sketched out below.

2. Value of the scholarships.—The value of the scholarships has been fixed at £150 a year, in addition to fees payable to the institutions where the scholars will study and travelling expenses; but Government will consider proposals for increasing it in special cases.

3. Places and periods of tenure.—Each scholarship is tenable for an average period of two years, which may be increased or reduced in special cases.

4. The scholarships may be held in Great Britain, on the Continent of Europe, or in America, and are payable from the date of the scholar's arrival in the country which he may select for study.

5. Subjects of study.—Law, Medicine, Forestry, Veterinary Science, Agriculture and Engineering have been excluded from the scope of the present proposal. The scholarships are in the first instance proposed to be used for the encouragement of the mining industry in Bengal, but any other branch of industry can similarly be helped and fostered. Industries in which native capital and enterprise are engaged, or likely to be engaged, and in which the trained scholar might, on return to his country, find scope for his skill and ability, will be particularly appropriate for selection.

6. Conditions of award.—The scholarships are tenable by persons who are natives of India within the meaning of section 6 of the Statute, 33 Vic., Cap. 3. A competent knowledge of English, or the language of any other country in which the candidate proposes to work and study is essential to enable him to take full advantage of the course of study.

7. In the matter of selection of scholars, Government will be guided by considerations of the candidate's capacity, intelligence, particular interest in and connection with the industry selected, and the assurance that he will continue to devote himself to the subject on his return to India. These being matters which cannot be decided by the holding of degrees obtained, by examination, or by competition, no special examination is considered necessary and none will be held. But a scholar before nomination should have received the best technical education available in the Province, in the particular industry which he has to study, and no candidate will be considered qualified unless he has displayed an aptitude for technical study.

8. No age-limit has been fixed. But it may be fixed by Government in certain cases.

9. The candidates for scholarships should submit certificates attesting (a) their moral character, (b) knowledge of the language of the country in which they elect to study, and (c) physical capacity, from recognized persons who may be considered fit to certify to these facts. These certificates will not be returned.

10. The scholars in England or elsewhere, as the case may be, will be under the control and supervision of the Secretary of State. The conditions under which they will hold the scholarships will be similar to those laid down for Government of India scholarships, and power will be retained to cancel a scholarship and to send the scholar back to India if his progress and conduct be not satisfactory.

11. Returned scholars.—No scholar will be bound on his return to India by any engagement to serve Government or a private firm, and the choice of his career will be in the first instance determined, on his return from Europe by his own inclination. Should any occasion arise, Government will be glad to turn his ability and increased knowledge to account as teacher in an Industrial school or in other capacities connected with the improvement of local industies.

12. Applications from natives of Bengal for such scholarships for the development of the mining industry, in the first instance, should be made direct to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, on or before the 1st May 1905. Full particulars should be furnished as to the past educational experience, training and future requirements of each applicant for a scholarship. Applicants should also indicate, if possible, what they wish to work at in their future careers on return to India. The scholarships will be awarded by the Government of India on the recommendation of the Local Government.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

THE MANICKNAGAR GHÂT ROAD.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

(a) With reference to the replies given to Questions V (3) and (6) at the Meeting of this Council held on 17th December, 1904, will the Government be pleased to lay on the table the orders of Sir John Woodburn's Government rescinding the resolution of the Municipal Commissioners of Bhadreswar making over the Manicknagar Ghât Road to Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. in February, 1900, and also the opinion of the Legal Advisers to the Government in the matter?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state if Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co., in their letter dated the 4th December, 1903, to the Government, proposed that either of the two alternative roads, e.g., the Manicknagar Ghât Road or the Paikparah Ghât Road, will suit their purpose? Is it not a fact that the lands on both sides of both these roads belong to Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co.?

(c) In the Government Resolution dated the 17th September, 1904, paragraph 4, it is stated that, if the Manicknagar Ghât Road was not given up to Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co., the use of the road by the employés of the Company who have lands on both sides of the road would entirely destroy the privacy of the road and make it unsuitable for its present purpose of access to and from the river for bathing purposes. Would not the same inconvenience arise with regard to the Paikpara Road, which leads to the river and the land on both sides of which also belong to the Company?

(d) Is it not the fact that the people of Bhadreswar and its neighbourhood attach special importance to the Manicknagar Ghât Road, which leads to an ancient ghât held in great sanctity by the people and largely used by them, specially on Hindu bathing days and on occasions of other Hindu ceremonials?

The Hon'ble MR. SHIRRES replied:—

"Sir,—The following are the replies to the questions asked by the Hon'ble Member:—

(a) A copy of the letter containing the orders of the late Sir John Woodburn has been laid on the table. The legal opinion referred to was given on an unofficial reference and forms part of a succession of office notes. It is not usual to lay such papers on the table, and the Lieutenant-Governor sees no reason to depart from the usual procedure in the present case.

(b) In the letter referred to Messrs. Duff & Co. said that the closing of one of these roads, preferably the Manicknagar Ghât Road, would enable the Company to lay out a more complete compound, but the offer which Messrs. Duff & Co. made related only to the Manicknagar Ghât Road.

(c) The answer to this question is in the affirmative.

(d) It is reported that people of Bhadreswar do not attach more importance to the Manicknagar Ghât than to the neighbouring ghâts known as Paikpara Ghât and Mukdam Baksh's Ghât which are equally used by the people on Hindu bathing days and on occasions of Hindu ceremonials. It is also said that no special importance attaches to the Manicknagar Ghât Road by the reason of the fact that it leads to Manicknagar Ghât."

LETTER REFERRED TO IN THE ABOVE ANSWER.

No. 60T.-M., dated Calcutta, the 30th April, 1900.

From—H. L. STEPHENSON, ESQ., I.C.S., Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department,

To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

WITH reference to the correspondence ending with your letter No. 298M., dated the 10th—17th April, 1900, I am directed to say that, under section 63 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, Government confirms the order of the Magistrate of Hooghly, dated the 1st March, 1900, suspending as being in excess of their powers the execution of the resolution of the Commissioners of the Bhadreswar Municipality, passed at their special meeting held on the 11th February, 1900, with reference to the petition of Messrs. T. Duff & Co., regarding the diversion of the Manicknagar Ghât Road, and directs that the said orders continue in force without modification permanently.

THE CASE OF ARZOON KHAN.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to a paragraph that appeared in the Amrita Bazar Patrika, dated 28th February, 1905, in which Mr. Carey, the District Magistrate of Hooghly, is said to have called for of his own accord the records of the case of one Arzoon Khan, an under-trial prisoner, from the Joint-Magistrate of Serampore, and decided the same himself and made the complainant, one Nassir, pay Rs. 18 for the expenses of the accused?

(b) Does the Government think the aforesaid action of the District Magistrate is justified?

The Hon'ble MR. CARNDUFF replied:—

"Sir: The facts appear to be these. Arzoon Khan was a youth who, having been induced to come to Hooghly from Peshawar by his former master, the person referred to as Nassir, desired to return and applied to Nassir for money to enable him to do so. The application was refused; and thereupon Arzoon stole the property of a third person, bought a railway ticket and went to Peshawar, whence he was brought back under arrest on a warrant issued at the instance of the owner of the property stolen. The District Magistrate ascertained these facts in the course of an official visit to the jail, withdrew the case, which he thought a particularly hard one, from the file of the Joint-Magistrate to his own, and, after convicting the accused, verbally directed, not the complainant, as the Hon'ble Member thinks, but Nassir, whom he regarded as responsible for all that had happened, to pay the accused's expenses home. This direction, which was not a judicial order and could not have been enforced, was promptly complied with.

"Under the law, a District Magistrate is competent to transfer, if he thinks fit, any case to his own file from that of a Subordinate Magistrate, and it is not for the Government to consider whether or not Mr. Carey exercised his discretion properly in this instance. For the rest, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that Mr. Carey's action, though hardly discreet, was obviously prompted by the best of motives, and His Honour observes that the man Nassir apparently acquiesced in Mr. Carey's view of his duty to the boy."

THE CHANNEL THROUGH THE BIL BETWEEN THE MADHUMATI AND KUMAR RIVERS.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a report of the work done during the last five years, with the amount of money spent in each year, in connection with the opening of the Bil route between the Madhumati and the Kumar in the district of Faridpur, and state in how many years more the work is likely to be completed, and also whether it is intended to make the canal under construction navigable in all seasons of the year?

The Hon'ble MR. INGLIS replied:—

"Sir: Work was commenced on a channel through the Bil between the Madhumati and Kumar rivers in March, 1900. Each year since then the channel has been improved during the dry season. A little over eleven lakhs of rupees have been spent in all. The channel is now effective for steamers and boats at the season when the rivers are high. It is intended to deepen the channel so that it may be effective throughout the year. This may probably take three years to carry out, as it is necessary to procure from England dredging plant of a special design."

THE MOHSIN FUNDS.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked :—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement shewing the distribution of the Mohsin Funds under the following heads:—

(i) Allotments for Madrassa education (the expenditure of each Madrassa being shown separately).

(ii) Allotments for College education, including Collegiate schools.

(iii) Allotments for making up the short-fees allowed to the Muhammadan students in Government and private schools.

(iv) Allotments for salaries of the Persian teachers and the Arabic Professors employed in Government and private schools and colleges.

(b Will the Government be pleased to frame rules prohibiting the indiscriminate award of the Mohsin Fund aids to Muhammadan students, rich or poor, meritorious or otherwise, and providing for a more judicious distribution, so that only deserving poor Moslem students may receive the benefit of the Fund?

The Hon'ble MR. CARNDUFF replied:—

"Sir,—I lay on the table a statement giving the information asked for by the Hon'ble Member.

"Allotments from the Fund are placed at the disposal of the Principals of Colleges, the Head Masters of Schools or the Secretaries of Associations managing Muhammadan educational institutions, as the case may be, and to these authorities is left the distribution of aid towards the education of deserving, but poor, Muhammadan youths. No instances of the injudicious application of the moneys so distributed have come to the notice of the Director of Public Instruction or the Government of Bengal."

WAKF ESTATES.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

(a) Is the Government aware of a widespread feeling of dissatisfaction and uneasiness amongst the Muhammadans of Bengal, owing to the danger with which their religious, charitable and educational institutions have been threatened by the recent Privy Council and High Court rulings on the subject of wakfs?

(b) Is the Government aware that in many instances Mutwallees are treating wakf properties as personal properties to the great prejudice of wakf institutions, and that monies have been raised in a large number of cases on the security of wakf estates?

(c) Is the Government aware that numerous educational institutions, such as Madrassas and Mukhtabs, which were the principal means of imparting primary education to Muhammadan boys and were maintained out of the income of wakf estates, are now falling into decay or being abolished?

(d) In view of the circumstances above referred to, and having regard to the backward condition of education amongst the Muhammadans and the solicitude which the Government has always been pleased to show towards the Muhammadan community in matters of Education, will the Government be pleased to appoint a Committee, consisting of a European President and two Muhammadan members, for the purpose of making the following inquiries, viz.—

(i) to ascertain the extent to which the recent rulings of the Privy Council and the High Court have affected Muhammadan educational institutions;

(ii) to ascertain what funds are still available for these institutions;

(iii) to consider whether a special officer of the Education Department should not be deputed to inspect and supervise the Madrassas and Mukhtabs now being maintained out of what are unquestionably wakf funds and not falling within the scope of the rulings above referred to; and

(iv) to consider if any special legislation is necessary to protect and preserve such funds and carry out the objects of the original endowments.

The Hon'ble MR. CARNDUFF replied:—

"Sir,—In 1894, and again in 1899, the Government was approached by the Central Muhammadan Association on the subject of the judicial rulings referred to by the Hon'ble Member. On each occasion the memorial submitted was considered by both the Government of India and the Government of Bengal, and on the second the Association was informed that a proposal for the settlement in perpetuity of Muhammadan property under the name of wakf could not be favourably entertained. The highest judicial authority, namely, the Privy Council, has held that Muhammadan law itself does not countenance the extension of the doctrine of wakf so as to admit of the creation of such perpetuities; and an alteration of the law which would enable every Muhammadan to settle his property in the manner proposed would be contrary to the general policy of the Government and, in the opinion of the Government, unsuited to the conditions of the country. The Settled Estates Act, which was passed by this Council two years ago, goes as far in the direction of providing for family settlements as is thought safe.

"By the receipt of the two memorials mentioned above the Government of Bengal has been made aware that it is contended among Muhammadans that the decisions of the High Court and the Privy Council are not in consonance with the Muhammadan law. But the Lieutenant-Governor has perceived no other indication of the existence of the widespread feeling of dissatisfaction and uneasiness, or of the disastrous consequences, alluded to by the Hon'ble Member; and, in the circumstances, His Honour is not prepared to take any such action as is now suggested."

SUB-DEPUTY COLLECTORS.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to state what has been done to improve the prospects of Sub-Deputy Collectors for whom a sum of Rs. 70,000 was provided for in the Budget for the current official year?

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE replied:—

"Sir,—A letter was received this month from the Government of India sanctioning the following alterations in the Subordinate Civil Service:—

1. The total number of Sub-Deputy Collectors has been increased from 104 to 225.

2. The service has been graded so as to provide regular promotions from grade to grade.

3. A new grade, consisting of 11 appointments on Rs 250, has been created, which will enable Government to reward the services of Sub-Deputy Collectors who have worked satisfactorily, but who are not fit for promotion to the Provincial Service.

4. Sub-Deputy Collectors are to be allowed to count temporary services towards leave and pension from the date on which the three following conditions are fulfilled:—

(1) Two years' continuous temporary service as Sub-Deputy Collector.

(2) The passing of departmental examinations.

(3) The attainment of the age of 20 years."

CIVIL SURGEONCIES FOR ASSISTANT SURGEONS.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact, as stated in the Bengalee of the 18th March, 1905, that, although the Government of India, Home Department Resolution Nos. 1084-93, dated the 22nd June, 1899, distinctly laid down that seven Civil Surgeoncies should be reserved for Assistant Surgeons, only four such appointments have actually been granted to them since 1898, and that thus, not only has the Government of India Resolution Nos. 1141-50, dated the 22nd August, 1898, which provided for five such reserved appointments, been not fully carried out, but that the Resolution of 1899, above referred to, has been practically ignored?

If the above facts be correct, will the Government be further pleased to state when the remaining three appointments are likely to be thrown open to Assistant Surgeons?

The Hon'ble MR. SHIRRES replied:—

"Sir,—In the Resolution of the Government of India, No. 1084-93, dated the 22nd June, 1899, it was laid down that seven Civil Surgeoncies in Bengal should be reserved to Civil Assistant Surgeons. It was however at the same time stated that the complete arrangement could not be made at once, but that as occasion offered the districts would be placed in charge of Civil Assistant Surgeons until the maximum number was reached. The appointments which will ultimately be given to Civil Assistant Surgeons are at present held by Uncovenanted Medical Officers, and cannot be given until those officers retire from Government service. There are six Uncovenanted Medical Officers holding districts in Bengal, of whom one will attain the age of 55 years in October, 1910, one in September, 1913, one in February, 1915, two in 1917 and one in 1923. Some of the vacancies which occur must however be given to Military Assistant Surgeons for whom appointments must also, under the orders of the Government of India, be reserved. It is improbable therefore that the remaining three appointments will be thrown open to Assistant Surgeons for some years."

THE SAMBHU NATH PANDIT HOSPITAL.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBICA CHARAN MAZUMDAR asked:—

(a) Has the attention of the Government been called to a series of articles which appeared in the Hitabadi newspaper of the 4th, 11th, 18th and 25th November, the 2nd and 16th December, 1904, and the 27th January, 1905, alleging serious mismanagement of the Sambhu Nath Pandit Hospital at Bhowanipur and bringing forward grave charges against the Resident Surgeon attached to the said hospital? Will the Government be pleased to inquire whether the complaints and allegations made by the nurses, matrons and patients of the hospital, as reported in the said paper of the 4th, 18th and 25th November, the 2nd December, 1904, and the 27th January, 1905, have any foundation in fact? And, if so, what action has been taken on them by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals?

(b) Will the Government, in view of the importance of this hospital and in the interest of the public, be further pleased to place the institution on an efficient and satisfactory basis so as to make it thoroughly popular among the subarban population?

The Hon'ble MR. SHIRRES replied:—

"Sir,—In the first half of December the fact that certain statements had been made and repeated regarding the Resident Surgeon of the Sambhu Nath Pundit Hospital at Bhowanipur attracted the notice of Government. It was ascertained that the allegations in question were either wholly unfounded or grossly exaggerated. The Resident Surgeon was specially recommended for the appointment by Major Bird, who was thoroughly satisfied with his work as Resident Surgeon, and Major Harold Browne, who has succeeded Major Bird, is equally well satisfied. The Lieutenant-Governor does not consider it necessary to direct any further enquiry to be made into the matter.

"With reference to the latter part of the question, the following figures show that the popularity of the institution is not declining. The number of indoor patients in each of the five years beginning with 1900 and ending with 1904 was 1,135, 1,225, 1,269, 1,183, and 1,757; the number of outdoor patients was 18,973, 18,978, 19,767, 19,833 and 22,981; and the number of operations was 2,207, 2,449, 2,336, 2,609, and 3,648. The hospital is doing excellent work; and its increasing popularity is manifest."

THE BENGAL FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR 1905-1906.

The Hon'ble RAJA BAN BEHARI KAPUR said:—"Your Honour, the financial year which closes to-day has been a most extraordinary year. At the commencement we had a very good rainfall which induced most cultivators to bring a larger area than usual under cultivation. The crops throve well and were full of promise, but from the close of September there was no rain to speak of in many places, and for want of rain in October the greater portion of the standing crop withered away. Wherever water was available for the purpose of irrigation, both tenants and zamindars availed themselves of it for saving as much crop as possible, but in many places the crop was destroyed, and where it was partly saved the paddy was husky, i.e., the number of barren grains was very large. Out of about 240 paddy grains ordinarily contained in a stalk of paddy no less than 40 were mere husks. In many fields the tenant did not care to harvest the paddy at all, as he did not think it worth his labour to bring home the stunted stalks that would make bad straw. This was very disappointing to both tenants and zamindars who had to clear up all arrears with the help of full crops. Then again, Sir, we had a most unusually cold weather, and cold-weather crops were more or less blighted by frost, and that is why some short collection was made in February last as mentioned by the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary.

"Bearing all these facts in mind the Budget Statement which is before the Council must be pronounced to be excellent, and I must therefore congratulate Your Honour and the Financial Secretary on such a good Budget even in a year of short crops and deficient collection. The Budget is clear and simple, and at the same time it supplies all the details required to make a Budget comprehensive. It is very fortunate that we live in a province which can so far stand short yield and partial scarcity as to enable its Ruler to pass an average Prosperity Budget.

"I have no desire to take the time of the Council by discussing the Budget allotments in detail as I do not think it at all necessary.

"I should, Sir, however, like very much to know whether the special grant of Rs. 12,00,000, made by the Imperial Government for the improvement of the subordinate staff of the Police Force, would be sufficient to carry out the three objects to which His Excellency the Viceroy has been pleased to give preference, namely, the re-organization of the Military Police Force of the Province, the increase of pay to the constables and head constables and the re-organization of the Sub-Inspectorships. I should be very glad to know if the sum required by your Government for these classes of policemen can be easily supplied, and how much of it will be met from the special grant. If it falls short by a reasonable sum and if it can be met from our savings in any way, I venture to suggest that the required amount be made available from the provincial funds. In previous years a certain sum was successively provided for in the Budget for this very object; but as the Resolution on the Police Commission report was not out and the decision of the Government of India was not known, your Government was unable to use the amount for the purpose.

"I should like to say a few words about the hospitals for paying patients. It is most gratifying to find that a sum of Rs. 2,00,000 has been provided for the construction of 'paying patients' block' in the General Hospital. This, Sir, I am sure would remove a great want in this ever-increasing metropolis. In this connection, Sir, I beg leave to suggest that next year a certain sum may be made available for the construction of a 'paying patients' hospital' for Indian middle class gentlemen. I need hardly assure Your Honour that there is actually a great need for some such hospital. The hospital should be built and equipped in the modern style. There are the Mayo Hospital and a few others, but they do not, I have been informed, meet the requirements of the people nor are they sufficient for the ever-increasing demand. Of course it is known to Your Honour that those who utilize these hospital beds are mostly Mufassal patients who come to Calcutta for treatment and cannot afford to take a house and pay for the best medical aid. Most of these people who want to be accommodated in the hospitals cannot get in owing to the limited number of proper hospitals.

"In this connection I must be excused for mentioning that there is some accommodation in the Medical College Hospital and the Campbell Hospital, but patients, I am informed, do not care to go in there if they can help it. The reason ascribed is this:—Both these places are rather teaching institutions than hospitals. The treatment of diseases is utilised for the purposes of instruction, and difficult and complicated cases serve to illustrate text-books and lectures in a manner extremely distasteful to the patients. I have nothing to urge against the working of these most useful hospitals, but I say that the remarks on the nature of diagnosis and prognoses of cases made by the Professors for the benefit of their pupils often prove painful, if not injurious, to the English-knowing patients. For this reason the indoor patients' wards in these two places are not very popular among educated people. Therefore I humbly request Your Honour that if funds be available, Your Honour might be pleased to have a separate 'paying patients' block' built for Indian patients. This, I am sure, Sir, will meet a real want.

"We have a provision of Rs. 70,000 under head 'Medical' for meeting the expenses during the prevalence of plague. The way the plague is increasing and spreading in many districts in Bengal, and is, I am afraid, Sir, likely to affect the whole country, I think a certain additional sum of money should be set apart to enable us to fight the enemy all along its line of march.

Lastly, Sir, I wish to bring to the notice of Your Honour and the Hon'ble Members of this Council that we should be prepared to meet the partial scarcity which we are going to have for the short crop and failure of crops in some places, especially in parts of the districts of Burdwan and Bankura, though the District Boards now pay for the charitable relief and find funds to provide work for the relief of the people and though they are prepared to spend as much as they can on this most necessary head, yet, Sir, funds at their disposal being of a limited character, should be supplemented from the provincial grants to enable them to carry out most useful works at times. Therefore, Sir, I venture to propose that a certain sum out of the surplus might, with advantage, be set apart to help the most needy districts. It is not my intention to start a scarcity in any way, I am only advocating that if it exists and Your Honour is satisfied that help is needed, we should have sufficient funds to proffer help to the districts that are in need of such help from the Government."

The Hon'ble ASIF KADR SAIYID WASIF ALI MIRZA, of Murshidabad, said:—

"I do not profess to claim any special knowledge of matters financial; still, with Your Honour's permission, I beg to offer a few remarks regarding the Financial Statement for the year 1905-06.

"I desire, in the first place, to offer my sincere congratulations to the Government for what I may call the prosperity budget of the year to come. The closing balance of the current year, being Rs. 1,24,86,000, represents the opening balance of the next year, 1905-06. From different sources, the budget estimate contemplates receipts aggregating Rs. 5,64,33,000; and out of the total amount of Rs. 6,89,19,000, it is proposed to spend Rs. 6,66,70,000, leaving a closing balance of Rs. 82,49,000. I feel grateful and highly appreciate the laudable desire of the Government to spend not only the whole of the expected revenue from different sources during the year, but also a further sum of Rs. 42,37,000 out of the opening balance. This generous intention, I have no doubt, will be duly appreciated by the public.

"A study of the different items of expenditure, as provided in the budget, ought undoubtedly to convince any one, as it has convinced me, of the anxiety which has been shown in taking into consideration all the matters which fall within the scope of administration. Very great care has been taken to make allotments proportionate to the magnitude and importance of the works. I should like to make a few observations with regard to some items of expenditure.

"It is an admitted fact that great ravages are being caused by Malaria, and I venture to think that there would be no violation of truth, if I say that Malaria is annually taking away a larger number of lives than the plague. Malaria has got a firm footing in many districts of Bengal, and it is highly desirable that Government should adopt more effective measures for stamping out Malaria. I am fully alive to the fact that Government has caused enquiries to be made from time to time by experts and specialists at considerable expense. The preventive and remedial measures which have been adopted by Government do not, in my humble opinion, appear to have been sufficient or adequate. The drainage scheme might be successful to a certain extent in riparian areas; but there can hardly be one uniform method for combating with Malaria in different districts of the Province. In my humble opinion, larger amounts ought to be allotted for this purpose and greater attention to be paid to this most important matter than what has been given to it. It is not for me to make any suggestions for improving the sanitation and for coping successfully with Malaria, as I am no expert; but in tracts of lands, urban or suburban, fallow or cultivated, I see swamps, marshes, cesspools, stagnant water-sheets, jungles, filth of all sorts, and water, used for drinking, of the most impure nature, I naturally think that Malaria is attributable to all these things and that Government should take the people into its confidence and ask them to co-operate with it for eradicating Malaria from Bengal.

"I am very glad to find that Government has taken into consideration the just claim of some ministerial officers whose pay ought to be increased. The establishment of the Munsifs is very weak. It is undermanned and the officers are ill-paid. It is to be regretted that though a sum of four lakhs of rupees were provided for the improvement of salaries of the ministerial officers, the amount was not spent and has been shown as a saving, owing to the failure to obtain sanction of the schemes before the close of the year."

The Hon'ble MR. CHAUDHURI said:—"Sir, the first point to which I desire to draw attention is as to the New System of Financial Settlement that has been arrived at between our Provincial Government and the Government of India since last year. While it marks in some respects an improvement over the system of Quinquennial Contracts between the Provincial and Imperial Governments, which it has superseded, yet I doubt very much whether it has conferred on us any substantial boon. No doubt, under the new system, we are, in theory, entitled to the advantages of any future expansion of our Provincial Revenue.

"But at the settlement the prospective expansions were so carefully sliced off by reducing our provincial shares that but for the ever-expanding Stamp and Excise revenues, any prospects of improvement in our Provincial finance would be very poor indeed. It gives me a very painful feeling, as it must do to every one who has any feeling for this country, to see the Provincial and Imperial surpluses swelled by the sale of either justice or of liquor. The expansions either in the current or the next year, which may be put down roundly at 5¾ lakhs and 6½ lakhs respectively, are chiefly attributable to expansion in the Stamp and Excise revenues. Of Stamps, the court-fees contribute to the bulk of the expansion. Even those, who ought to know better, often believe and say that this gain to Government proceeds from an innate love of the people for litigation or from a natural rise in their prosperity. But either of these suppositions can be shown from facts and figures to be unfounded. Taking the English and Indian figures ten years back, the English figures show that one in every twenty-four persons is involved in some sort of litigation, while in India, it is about one in every 140. This does not show that the Indians are inordinately fond of litigation.

"But I do not deny that litigation has been on the increase in this country. Referring to the figures for 1903, which was a record year for litigation for those Provinces, the ratio between law suits to population may be put down to one in 110 roughly. Of this increase in litigation the rent suits may be said to contribute the bulk, and 99 per cent. of such suits are for arrears of rent. This negatives the theory of prosperity. Money and title suits do not show any abnormal rise in numbers. Of late years some very heavy title suits came to be instituted. Both this and the extraordinary rise in rent-suits have contributed to an increase in Stamp revenue. Anyhow, this is not a matter for national congratulation, and in that view I cannot regard a rise in the Stamp revenue from litigation as a sound basis of finance.

"In 1903 the net surplus to Government from civil litigation in these Provinces was Rs. 56,36,566. I have not been able to obtain the exact figures for the last year, but I may presume from the financial statement that the gains from such source in 1904 have been even larger. Sir Edward Law admitted the economic soundness of the principle that no profit ought to be made out of administration of justice, but yet tried to find arguments in justification of retaining the surplus. His arguments stand self-condemned, and I have no desire to deal with them here. As it is, the scale of court-fees in this country is higher than it is in any of the Continental countries of Europe and is almost the same as in the United Kingdom. In England the standard of wealth is much higher, the judiciary both of the superior and inferior ranks are much more highly paid and so are also the ministerial and other officers. The net financial result of the receipts and disbursements on account of litigation in England is a deficit, and not a surplus. But in India, and Bengal specially, if the administration of justice continues to yield such enormous surpluses, a time will come when the scale of court-fees will require a revision.

"We are very thankful to Government for giving us an Additional High Court Judge, and some Short-hand Writers on the Original Side; for the proposed additions to the High Court buildings, for the increase in the staff of the Subordinate Executive and Judicial Services, and for the provision made for housing the Munsifs and for the diet money and travelling expenses of witnesses, for allowances to Jurors and Assessors and for the proposal of improving the pay and prospects of Ministerial Officers; but all these will make little difference to the ever-increasing surplus from litigation. A time will come when relief must be given to a people who are being ruined from the costs of litigation. Contemplating such a contingency I cannot regard the surpluses accruing from such sources either as economically sound or morally justifiable. As for any prospective expansion of revenue from Excise on liquor and drugs, the less said the better. Under the ½ and $\frac{7}{16}$ share assigned to us under Stamps and Excise revenues, respectively, our Provincial revenues cannot go on swelling ind efinitely, nor is it desirable that it should do so. As for the prospects of expansion under other heads of revenue, they are very remote.

"The solid foundation of our Provincial revenue lies, however, in the land. But land is mostly permanently settled in these Provinces and that is by no means a matter of regret to any class or community. That Settlement serves as a sort of permanent Famine Insurance to our people. The revenue to the Government never fails, and it is the tillers of the soil who get the real benefit of their labour.

"In the Lower Provinces of Bengal, where the crops are not shared between the landlord and the tenant, the former's prospect of any unearned increment is very small and very remote indeed under the present conditions of the Tenancy Law, and the law need not be made unnecessarily stringent. For instance, out of every bigha of jute-growing land the tenant can get from Rs. 50 to Rs. 100 a year, and the landlord would thank himself if he can get Rs. 2 out of it as annual rent. Pieces of land yielding more crops than one often carry much lower rent per bigha under the Bengal zamindars. Among the many blessings of the Permanent Settlement not the least is, that the Government has never to remit any land revenue and has seldom to launch into schemes of famine relief on any extensive scale. Land is also not very lightly taxed in Bengal, because the Road and the Public Works cesses, the Chaukidari and the Dâk taxes all ultimately fall on land. It furnishes all the same the most solid and the most substantial source of revenue in these Provinces from year's end to year's end.

"The Government of India have no just cause of grievance against our land revenue system, especially having regard to the fact that even in the present year of their unprecedented surpluses, they are obliged to budget for a decrease under the general head of land revenue which must refer to other Provinces. But if the Government of India have no real grievance against us on this account, we regret that we cannot say as much of them. The Government of India have for some time past been appropriating three-fourths of our land revenue. The result is, as I have shown, that we have to fall back on such suicidal sources of revenue as Stamp and Excise for our Provincial surpluses. No doubt the Government of India is now giving us liberal doles. But there may be many urgent matters of purely Provincial concern, such as sanitation, water-supply, etc., for which work may have to be undertaken on a large scale and recurring expenditure incurred, but in such matters the Government of India, from a distance, may not feel as strongly as we do.

"In the present state of our finances the Government of Bengal is greatly handicapped in taking any initiative, even in matters which mean life and death to the people of this Province. The present system of granting doles may be said to be conducive to the bringing of our Local Government to a state of complete financial and administrative subserviency to the Government of India. This Government would, however, be in a much stronger position if a more substantial share of its land revenue were made over to it and some other burdens now recognised as Imperial relieved from its shoulders. I shall indicate them in their appropriate places. The Financial Settlement between the Provincial and Imperial Governments was arrived at a time when the latter did not anticipate such unprecedented surpluses. A time may come, I dare say it will come before long, when the Government of India will be disposed to make a more liberal settlement with us, and in view of such contingency I have ventured to make the above suggestions.

"But apart from all such contingencies, I shall now deal with questions which have long been neglected. It is almost during my lifetime that Bengal has become the hotbed of deadly epidemic diseases. Within my personal recollection many flourishing towns and many more prosperous and thriving villages, nay, almost the whole of rural Bengal, have fallen into the clutches of death. One cannot always rely on personal impressions in such matters. But the last Census Report shows that the normal growth of population in Bengal has got arrested. Even in Bihar, ordinarily considered as one of the healthiest parts of these Provinces, the last Census Report records a woeful tale. In the Patna Division, five out of the seven districts—Patna, Gaya, Shahabad, Saran, Champaran—(with the exception of Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga) all show a decline of popluation. On the top of that, plague has taken a firm hold of these parts and has been doing havoc even in exceptionally healthy districts of Bihar. At the early stage of this unpleasant visitor, Government shared the general scare and seemed disposed to spend some money. But since 1902-03, although the annual death stood at 62,055, the Government spent only Rs. 72,687 out of the Provincial funds on this account which was almost half of what was spent in the previous year and even less than a fourth of what was spent in 1900-01. During 1903-04, although an allotment of Rs. 3,70,000 was made on this account, only Rs. 60,265 was spent out of the Provincial funds and a saving effected of the balance, although the mortality remained almost the same as in the previous year. The Calcutta Corporation had to spend much more during the last three years than was spent out of Provincial funds by Government during the same period.

"The expenditure on this account has, however, been incurred by Government as well as by the Corporation, more in the interest of foreign trade and commerce than out of any concern for the people. This is shown by the fact that although some of the districts in Bihar, such as Saran, have suffered the most, the expenditure there has not been at all proportionate. But as for matters affecting Bihar, I may safely leave them in the able hands of the Hon'ble Babu Saligram Singh. I must admit, however, that plague is not to the same extent a preventible disease as many other epidemic diseases, and any very large expenditure on its account out of the Provincial funds will perhaps not be justifiable. But it may well be assumed all the same that with general sanitary improvements this epidemic disease will also abate in vigour. So I must make known our gratitude for the assignment in the next year's Budget estimate, of Rs. 1,50,000 for water-supply, hospital and drainage, to the Riparian Municipalities—Monghyr, Barisal and Berhampore—and a further grant of Rs. 3,60,000 for water-supply, drainage and for special work to Municipalities, such as Bhagalpur, Rampur Boalia and Rangpur. Let us hope that these grants will be fully and effectively spent and no portion of it will be carried forward to swell the surplus of next year. Such grants would have been impossible but for the lump grant of 50 lakhs made to us at the Financial Settlement with the Government of India last year. It is a matter of satisfaction to us that a portion of the 20½ lakhs that are going to be spent out of it dur ng the next year will be spent for such good purposes.

"But such local or spasmodic expenditure will not make any impression on the malarial fever and cholera which are year after year doing greater havoc amongst our rural population in Bengal. The Hon'ble the Municipal Secretary at my instance supplied figures to this Council, on the 11th of February last, which showed that between 1900 and 1904, fever alone had carried away, roughly speaking, from 160,000 to 170,000 souls annually during each of the last four years from these Provinces. If this does not rouse our moral responsiblity in respect of rural Bengal, I do not know what will. I have said that a normal rise in the population in Bengal has got arrested. Nay more. What were some of the fairest and most flourshing districts in Bengal when the British Government took over charge of these Provinces, have now been laid desolate by fever and cholera and that within recent years. Nator, Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Dinajpur record fearful mortality from fever. Burdwan has had more than its due share in this general holocaust. I had recent occasion to inquire of our Municipal Secretary as to how some of the districts and important towns, which had shown a decline of popluation at the last Census, have been faring during the last four years. The Hon'ble Mr. Shirres laid a tabular statement on the table which has aroused widespread alarm throughout the Province and beyond. The Pioneer, which cannot be said to share any local predilection or prejudices, was also shocked at the figures and described malarial fever as a greater scourge than plague. The Sanitary Commissioner to the Government of India in his recent report said, a regular campaign should be commenced against malarial fever, and the Pioneer endorsing his views urged that the campaign should not be confined to jail centres, but carried to the villages in the interior of Bengal. It is a fact that rural Bengal suffers more from this pestilence than big towns in Bengal.

"Thanks to Local Self-Government, in Calcutta and in the head-quarters of districts this type of fever is kept under greater control than in the interior. For instance Calcutta, through sustained efforts for a number of years in the past for the improvement of its drainage and water-supply, has come to record almost the lowest figures from this cause compared to the mufassal towns or rural areas. Taking now some of the districts which are the worst sufferers from cholera and malarial fever, the figures disclose that the fever mortality in the head-quarters is much less than in rural areas. For instance, the town of Jessore which was formerly, perhaps, one of the most unhealthy spots in Bengal, shows in 1904 a death-rate of only 18·3 per mille, while the district of Jessore shows 42·46 per mille in the same year. The district of Nadia, which was considered as one of the healthiest districts of Bengal, is now unfortunately a greater sufferer from cholera and malarial fever than even Jessore. Still, there too the difference in the rate of town and rural mortality is also marked. While the mortality in this district was 50·09, 40·73, and 39·80 per mille in each of the years 1902, 1903 and 1904, the corresponding mortality in Krishnagar town was 37·43, 28·80 and 27 per mille.

"But even the district of Nadia is not the worst sufferer in this respect. So far as fever mortality goes, Dinajpur has recently beaten Nadia, and Murshidabad and Chittagong are fresh rivals in the field. Portions of the Rajshahi district which had heretofore escaped notice, disclose also an appalling state of mortality. Nator was a flourishing town at the beginning of the British rule, and its neighbourhood up and down the river Baral was studded with flourishing markets and villages; and it is within my personal knowledge that they are being laid desolate by these fell diseases. I had occasion to visit the Sub-division of Nator only recently, that is, towards the end of the last year, as a member of a Joint-Committee of the District Boards of Pabna and Rajshahi in connection with a drainage scheme. A fearful epidemic of cholera was raging amongst the rural population at the time, and on the top of that I saw the mark of malaria writ large on many a face and physique. But I was loth to go by personal impressions. So, early this month when I inquired about the state of mortality since the last Census in that Sub-division, the figures furnished disclosed that the decline in population in the Sub-division had been more than maintained and that the average rate of mortality had exceeded 40 per mille in each of the years 1901, 1902 and 1903, till it reached a climax in the last year when it closed with the unprecedented figure 55·77 per mille. The Nator Sub-division and the adjoining portion of the Pabna district, of which I am an inhabitant, are subject to the same conditions of drainage and water-supply, and I can say from personal experience that the same diseases have laid waste many flourishing villages and markets in the Pabna district.

"I believe I have now furnished sufficient facts and figures selected from wide areas, to convince the Government of the urgent necessity of adopting adequate measures for arresting the shocking state of suffering and mortality amongst the rural population of Bengal. I have laid stress on the facts and figures of the Nadia, Jessore, Rajshahi, and Pabna districts, because I am more intimately acquainted with them. I may mention in passing that the rural areas of the 24-Parganas, Khulna, Hooghly, Burdwan, Murshidabad, Dinajpur, Rangpur, Jalpaiguri, Purnea, Faridpur, and Chittagong are by no means better off. I have shown that towns under Municipal Government and enjoying facilities in respect of good drinking-water and drainage are comparatively immune from malarial fever of a virulent type. The scourge being confined chiefly to rural areas, it is clearly the duty of the Provincial Government to provide the remedy. The remedial measures that I would venture to suggest in this connection relate more specially to the districts with which I am more intimately acquainted, but, I dare say, the principles underlying them will be applicable to all. The supply of good drinking-water and the restoration of natural drainage is the only remedy that can prevent human mortality in rural areas. Much may be done by the restoration of the river system of Bengal, which is not yet past all hopes.

"The river system of Bengal may be said to supply the life-blood of these Provinces. The Ganges may be compared to the main artery that flows through the heart of this Province, and its tributaries and offshoots go in no small degree to contribute to the health, wealth and vitality of these Provinces. It is to the obstruction of the natural flow of the Ganges and Pudma water through the river system of Bengal, that the prevalence of malarial fever and cholera is directly to be attributed. I know, as a matter of fact, that this is the case with the Nator Sub-division and the district of Pabna. The supply of the Pudma water in these parts has ceased within living memory resulting in the abnormal death-rate and general decline of population already referred to. Even now when we get an abundant supply of Pudma water in our parts through the Baral during the three months of the rainy season, we are generally free from fever and other epidemic diseases. But directly the water level in the Pudma falls below the sand-bars and shoals of recent formation at the sources of our rivers and the current of Pudma water is no longer available for drinking purposes, epidemics of cholera and fever make their appearance and go on increasing in intensity as the drinking-water continues to get more and more foul.

"The same is the case in the districts of Murshidabad, Nadia, and Jessore. All these districts are drained by the offshoots of the same river. The unhealthiness of these districts is directly attributable to the cessation of a good flow of water through the Bhagirathi, Jalangi, Mathabhanga, Gorai, and other minor streams. It is a geographical fact that the more important villages in rural Bengal are situated on river sides, and to the pitiable condition of these rivers is to be attributed their present deplorable condition. It is not every country in the world which is blessed with such a magnificent system of rivers. Where they are, the Government devotes no small amount of care, trouble, and capital to preserve and maintain these boons of nature.

"The recent expenditure of capital in the Continental countries of Europe, Egypt, and America on river regulation work is too well-known to require any detailed enumeration here. A few typical instances will suffice:—

AUSTRIA spent £3,000,000 since 1901, over and above £20,000,000 spent during the last half century.

HUNGARY nearly £22,000,000 between 1876 and 1900.

NETHERLANDS spent £11,542,777 on rivers during the last 30 years of the 19th century.

EVEN RUSSIA spent over ¾ of a million sterling in 1903 alone, in river survey and in the building and maintenance of Government dredgers.

"Both in the Continental countries and America either no tolls, or but very little, are levied on river traffic in spite of the heavy expenditure incurred on such accounts. The American view is, that what is spent by the State goes directly to add to the assets of the people in various ways.

"But let us see from our Provincial Budget Statement what we spend on such an important river as the Ganges on this account. Not even Rs. 50,000; the current year's revised figure puts it down at Rs. 48,000 and for the next year the budget estimate is Rs. 46,000. Under the head 'Nadia Rivers' Rs. 1,15,000 has been put down on the debit side, but on the credit side, Rs. 80,000 are budgeted for, and nearly Rs. 90,000 have been actually realised annually during each of the last three years. So in the net result we spend about Rs. 25,000 a year on account of the Nadia rivers.

"Last year there was a mention of a saving effected to the extent of Rs. 3,07,000 owing to the postponement of the project of buying a suction dredger; but in this year's budget any mention of even this dredger is not made. We would have lost all trace of it but for an allusion to it by the Hon'ble Mr. Inglis in reply to my hon'ble friend, Asif Kadr Saiyid Wasif Ali Mirza, in connection with the question of keeping open the channel of the Bhagirathi. The Hon'ble the Public Works Member was pleased to inform us that the dredger was still in suspense, awaiting sanction of the Government of India in connection with the Madaripur and Khulna scheme; that when sanction was obtained and the dredger landed, it would be taken away from its legitimate purpose and carried all the way from Khulna-Madaripur to the source of the Bhagirathi to remove 'the extensive shoals' at the entrance of the Bhagirathi.

"This is an assurance too absurd to soothe even the souls of laymen like us A number of river channels are being continually kept navigable by means of dredgers all over the world, and I thought that such matters had long since passed the experimental stage. That rivers if kept open would prove rivals to the railways, is also an old world notion, which is now dead and gone. On the contrary, such waterways do act as feeder lines to railways is beyond any dispute. Even when a railway runs parallel to a canal it attracts its traffic. When the railway lines intersect the waterways, as they do in Bengal, any improvement in the river traffic is sure to mean so much more revenue to the railways. I would refer the Hon'ble the Public Works Secretary to Major-General Cotton's opinion and to facts as they are in America and in the Continental countries of Europe.

"The gradual dying out of the Bengal rivers is not only disastrous to rural Bengal from the sanitary, but equally so from the economic, point of view. As a matter of fact the cultivators in the interior do not get any benefit out of their rabi crop. When they reap this crop in summer the rivers are no longer navigable. The raiyat wants ready cash and cannot wait till the rivers are again in full flood during the rains. The result is, they part with their crops to the mahajans and middlemen for a trifle. The latter can well afford to wait till the monsoon flood, when the middleman sells oilseeds and such other staples, which they have gathered through the dry months of summer, to great advantage to himself. The margin of profit in such cases sticks mostly to the fingers of the middleman, and the poor raiyat is none the better for it. The crop out of which the Bengal raiyats get the best fruits of their labour is the jute. And this to no small extent is due to the facilities of river transport to the nearest railways during the rainy season.

"I cannot believe that the Government is at all serious about the much-talked of Jute Bill. I need only say that if any such Bill be passed, it will mean incalculable mischief and oppression to the jute-growing raiyat, and the indigo raiyats will tell the Government that even the worm would sometimes turn.

"But apart from the economic importance of the Bengal rivers, their sanitary importance is enough to convince any enlightened Government of the supreme necessity of keeping up a current along them all through the year.

"The Bengal rivers also serve the purpose of so many main drains to the Province. The Hon'ble the Municipal Secretary referred to the connection between rainfall and epidemic diseases in reply to my questions. Rain-water is perhaps the purest water available on earth, and I do not suppose that the Hon'ble Mr. Shirres meant to suggest in any way that it was directly responsible for the growth and spread of epidemic diseases If increase of rain-fall corresponded with increase in epidemics, the explanation is obvious. The obstruction of river channels and the natural drainage of the country prevents the accumulated rain-water from being drained off properly. Naturally it stagnates, and in contact with organic and vegetable matter in the soil affords a most congenial medium for the breeding of all kinds of disease germs. The Ganges water however possesses a peculiar property of speedily destroying bacteria. It has been so found by recent scientific researches, and this also corresponds to the accumulated experience of ages of the people of this country. So it is beyond the possibilities of any reasonable doubt that the maintenance of a flow from the Ganges and the Pudma along the channels of the Bengal rivers will revolutionise the sanitary conditions of the country through which they may pass. That this can be done by effectual dredging is also obvious.

"But the question is one of expense. Under the present conditions of our Provincial finance we cannot undertake such large schemes. But having regard to the enormous surpluses that are being shown annually in the Financial Statements of the Government of India, I do not see any reason why a fresh settlement should not be made with us to enable us to undertake such schemes of vital importance, economic and sanitary, to this Province. I have suggested the making over of a larger share of our land revenue to us for such purposes.

"If the Government of India would be slow in doing this, I have another suggestion to make. Irrigation has proved a most profitable source of revenue to the Government of India. They are now making nearly 8 per cent. on their capital outlay on this account. Irrigation and railways have been made exclusively Imperial sources of revenue. Why then should the Imperial Government leave the bad bargains in the matter of Irrigation to our share? We are ready to work our canals and even keep them in order out of our Provincial funds, but under this head we cannot afford annually to pay Rs. 24½ lakhs as interest on debt. This represents almost the net loss that we suffer from year to year under the head of 'Irrigation.' When the Government of India are making a net profit of 8 per cent. on irrigation and 5 per cent. on railways, they can well afford to relieve us of this interest. If they wanted equitable reasons for this transfer we need only say that we could furnish much better reasons than is to be found in their argument for appropriating the surplus revenue from the Law Courts in Bengal for their own purposes.

"The Government of India is chiefly responsible for killing our rivers by the canalisation of the Ganges, the Sone and the other tributaries of the sacred river. So the equity is all on our side that the Government of India should come forward to help us out of our present sufferings. Now that the railways are yielding such enormous profits to the Government of India, and this Province is contributing no small amount to swell such profits, the prayer that I am making on behalf of rural Bengal is certainly not unreasonable. I may also urge that the Bengal rivers being made navigable will go on to swell the profits of the State Railways even to a greater extent. Any capital outlay on that account will not either be a burden on the State or the people. Government is not certainly a commercial concern, and if it makes 5 per cent. on the railways and 8 per cent. on the canals, borrowing money at 3 to 3½ per cent., it should not hesitate to yield up, at any rate, a certain portion of it for the benefit of either those who contribute towards it or for the general good of the community.

"But even regarding the State Railways as purely commercial concerns, I repeat that the revival of the Bengal rivers will go to swell their profits to a sufficient extent to justify the outlay. Besides, the railway embankments are to no small extent responsible for the insanitary condition of Bengal. The views of Raja Digambar Mitter and of other people who have carefully gone into the question must be well known to Government. I need only invite their attention to some new facts. It is a very significant fact indeed that since Dinajpur, Purnea, and Chittagong have become rail-bound, fever mortality has rapidly risen in these parts. So, in undertaking works of railway construction, the State ought to be also more mindful of the sanitary needs of the country.

"In connection with the epidemic diseases, I wish to say a few words with regard to the expenditure under the head of 'Medical' in the Provincial Budget. I regret to find that all the increased expenditure in recent years is either under the head of increase of pay to officers of the Indian Medical Service or in the interest of the Calcutta Hospitals, and that only Rs. 2,000 is budgetted for under the heading 'Expenses during the prevalance of Epidemics.' The Hon'ble Mr. Shirres in reply to my question pointed to the expenses of additions to the Government Cinchona Factory as expenditure under the head of costs incurred on account of malaria. But examining the figures under the head 'Scientific' in the Financial Statement, I find that the Cinchona Plantations annuallly leave a margin of profit to Government. The capital outlay now proposed to be made will surely yield additional profits. Anyhow the sale of quinine cannot be shown as so much expenditure under the head of 'Malarial Fever.'

"It may not be out of place here to mention that while I was at Nator during the outbreak of cholera epidemic, the Sub-divisional Officer was repeatedly appealing to the District Magistrate for medical assistance for the rural areas, but none was available. It is neither the fault of the Sub-divisional nor the District Officer, for when even hospital assistants are not available for such purposes, what could they do? Surely an adequate staff for dealing with periodical outbreaks of epidemic diseases could not be provided for under the budget grant of Rs. 2,000 for the whole Province.

"We are very thankful indeed to the Government of India for the grant of 12½ lakhs of rupees to the District Boards of Bengal and for the assurance that a similar grant will be repeated every year. But considering that this amount is to be divided amongst all the District Boards in this Province, the Hon'ble Mr. Shirres's order on this account seems to be a very large one. I do not know whether the Hon'ble Member in laying the Financial Statement on the table the other day was quite serious when he alluded to the preventible mortality amongst cattle and the duty of the District Boards in this connection. When the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary laid on the table an appalling record of human mortality in Bengal and was unable to show any expense under the head of remedial measures in respect of such preventible diseases as cholera and malarial fever, his sympathy and concern for the cattle kind of Bengal was truly pathetic, not unmixed with a latent humour which the Hon'ble Member did not perhaps himself see. I am a humble member of my home District Board and we are not unmindful of our duties to even the dumb creatures and do already contribute our quota for the maintenance and travelling of a Civil Veterinary Assistant in our district.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Shirres further desires us to maintain and increase our expenditure on hospitals, dispensaries, schools and education, water-supply and sanitation, and for all these and more he asks us to fall back on our District Board Funds And says he, in times of scarcity also, we must give relief out of Board Funds. Of all persons the Financial and Municipal Secretary ought not to have an exaggerated idea of the District Board Funds. For instance, in the Pabna Board, of which I am a member, the revenue from cess on land, pound, ferry, technical school fees and other miscellaneous sources amount only to close upon a lakh, which with Government contribution for primary education, etc., and contribution from private persons for medical aid, comes up to a little over Rs. 1,12,000. Out of this we spend nearly Rs. 40,000 in education, over Rs. 8,000 for medical and veterinary purposes; subsidise a steamer company to the extent of Rs. 5,000, because there are neither rail nor roads worthy of the name in our district.

"Under the present conditions of the river Gorai the steamer journey may well be said to rival the average speed of a bullock cart, for the steamer sticks to the shoals and remains stationary for a number of hours and sometimes even for days. We are however the proud possessors of a three-mile pucca road from the steamer ghat to the town. The roads in the rest of the district are all kutcha and we cannot afford to have even pucca culverts along them. We have to pay about Rs. 6,000 on general establishment, nearly Rs. 11,000 for an Engineer and his staff. All these account for over Rs. 70,000. We have to maintain a minimum balance of about Rs. 8,000 in our budget estimate, and out of Rs. 33,000 available for Public Works, the maintenance of the kutcha roads costs us nearly Rs. 25,500 annually and if any portion of the roads or culverts are washed away during the rains, we are left without any resource for undertaking any new work. This is generally the financial position of most of the District Boards in Bengal. So how can they discharge the sanitary and medical obligations which the Government has failed to discharge out of its Provincial resources? The dole of $12\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs will not go far enough even to improve the district communications. So the Government need not be unusually stringent in any prospective legislation regarding the duties and obligations of the District Boards.

"The Hon'ble the Financial Secretary in referring to the grant of 12 lakhs from the Government of India for the re-organisation of the Police in these Provinces remarked that we would cordially welcome the scheme. While congratulating our President for his endeavours in this connection, I regret I cannot accord a cordial welcome to the resolution on the labours of the Commission as it has emanated from the Government of India. I feel no hesitation in according a welcome to the improvement in the pay and prospects of the Sub-Inspectors. But Rs. 7 to 8 per month as the starting pay of a constable in these Provinces seems to me to be inadequate. When we cannot get a durwan under Rs. 9 or a syce under Rs. 7 how can we expect to get a Policeman, whom I would draw from the former class rather than the latter, on a grass-cutter's scale of pay? Nor does the prospect of Re. 1-increase after 3, 10, or 17 years of service seem to me a sufficient inducement to attract a good class of men into the service; similarly the allowance of 2 annas a day for duty at 'considerable distances' beyond the Police Station seems to be singularly inadequate. In the result, none of these proposals are likely to increase the honesty or integrity of an average constable.

"If corruption, which is the canker that eats into the root of the Police system of the present day, is not removed, most of the money that is proposed to be spent on the so-called Police reform will be thrown away. As regards corruption, the Commission, before whom witnesses were examined, came to the conclusion that it exists in no small degree, and we are prepared to abide by that conclusion rather than accept the academic discourse of the Government of India in this connection.

"In passing I must also observe that the observations of the Government of India regarding the 'physique and temperament' of the people of these Provinces as disqualifications for Police service are equally uncalled for. I need not refer to past records to show that they used to be enlisted both in the Nawab's and the Company's army. Nor need I allude to the athletic possibilities of our present generation of young men to controvert the proposition. The fallacy of the remark is patent on the face of it. The Sub-Inspectors as a class are recruited from amongst our young men and on them fall the brunt of investigation work, and whatever may be their shortcomings in other respects, they have surely not been found wanting in endurance or pluck. The common people are a much sturdier class. The fact is that they are too much occupied with their agricultural work and too much home loving and contended under the system of land tenures in the Lower Provinces of Bengal to aspire for Police service; when their land or its boundaries are interfered with they are known to give a great deal of occupation to the Police, and in any fight outside the Courts of Law the latter are often known to get the worst of it. I need only mention in this connection that the military had to be taken down to quell the Pabna land riots. Still they are a law-abiding people and require only a considerate treatment to be kept in good humour.

"Equally mendacious are the remarks that the people of this country are given to 'the vicious practice of resorting to the machinery of the Criminal Courts in order to gratify private animosities.' No doubt people in these Provinces resort to Criminal Courts to retain or establish possession in land which often change their boundaries with the shifting rivers, but to say that they resort to Criminal Courts to satisfy their private grudge is to assert something which we know is not a fact. To base any such conclusions from the result of the preliminary investigations by the Police is exceedingly fallacious.

"If we examine the statement by the test of trials of the cases sent up by the Police as true, it is the Police whose character is taken away by the facts and figures that are disclosed. We find that the precentage of convictions in such cases during 1903 in these Provinces were 58·2, whereas in England in the corresponding year it was 83·26. This points to the singular inefficiency or perversity of our Police. With regard to cases under the Indian Penal Code it is still lower, being only 42·2 per cent. Is it not reasonable therefore to suppose that out of the 20 per cent. of the cases disposed of by the Police as false or not-proven even before they came before the Law Courts many a real culprit escapes and in the corresponding number of cases blame is sought to be fastened on innocent shoulders. Hence the large percentage of the cases that are sent up by the Police as true, are declared false or not-proven by the Courts of Law.

"As for the character of our people what better proof can be furnished than that, while 803,394 offences of various kinds were brought before the Law

Courts in England and Wales during 1903, in these Provinces, with a population of almost 2½ times as large as that of England and Wales, hardly 200,000 criminal cases were brought to trial. The percentage of offences against property and other serious crimes also go to corroborate that people of these Provinces are much less given to crime than the masses in countries in an advanced stage of civilization. So the proposals in the Government of India Resolution for strengthening the Police Reserve Force or of increasing the rigour of Police administration are mostly misdirected.

"What is really required for the protection of the people from Police oppression and corruption, is the removal of all Police influence over our Subordinate Judiciary. This can only be done by what is known as the 'Separation of the Executive and Judicial functions.' Eminent Judges of the Privy Council and of the High Courts in India declared in its favour, and at one time the Executive Heads of Government both in this country and in England admitted the soundness of such separation, and only financial difficulties were said to bar the way to this reform. But now when the financial difficulty is gone, the whole scheme is brushed aside with little ceremony. What is now being put forward in its stead by way of Police reform has very little of reform in it, and it will be a wilful waste of public money to run up expenses under this head to Rs. 1,50,00,000.

"The ten lakhs of rupees that have been assigned to us this year under the head of 'Primary Education' is, however, a move in the right direction. But I fail to follow the observation of the Financial Secretary that it would be impossible to devote this sum all at once for its legitimate purposes. I do not see why any substantial portion of it need be spent in brick and mortar. If it is meant for the education of rural Bengal who live in thatched houses, I fail to appreciate why they should be unable to receive their education in thatched bungalows. In the District Boards we have a ready agency for the appropriation of the amount for its proper purposes, and it passes my comprehension why the Financial Secretary should wait at all for the construction of suitable buildings. As for University Education, I shall leave the Hon'ble Member for the University to deal with it.

"In conclusion, I should like to add one word of warning in connection with the question of primary education. It will be a futile attempt in these days of rapid changes and locomotion to forge separate dialects of the Bengali language. I am a native of Northern Bengal and have lived for a considerable length of time in what is described in a recent Government Resolution as Central Bengal. I never knew that there was a separate dialect for each of these parts. In Northern Bengal common people experience no difficulty in understanding the language which we ordinarily speak and write. All the letters to the trades-people and the raiyats are written in ordinary Bengali and they all comprehend them. The proposal now made that the text-book for Primary Schools should be written in English and translated into the colloquial Bengali of the north, south, east and west will only go to create a comic literature for each of the parts concerned. It would be much like the proposal, should the Board of Education in England suddenly take into their head to start the idea, that all the students in the Board's Schools should be taught to drop their their 'h's' and made to speak through their nose, and that text-books should be specially written for the purpose. How such a proposal will be met by the British public, I need not say. But nothing is too absurd for India. The Government has evidently been misled in this matter and I need only add that it will be both a waste of energy, time and money for the Government to create four different dialects for rural Bengal. They might with better advantage employ all their surplus energy and resources to saving rural Bengal from the scourges which, as a member for the mufassal municipalities, I have dealt with at some length."

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said:—"Sir, from the peculiar constitution of our Councils some people are apt to imagine that the debates which generally take place in them upon the presentation of the annual Budget Estimates are merely academic discussions which end in volleys of blank speeches to which the people have been too long accustomed either to be startled at, or to pay more than a passing attention to them. On the contrary, I regard the yearly discussion of the Budget to be a very important occasion both for the Government as well as for the people. However much we may regret the entirely one-sided picture which a budget now necessarily presents and however much we may lament the absence of a potent voice in the people to give that picture such a shape and form as may reflect even faintly the popular view of it, it must be admitted that it is the occasion when an apparently irresponsible Government renders its yearly accounts to an unaccountable people, and it is the occasion when not only the past progress of the country is reviewed, but also a forecast is taken of its future hopes and aspirations. But more than this it is the only occasion when a beaurocratic Government condescends to lay its policy before the people and when the representatives of the people, such as they are, are allowed to present their views in the hope of at least partially shaping and influencing that policy. It would therefore be a grievous mistake to approach such an occasion without a sense of adequate responsibility on the one hand and with irresponsible light-heartedness on the other. Sir, in in this connection I beg leave to make one observation which I hope will not fail to receive Your Honour's consideration. I am afraid that under the present arrangement very little time is given to Members for the proper study of the budget. Coming, as it must, at the fag end of a busy session it ought, I think, to be placed in the hands of the Members in sufficient time for their preparation. Your Honour, most of your Official Councillors are experts in financial matters; but the Non-official Members of Your Honour's Council, who alone have practically to raise any discussion upon the Budget, cannot be expected to deal with it with equal force and facility unless sufficient time is given to them to study it in all its details and in all its bearings. If Your Honour's Government can, I venture to hope Your Honour's Government will, in future, allow some more time to elapse between its presentation and its discussion. This will also enable the public and the press to judge of its merits and give their views on its details.

"Sir, I use no language of mere convention when I say that I sincerely congratulate the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary upon the very satisfactory Budget which he has been able to present to the Council. It is perhaps one of the largest Budgets which have passed through this Council characterised as it is by large grants from the Imperial Government and marked by two very important changes,—one Administrative and the other Educational. The Budget before us is a lucid document bearing high testimony to the great care, attention and ability displayed in bringing up in its present form. The two statements of recurring and non-recurring expenditure furnish a clear index to the entire Budget. On the one hand, the usual statements shew a substantial amount of progress which has been achieved during the year which is just closed, while, on the other, the Budget makes fairly liberal provisions on nearly all heads to inspire hope and confidence of still further progress during the year which we are about to enter. The total revenue under all heads for the year is estimated in round numbers at Rs. 6,89,00,000, and the total expenditure is put at Rs. 6,06,00,000, leaving a closing balance of Rs. 82,49,000 as against Rs. 1,24,00,000 of the current year. This enormous revenue and expenditure, which would be probably beyond the capacity of many Local Governments, are at once proof positive of the strength, of the dignity and of the importance of the administration of which Your Honour is in charge. But, Sir, as there is no sunshine without a cloud, to me it seems this glowing picture of the present Budget is not also without a deep tinge of sadness about it which now looms out in its background. As I contemplate the large figures in this Budget and the lofty spirit of unstinted benevolence which pervades them in their diverse applications, and then as I mentally calculate the serious operation which they must undergo if Bengal is once partitioned, I cannot but feel that we are on the brink of a very serious experiment. I hope I will not be misunderstood. It is neither in my power nor in my present inclination to draw out Government. I have already tried to do so and failed, and what I have failed to do directly I shall not attempt to do indirectly. Nor am I altogether unmindful of the delicate position in which Your Honour is placed in regard to this unfortunate question, although I must say that it is the honour and credit of Your Honour's Government, more than anything else, which I would still urge on Your Honour's attention until this serious question is either shelved or solved.

"Turning now to the Budget it seems to me that whatever apprehensions might have been felt just twelve months ago as to the probable effect of the financial settlement which this Government had to conclude with the Imperial Government last year, our present estimate of Revenue does not shew that we have been any the loser in the bargain. Under that settlement the revenue which was assigned to us by the Government of India amounted to Rs. 4,98,00,000. And although we were given much smaller shares than under the old contract system in most of the expanding revenues, in the Budget for the current year the total revenue was estimated at Rs. 5,04,00,000; while with the never failing, mysterious elasticity of Indian revenues it rose up to Rs. 5,17,00,000 in the revised estimate; and this has probably encouraged the able Financial Secretary in taking a yet bigger jump and estimate the revenues for the next year at over Rs. 5,64,00,000. Of course it may be still premature to be very sanguine about the advantages of the new system; but, Sir, if the present estimate affords an accurate forecast of the probable results in future years, I am inclined to think there are sufficient grounds for congratulating Government upon its new financial arrangement, which, at all events, possesses one redeeming feature in that it has to a considerable extent relieved the patient lamb of the distressing apprehension of the shearing knife of the wool-gatherer every five years.

"Sir, on going through the several heads on the receipt side of the Budget I am sorry I am unable to congratulate Your Honour's Government upon the steady progress of its Excise revenues. In the Budget for the current year they were estimated at Rs. 72,00,000; in the revised estimate they rose to Rs. 73,00,000, and for the next year they have been estimated at nearly Rs. 76,00,000, and I should not be very much surprised if in the next revised estimate they will shew the same activity towards further expansion as is observable under all the principal heads of the Budget. The average annual increase under this head during the last five years has been Rs. 5,83,000. Our present estimate would shew that we have not hesitated to increase even this enormous average to Rs. 6,50,000, and that perhaps not altogether without the further expectation of having it raised to at least clear 7½ lakhs in the revised estimate. I know it will be said, as has often been said both in this Council as well as in the other Council which guides its destinies and round which it is bound to rotate in its movements, that this expansion of the excise revenues is due to the increased and ever increasing prosperity of the people. Your Honour will pardon me for saying that I regard this as little short of what may be called adding insult to injury. I am not going to rake up here that vexed question of Indian Poverty versus Prosperity which has been sufficiently dealt with by far abler men and competent authorities both here as well as in England. But this I will say without hesitation that if increased drunkenness is to be associated with increased prosperity of the people, I do not see why one may not with equal propriety trace increased mortality in this country to overfeeding also. But, Sir, letting quibbling and sophistry alone, there is the high tesimony of the Committee, appointed in England in 1904, for the purpose of inquiring into the causes of physical deterioration of the British people. The Committee says:—'Not only is poverty the result of drink, it becomes an active agent in promoting it. People who have not enough food turn to drink to satisfy their cravings and also to support their enfeebled hearts by alcohol,' or as another witness said:—'The poor often drink to get the effects of a good meal. They mistake the feeling of stimulation after alcohol for the feeling of nutrition. They turn to it to blunt their sensibility to squalor, and it re-acts in deadening all desire for improvement.' Sir, if this is the case in England, what should we say of India?

"Your Honour, before leaving the question of Excise I desire to enter my humble protest against the introduction of the contract distillery system now being tried in Orissa and Midnapore and which, as the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Budget very fairly and frankly informed Hon'ble Members in his introductory speech, is likely to replace the outstill system throughout Bengal. I am not in favour of the outstills; but in choosing between two evils I would certainly prefer the outstill to the contract system. If the contract system had shown decrease of consumption, I should still have welcomed it. But as it is, a change of system hardly means anything more than a change of hands in the liquor traffic. The contract system will virtually turn the Indian distillers out of the field, and I do hope the experiment will not be further extended pending, at all events, the settlement of the Excise Law which is now under the consideration of Your Honour's Government.

"Sir, the unusual expansion of the Stamp revenue also calls for more than a passing notice. It seems to be going up by leaps and bounds every year. The average annual increase in revenue from stamps is estimated at Rs. 3,89,000. In the Budget for the current year provision was made for an increment of three lakhs, but in the revised estimate it automatically went up to six lakhs, making a total increment of nine lakhs. Now the Budget in hand at once begins with an increase of seven lakhs to close in probably somewhere between nine and ten lakhs in the next revised estimate. This enormous increase, chiefly under the head of 'Court-fee Stamps,' clearly indicates an abnormal increase in litigation. Here, again, a handful of unfortunate lawyers sometimes come in largely for a share of the responsibility, although it is the Government that goes in for the entire profit. I would like to know what percentage of this large increase of Stamp revenue is due to cases arising out of the Survey and Settlement proceedings lately undertaken by Government in spite of the protests of the people. Let Darbhanga, Patna and Muzaffarpur in Bihar and Backergunge in Bengal answer.

"Sir, the next item of our revenue to which I would invite Your Honour's special attention is No. VIII—the Assessed Taxes. Here, again, there is a steady and perceptible increase along the whole line. From the Budget to the revised estimate, from the revised estimate to the fresh budget is the order of our financial progress in matters of taxation. In the 'ordinary collections' of Income-tax Rs. 42,00,000 represented the 'actuals' of 1903-04; and in the next year (the year in which an important exemption was granted to all incomes below Rs. 1,000) instead of taking a lower estimate, as ought to have been the case if the provision of Act XI of 1903 had been taken into consideration, we find the sanctioned estimate putting this item at Rs. 45,00,000, and although the revised estimate fell short by about 1½ lakhs, we find the Financial Secretary again putting it for the next year at Rs. 44,00,000. I have lately drawn Your Honour's attention to the way in which the valuable concession granted to a poor people by raising the minimum of taxable limit has been systematically tampered with by overzealous officers who would have served their Government much better if they had paid geater regard for the credit and reputation of that Government than for their mistaken efficiency and doubtful advancement. I thankfully acknowledge that immediate notice has been taken of this phenomenal development to which I had the privilege of calling Your Honour's attention, and that the Board of Revenue has called for explanation of the local officers on the subject. I only hope and trust, that as there is nothing in the conduct of man which is not capable of some sort of explanation, neither the Board of Revenue nor Your Honour's Government will allow themselves to be satisfied with any mere apology that may be offered by those who have so wilfully violated the provision of the law and grossly offended the dignity and credit of the Government. But leaving them alone for the present, I would respectfuly ask Your Honour to consider how far it is legitimate or expedient on our part in the face of this state of things to provide for a comparatively higher Revenue from the Income-tax than what it was prior to the passing of Act XI of 1903. A larger provision in our Budget evidently means, if it means anything, a larger expectation on the part of Government, and those who are entrusted with the actual administration are thereby naturally led in their mistaken zeal to work for the realization of that expectation only. Our Government is not an impecunious Government, and in a matter of this description at all events it can never be under the necessity of promising to the ear and breaking to the hope. I submit the estimate should have been framed with a view to reduction, and not increase, of the Excise Revenue and the Assessed Taxes.

"Coming to the expenditure in the Budget, our attention is at once arrested by the very large provision made for Education. It was Rs. 35,19,000 in the original estimate for the current year which rose to Rs. 35,62,000 in the revised estimate, while in the Budget for the next year it has been raised to Rs. 54,00,000. The steady growth of this revenue from 1901-02 to 1905-06 furnishes unmistakable evidence of the abiding interest which this Government still retains for the education of the people. We may differ as to the mode and method of that education, and we may also complain that it has to some extent lately transferred its long-standing affections from the higher branches of that education; but there can be no gainsaying of the fact that Government is still ready to spend a fair share of its revenues towards the education of the people. It ought to be gratefully noticed that out of this large allotment Rs. 12,00,000 form special grants from the Government of India (Rs. 2,00,000 for University education and Rs. 10,00,000 for primary education). With the large revenue thus placed at his disposal the worthy Financial Secretary has been able to make larger provisions for grants-in-aid as well as for scholarships. I doubt, however, if the increased provision for the former is likely to reach very much beyond the industries in the Government Estate at Kalimpong and the Jewish Girls' School somewhere, while as to the latter I should very much like to know what would be the probable number, nature and quality of the special scholarships which are included in this increased provision. As regards higher education, there is no doubt an increased provision of Rs. 1,50,000 for the equipments of the Arts Colleges; but besides a few minor improvements here and there there seems to be no striking improvement which is sought to be undertaken during the coming year. But I must not be understood either to ignore or to overlook the provision of Rs. 67,000 which has been made for the maintenance of efficient boarding-houses in Calcutta, although in this connection I may be permitted to mention the claims of Dacca, Hooghly, Krishnagar, Rajshahi, Bhagalpur, Patna and Cuttack, where students are not wanting who in want of decent accommodation have to put up in objectionale quarters and sometimes even in objectionable houses. It is also satisfactory to note that for the Government Colleges generally an increased provision of over Rs. 50,000 has been made in the Budget for the next year.

"Before leaving the subject of higher education, I would beg leave to submit one or two suggestions for the consideration of Your Honour's Government. In view of the importance so justly attached to scientific education and having regard to the hopeless inability of the private institutions, which command by far the largest number of students, to meet the requirements of such education, I think it is high time that a central or inter-college laboratory were established in Calcutta either with suitable contributions from those institutions which may be disposed to avail themselves of its advantages, or under a fee system for students who may desire to attend its lectures and demonstrations. Without such an arrangement the best intentions of Government and even the most stringent provisions of the University are likely to be barren of their desired results. The other suggestion which I would urge is the foundation of some chairs for the Calcutta University after the model of the Universities in England. The idea is not a new one, although like all old ideas it suffers from the disadvantage of having been once consigned to the dusts of the upper shelves. We have long moved within the fixed groove of a cramming University, and although loud and repeated have been the complaints raised against it and louder still have blowed the trumpets for its reform, there is as yet no sign of any practical attempt to reclaim the unfortunate institution from its vicious tendencies. Your Honour is the first Rector of this old University, and may I express the hope that Your Honour's first

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said:—"Sir, from the peculiar constitution of our Councils some people are apt to imagine that the debates which generally take place in them upon the presentation of the annual Budget Estimates are merely academic discussions which end in volleys of blank speeches to which the people have been too long accustomed either to be startled at, or to pay more than a passing attention to them. On the contrary, I regard the yearly discussion of the Budget to be a very important occasion both for the Government as well as for the people. However much we may regret the entirely one-sided picture which a budget now necessarily presents and however much we may lament the absence of a potent voice in the people to give that picture such a shape and form as may reflect even faintly the popular view of it, it must be admitted that it is the occasion when an apparently irresponsible Government renders its yearly accounts to an unaccountable people, and it is the occasion when not only the past progress of the country is reviewed, but also a forecast is taken of its future hopes and aspirations. But more than this it is the only occasion when a beaurocratic Government condescends to lay its policy before the people and when the representatives of the people, such as they are, are allowed to present their views in the hope of at least partially shaping and influencing that policy. It would therefore be a grievous mistake to approach such an occasion without a sense of adequate responsibility on the one hand and with irresponsible light-heartedness on the other. Sir, in in this connection I beg leave to make one observation which I hope will not fail to receive Your Honour's consideration. I am afraid that under the present arrangement very little time is given to Members for the proper study of the budget. Coming, as it must, at the fag end of a busy session it ought, I think, to be placed in the hands of the Members in sufficient time for their preparation. Your Honour, most of your Official Councillors are experts in financial matters; but the Non-official Members of Your Honour's Council, who alone have practically to raise any discussion upon the Budget, cannot be expected to deal with it with equal force and facility unless sufficient time is given to them to study it in all its details and in all its bearings. If Your Honour's Government can, I venture to hope Your Honour's Government will, in future, allow some more time to elapse between its presentation and its discussion. This will also enable the public and the press to judge of its merits and give their views on its details.

"Sir, I use no language of mere convention when I say that I sincerely congratulate the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary upon the very satisfactory Budget which he has been able to present to the Council. It is perhaps one of the largest Budgets which have passed through this Council characterised as it is by large grants from the Imperial Government and marked by two very important changes,—one Administrative and the other Educational. The Budget before us is a lucid document bearing high testimony to the great care, attention and ability displayed in bringing up in its present form. The two statements of recurring and non-recurring expenditure furnish a clear index to the entire Budget. On the one hand, the usual statements shew a substantial amount of progress which has been achieved during the year which is just closed, while, on the other, the Budget makes fairly liberal provisions on nearly all heads to inspire hope and confidence of still further progress during the year which we are about to enter. The total revenue under all heads for the year is estimated in round numbers at Rs. 6,89,00,000, and the total expenditure is put at Rs. 6,06,00,000, leaving a closing balance of Rs. 82,49,000 as against Rs. 1,24,00,000 of the current year. This enormous revenue and expenditure, which would be probably beyond the capacity of many Local Governments, are at once proof positive of the strength, of the dignity and of the importance of the administration of which Your Honour is in charge. But, Sir, as there is no sunshine without a cloud, to me it seems this glowing picture of the present Budget is not also without a deep tinge of sadness about it which now looms out in its background. As I contemplate the large figures in this Budget and the lofty spirit of unstinted benevolence which pervades them in their diverse applications, and then as I mentally calculate the serious operation which they must undergo if Bengal is once partitioned, I cannot but feel that we are on the brink of a very serious experiment. I hope I will not be misunderstood. It is neither in my power nor in my present inclination to draw out Government. I have already tried to do so and failed, and what I have failed to do directly I shall not attempt to do indirectly. Nor am I altogether unmindful of the delicate position in which Your Honour is placed in regard to this unfortunate question, although I must say that it is the honour and credit of Your Honour's Government, more than anything else, which I would still urge on Your Honour's attention until this serious question is either shelved or solved.

"Turning now to the Budget it seems to me that whatever apprehensions might have been felt just twelve months ago as to the probable effect of the financial settlement which this Government had to conclude with the Imperial Government last year, our present estimate of Revenue does not shew that we have been any the loser in the bargain. reduce the rate of interest. But I do not suppose that the decision then arrived at partook of the nature of a law of the Medes and Persians which altereth not. At that time the reduction of the rate of interest on Government Promissory Notes from 4 to 3½ per cent. had only been newly introduced and was, if it may be so described, in the experimental stage. It is no longer an experiment, but an established fact. The rate is never likely to revert to 4 per cent.: on the contrary, it is more likely to be further reduced to 3 per cent. When the loan was made to the Port Trust the rate on Government loans was 4 per cent., and it is evidence of the intention on the part of the Government not to make a profit on the transaction that it should have lent the money to the Port Trust at the same rate. Acting on this principle, therefore, there is no real reason why the interest should not now be reduced to the Government standard of 3½ per cent.

"I have heard it also advanced that the Port Trust is prosperous and there is no need for the reduction. This is scarcely a proper argument, for if we admit the claim that the interest should be reduced, then we put the Port Trust in the position of a creditor and the Government in the position of a debtor, and it is no valid plea that the debtor should refuse to pay the creditor because the latter is prosperous. There may be other reasons for refusing the reduction, but the fact of the Port Trust being prosperous cannot be advanced as one.

"The reduction of this interest would largely increase the borrowing powers of the Port Commissioners and so enable them to carry out important works the cost of which must be debited to capital and cannot be paid for out of revenue.

"Would it not also be permissible for this Government to add a substantial amount to the sum of fifty lakhs allowed by the Imperial Government toward the City Improvement Scheme? We, residents of Calcutta, fully recognize the principle that, if we want our city cleansed and beautified, we should be prepared to share the expense of the cleansing and beautifying process; but we hope for such help as will enable us to bear the extra burden without making the cost of existence too great for us, more especially for those who are in receipt of fixed salaries, but who find expenses continually increasing.

"I note that in the budget provision is made for the housing of Government officials, and I trust this will include some sort of living accommodation for the poorer class of Government clerks to whom it is a serious problem to find suitable quarters in the face of ever rising rents.

"Apparently for the first time after many years a very liberal grant has been made for Primary Education. May I venture to hope that, as no details are given as to how it is proposed to apportion this grant, some portion of it may be used for what, for want of a better appellation, I may call 'Primary Technical Education'? Technical Education has had substantial encouragement and support from Government for many years, and the results have been of marked benefit to a large number of young men whose training thus gained has enabled them to adopt professions of usefulness and profit. As a further step in this direction, Your Honour has recently introduced a system of Commercial Education, and I have no doubt that the opportunity will be taken full advantage of by young men who contemplate a business career, for with the foundations thus laid at schools and colleges they will find themselves prepared beforehand for the work that lies before them as clerks, book-keepers or accountants. Technical Education, therefore, has been dealt with in no niggardly spirit by the Government.

"But there is one class for whom apparently little has been done, the class who have to depend upon their hands to earn their livelihood, to whom training schools, engineering colleges and commercial classes are things unknown, or, if known, unattainable; whose education is of the most meagre description and whose training for the particular handicraft which they may adopt seems to be picked up anyhow and anywhere without any method or recognized system. It is on behalf of this class, the large class of artizans and handicraftsmen, that I would beg some assistance from Your Honour. Some years ago a Commission was appointed by Government to enquire into this subject, and in response to an enquiry I received from the Secretary of that Commission I communicated my views at some length. I never heard the result of that Commission, or whether any definite conclusion was arrived at.

"I trust I may be pardoned if, on this point, I confine myself principally to the industry with which I am personally connected and in which I have had a continuous experience of over thirty-six years; but I have little doubt that employers in other branches of manufacturing industries would confirm what I say. Something is done in Reformatory Schools to teach young boys a trade. Apprentices are, I believe, taken in at the dockyards and telegraph works. But more than this is necessary. It is hardly advisable or desirable that boys should transgress the law in order to be taught a trade, and the other sources of training are open only to a few. What is wanted is that boys who are willing to learn a trade should have the opportunity afforded them of learning it in a methodical and systematic manner. Private concerns can and do afford a certain amount of training, but they are comparatively few in number and are in many cases out of the reach of the would-be handicraftsman. As it is at present, the large majority of youths pick up a knowledge of their craft as best they can, with the result that their workmanship is of a very low order, rendering them unfit to compete with others whose systems of training are better and more methodical.

"As an example, I would here mention a well-known fact, that Chinamen are gradually but surely supplanting natives as wood-workers. Whatever their system of training may be, it is not to be denied that their workmanship is superior in every way to that of the native, and I cannot accept it that this is due to any superiority of intelligence; for granting equality of conditions and training the native artizan can, when properly looked after, do his work as intelligently and skilfully as his Chinese competitor. But it is just that training that is lacking, and it is in this direction that I would solicit the help of the Government. I acknowledge that there are difficulties in the way, but those difficulties are not unsurmountable. They have existed in other branches of technical education and have been successfully overcome. We must recognize the general poverty of the class, the early age at which a boy must begin his training, the inability and possibly unwillingness of parents to send their boys to any established training institution, the inadvisability of insisting on educational tests which would be of little or no value to the man who has to earn his living by the work of his hands, and with these principles to guide us I feel sure that something could eventually be done to benefit and improve the position of the artizan classes of this Province.

"This Council has lately passed a law which will be very much to the benefit of Calcutta, I mean the Smoke-Nuisances Act. We have heard on many sides that the best prevention of the smoke-nuisance is to procure better stokers. At present we take an untrained coolie and tell him to shovel coal into a furnace. To him the fact that thick black smoke belches forth from the chimney is only evidence that he is zealously carrying out his orders to throw coal on the fire, and he is happy in consequence and proceeds to add more coal thereby causing more smoke. To talk to him about scientific stoking would be futile, and to tell him that the coal must be so distributed that there shall be little or no smoke would, to his mind, be an insult to his intelligence. Let the coolie however be trained before he is allowed to stoke, let him understand from the first that dense smoke only means imperfect combustion, let him learn that the less smoke he makes the more money he will get, and his endeavours thereafter will be confined to lessen rather than to increase the volume of smoke. But at present he has no one to teach him. All he has to do is to shovel coal and that he does to the best of his ability causing loss to his employers, inconvenience to his neighbours and earning less money for himself.

"I would take this opportunity of thanking Your Honour for the generous donation which has been provided for towards the paying patients' wards of the General Hospital. This will be a matter for much satisfaction and congratulation to those who have striven so long and so earnestly for that admirable institution. It is hardly necessary for me to take up the time of the Council by dilating on its benefits and merits. I can only assure Your Honour that the boon is one which will be thoroughly appreciated by those who have the misfortune to be inmates of the hospital, and that you, Sir, will have earned the heartfelt gratitude of all sections of the European community in Bengal."

The Hon'ble BABU SALIGRAM SINGH said:—"I congratulate the Hon'ble Member in charge for having placed a good budget before us, and it is satisfactory to find that the financial condition of the Government of Bengal is sound and prosperous. In passing, I may here remark that the misapprehension under which some Hon'ble Members laboured last year as to the effect of the new financial settlement with the Government of India on the finances of Bengal must be by this time removed for good. I desire to offer a few remarks on the details of the budget.

"While commenting on the favourable financial position of the Government of Bengal during the year, the Hon'ble Member in charge of the budget admits that this is largely due to an unusual expansion of the stamp duty chiefly under the head of 'Court-Fee-stamps.' This, I am afraid, is not altogether a matter for congratulation, for an expansion of revenue chiefly under the head of Court-Fee-stamps undoubtedly means an increase in litigation. But at the same time I am bound to say that, with increased receipts from Stamps, the Government is not unmindful of the demands of Law and Justice for increased expenditure with a view to greater efficiency. This is evidenced—(a) by the provision made in the budget for an Additional Judge of the High Court, who I hope will be made permanent; (b) by a larger expenditure under fees to Pleaders; (c) by larger grants under salaries and establishment to Munsifs, diet and travelling expenses to witnesses and allowances to Jurors and Assessors; (d) by the proposed extension of the High Court buildings; (e) by the provision for the erection of Munsifs' Courts and Munsifs' private residences in different places and by other items; and I hope that such expenditure will be an ever-increasing factor in all future budgets.

"It is satisfactory to find that in the Budget Estimate for 1905-06, a sum of Rs. 2,85,000 has been set apart for an increase in the number of Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors and the re-organisation of the Subordinate Executive Service. I do not know what the scheme is for the re-organisation of the Subordinate Executive Service, but no scheme will be satisfactory that does not include an increase in the initial pay of the 4th grade Sub-Deputy Collectors. As at present these officers commence with an initial pay of Rs. 100 per mensem, and this sum is altogether inadequate to support them, consistently with the style and dignity they have got to maintain. It must be remembered that these officers are drawn from the same class of men as Deputy Collectors, that in the majority of cases they possess the same educational qualifications, and that they are employed to discharge the same judicial and revenue work. It is therefore reasonable that they should begin with about the same pay as Deputy Magistrates, and I think it will be conceded that Rs. 150 a month will not be a too large sum for them to begin with. I trust my remarks will be kept in sight when the scheme for the re-organisation of the Sub-Executive Service is finally formulated.

"I see that a sum of Rs. 20,000 is provided in the budget for the re-organisation of the Registration Department. I do not know whether the re-organisation contemplated includes the placing of Rural Sub-Registrars on the permanent list and their being graded and paid salaries instead of commission. The Government of Bengal had some such scheme under their contemplation, and I should like to know whether by the proposed re-organisation of the department effect is to be given to this scheme, although the sum allotted for the re-organisation, in my opinion, would scarcely appear adequate enough for the purposes of such a scheme. If the re-organisation meant does not contemplate this, then I should respectfully like to submit that, the sooner attention is drawn to this matter, the better.

"It is a matter of regret that the Government of Bengal has not found it possible to utilise the grant that was sanctioned last year for improvement in the pay and prospects of the hard-worked Ministerial Officers. In reply to an interpellation in the Bengal Council some time ago we were given to understand that the scheme had not received the sanction of the Government of India, and the same reason is also put forward in the budget itself. But I trust that, before the time comes round for the presentation of the next budget, the Government of Bengal would be ready with the scheme in order to be able to make provision for it next year.

"I find that the estimates provide Rs. 70,000 for expenses during the prevalence of Plague, including a special grant of Rs. 50,000 to the Divisional Commissioners for special plague measures. While I am bound to say that in the past the Government has not been unmindful of the troubles and sufferings of the large plague-striken population, especially in the districts of Bihar where the ravages of plague are most keenly felt, it strikes me that the sum provided this year must be somewhat inadequate to the requirements of the case, and I would respectfully press that the Government should give a larger grant for this purpose, even at this stage, if it is practicable to do so. This is a matter in which the Government ought to be generous.

"I also find that a sum of Rs. 48,000 is provided in the budget for raising the Dacca Survey School to the status of the Bihar School of Engineering. It may be necessary to raise the status of the Dacca Survey School, but at the same time the question of raising the status of the Bihar School of Engineering itself ought not to be altogether lost sight of. No doubt in reply to an address of the Bihar Landholders' Association, Your Honour was pleased to say that the consideration of that question ought to be postponed pending the consideration of the proposed transfer of the Sibpore Engineering College to Ranchi. I do not know whether such a transfer has been finally decided upon; but I venture to think that, even with the Sibpore Engineering College tranferred to Ranchi, there would be found room enough for an Engineering College in the capital of Bihar itself. Nor would the cost of raising the Bihar School of Engineering to the status of a college, at least a college teaching up to the Lower Civil Engineering Examination only, be, I think, prohibitory; it has already many of the requisites of a college, and it will not I, think, require a large expenditure to give it the required degree of expansion. I most respectfully beg to press this question on Your Honour's attention.

"There is another College that is very badly wanted in Bihar. I am indeed very glad to see a provision of Rs. 33,000 for improvements in the Temple Medical School, Bankipore. It is good so far as it goes, but not until the Temple Medical School is raised to the status of a college will the requirements of Bihar in the matter of medical education be adequately met. Will it be believed that with the Medical College in Calcutta in full swing for the last 70 years or more, there is not a single Bihari Assistant Surgeon in the service of Government; will it be believed that there is not even a single Bihari graduate of medicine except perhaps one. But this lamentable state of affairs, I respectfully beg to submit, is not due to the inaptitude or incapacity of the Biharis for medical education, for the Temple Medical School in Bankipore is full to overflowing with Bihari students, and there is absolutely no reason to doubt that students will not be forthcoming in large numbers for a Medical College if the advantages thereof are brought to their doors. And taking into consideration the fact that Government maintains but one solitary college in Bihar, and that the expenditure thereupon is out of all proportion and considerably below what would be the proper share of Bihar if the total expenditure on higher education on the basis of population or on the basis of Bihar's proportionate contribution to revenue were taken into account, and also taking into consideration the fact that practically speaking the Biharis have derived no advantage from the Calcutta Medical College, taking these two facts together into consideration, I think it will be conceded that the Biharis have a fair claim to have a Medical College of their own, and I beg to press this question on the attention of the Government of Bengal to be dealt with whenever an opportunity for it should arise.

"I cannot but tender my cordial thanks to the Government of India for the large grants for Police Reform, Primary Education and for the District Boards. Police Reform means, I take it, the reform of a vital department of the administration, and as such it is of the greatest consequence that the reform should be thorough, but at any rate the Government of Bengal ought to give a fair trial to the reform suggested before we shall be justified in asking for more. As regards the grants for Primary Education, I agree with the Hon'ble Member in charge of the budget in the way he proposes to spend it; and as regards the grant to the District Boards, I think it is necessary that the Commissioners of Divisions, who will be at present vested with the allocation of this grant to the different District Boards in his division, will keep in sight in making the allocation, not only the varying necessities of the different District Boards, but also, so far as practicable, the share that would in the ordinary course of business fall to the lot of each if the distribution were made direct by the Government.

"In conclusion, I am bound to congratulate the Hon'ble Member for having been able to provide for a number of useful and worthy objects under the different heads of expenditure: Land Revenue, Excise, Registration, General Administration, Law and Justice, Police, Education, Medical, Scientific and other minor departments, Miscellaneous, Irrigation and Civil Works, and to repeat that on the whole the budget is an eminently satisfactory one."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU, said:—"Sir—I offer my best congratulations to the Hon'ble Mr. Shirres for the budget which he has laid before the Council and the admirable and lucid statement with which he introduced it. So far as it goes the budget is eminently satisfactory and the Hon'ble Member is entitled to just credit for it. The last financial settlement, whatever effect it may have had upon the stability of the financial relations between the Local and Imperial Governments, does not seem to have been an unmixed good. The additional tribute which we have to pay for the larger share of the Provincial revenues which the Imperial Government has appropriated, amounts for the next financial year to Rs. 74,72,000. Against this we have to set off Rs. 49,03,000, the Imperial grant; so our net loss is Rs. 25,69,000. This is a dear price to pay for the boon of an indefinite settlement not renewable every five years, and the price, with the expansion of our local revenues, will go on increasing every year.

"We are deeply grateful for the Imperial grant of 12½ lakhs to the District Boards. It is an act of tardy reparation. The injustice done to the fund by its diversion to objects other than those for which it was originally intended has been denied. The plea has been put forward that subsequent legislation has removed the limitations which surrounded the fund under its original scheme. We need not stop to inquire into the validity of this plea. The Government may, as it well knows, validate any act it chooses: its legality may not be questioned, but its justice and propriety very well may. People submitted to the levying of the road cess which they contended was a violation of the solemn pledge given by Government at the time of the permanent settlement on the distinct assurance that the fund would be utilised for certain well understood local purposes. Can it be for a moment said that this assurance has been adhered to? Legislation may legalise but cannot justify a wrong. We are sure the whole question will be carefully considered when the Local Self-Government Bill is introduced and we trust that justice will yet prevail. But however that may be, we welcome the relief that has been given to these hard-pressed bodies, the District Boards of Bengal; may we interpret it is a sign that Government feels the injustice of its action and is willing to make amends? I admit it is a bold interpretation, but Governments, and even the Government of India, are not above possessing a conscience.

"Sir, I am told that the help offered by Government for the purpose of digging wells and tanks for drinking water has been fully availed of. I may remind the Council that the Government offered fifty thousand rupees, provided the District Boards and private individuals paid a similar sum. I am glad and I congratulate ourselves and the Government that the sum expected from private contributions was actually subscribed; but it is not fair to the people who are paying the road cess and contributing through the District Boards, that they should make further private contributions. The contributions come of course, but we all know how.

"Coming to the question of Education, on behalf of the Constituency which I have the honour to represent in this Council, and that Constituency embraces the whole of educated Bengal and includes the officers, European and Indian, engaged in the work of education, I beg to express to Your Honour's Government our sincere gratitude for the largely increased expenditure sanctioned under this head. From Rs. 34,42,000 budgeted for in 1903-1904, we have for the ensuing year an estimated expenditure of Rs. 54,07,656; we have also to thank Your Honour's Government for the great improvements projected with regard to the Dacca College, for which a sum of Rs. 2,27,500 has been sanctioned and for Rs. 37,000 sanctioned for improvements to the Bethune College.

"Sir, I tread on delicate ground when I refer to the expenditure of Rs. 1,00,000 on the Ranchi Model College. I am aware of the difference of opinion which attaches to this scheme. Fears have been entertained in some quarters that the growth of the Ranchi Institution may choke the life of the Presidency College which has been endeared to us by its long and varied associations. It carries us back to the days of the old Hindu College, to times when the western scholar had to establish his claims against the ancient forms of the east; it has given us Educationists whose names are remembered with affection and pleasure; it has given us men whom we have learnt to look upon with pride. It serves as an exemplar to eductional institutions all over the province and it is the centre of our hopes and aspirations. Any action which threatens to undermine its foundations are viewed with dismay. We have Your Honour's assurance that it is not intended to let the Presidency College die. Your Honour will pardon those of my countrymen who fear that Your Honour's successors may disregard your assurance and that a day may come when the Presidency College may cease to be.

"They point out, not without reason, that solemn pledges contained in Parliamentary Statutes and Royal Proclamations have not always been fulfilled: that assurances made to the ear have been broken to the hope, and that a succeeding Government may feel no compunction in upsetting the decision of its predecessor. I for my part do not share these fears Whatever may be the fortunes of the Ranchi College, whatever the intentions of any future Rulers of Bengal, it is not possible to conceive that the seat of the foremost University in British India, the seat of the Supreme and Provincial Governments, the seat of the highest Courts and the principal public offices, the centre of all educational activity should be without an exemplary educational institution in the country.

"To the people in the mufassil, Calcutta with its congested population, its outbreaks of epidemic diseases, its dangerous attractions and its general expensiveness, it is no easy matter to send boys to be educated in the Presidency College. To parents in Calcutta when a boy is sickening in the close and pestilential atmosphere of the town, it is difficult to find where to send him to without a break in his studies. The Ranchi College will not supplant the Presidency College, just as Darjeeling, nay, even Simla has not supplanted Calcutta, but it will supply a long-felt want. In its hostels grouped together will live the Hindu and the Mussulman, the patrician and the plebian, and in the warm days of youth they will contract friendships which will bind them as citizens and will be no mean factors in the evolution of India.

"Sir, whatever may be said of the Ranchi College Scheme, I think public opinion will unanimously support me in my prayer to strengthen the Presidency College and widen its sphere of usefulness. It has to maintain its position against powerful Missionary Colleges and active private institutions. No expense will be grudged by the country in giving the Presidency College the most efficient staff. As an old student of the College, I remember with pleasure and pride the days when we sat at the feet of men like Sutcliffe and Woodrow, Croft and Tawney, Elliot and Pedler. . . . . . Their sympathy with the students is still remembered with affection, their influence still permeates our life. Nor is this all. If the Presidency College is to fulfil its destiny, it must be converted into a residential College with large and healthy hostels and extensive recreation grounds, where the teacher and the taught may meet untrammelled by the formalities of the class room. Your Honour's sympathy with the cause of higher education is well known. Surely, Calcutta and all Bengal may expect what Your Honour has given to Dacca, and a resuscitated Presidency College with its unrivalled laboratories and library, surrounded by neat and nice-looking quarters for the students and the professors, overlooking a broad playground, skirting it may be the river or the canal, will be an institution which will worthily commemorate Your Honour's rule.

"Sir, while still on the subject of the Presidency College, I shall take leave to call Your Honour's attention to a matter to which my distinguished predecessor in the representation of the University with all the weight that attaches to his unique experience of University affairs had made pointed reference on the occasion of the last Budget debate, I mean the reduction in the number and value of the junior and senior scholarships awarded as the result of the Entrance and F. A. examinations. These scholarships are mostly won by poor students and are in many instances the only means on which they rely for their education. It is they who have given us our most distinguished scholars and it is on them that the burden of reduction falls very heavily. The schooling fee of the Presidency College is now higher than the 3rd grade junior scholarships, and these scholars if they wish to join the Presidency College have to take to private tuition to the detriment of their own studies. Your Honour's Government was pleased to hold out a hope on the occasion of the last Budget debate to re-consider the subject. I find additional provision to the extent of Rs. 15,000 has been made in the Budget for scholarships, and I trust that the grievances of the junior and senior scholars will now be redressed.

"Sir, though the Presidency College has naturally the first claim on Your Honour's attention, I may, I hope, also plead for the private Colleges in Calcutta. Hardly any of them in its literal sense is proprietary, most of them are vested in Committees; they have to fight their way with the limited means at their disposal; they have to satisfy the needs of their students who are no mean judges of the quality of the instruction they receive. They have to face private and Government competition and stand the strain of the exodus amongst the students due to plague or other epidemics in Calcutta. They carry on their work without Government aid and hardly with any private help; and they discharge a very useful function: hundreds and thousands of poor students would be denied the benefit of English education but for these private Colleges. The new regulations compelling them to provide for hostels will seriously handicap their resources, and it would be conferring a real boon on the country if the Government came to their help under their present difficult situation. We acknowledge with pleasure the provision of Rs. 67,000 for rent of boarding houses for students in Calcutta; may we hope that a free gift of this sum will be made to private institutions according to their requirements for the accommodation of their students, or if that is not possible only a nominal return asked for.

"We have also to thank the Imperial Government for its grant of five lakhs to the University and Your Honour's Government for its grant of two lakhs. We hope the extension of the University Buildings that is contemplated will be made with the object of housing a central laboratory and library for the use of University students, so that in time with further funds the University of Calcutta may discharge the function of a teaching University.

"Our best thanks are also due to the Imperial Government for the grant of Rs. 10,00,000 in aid of primary education; it will lighten the burden of the District Board and help the cause of education in the country. We cordially and gratefully acknowledge the efforts of Government in the cause of education. We find that in the closing year there were 1,730,614 male scholars and 162,260 female scholars in school, giving a proportion of 30·08 and 2·82 respectively against the same population of school-going age.

"There was a slight rise in the number of schools, giving a total of 66,000 schools against 215,467 villages, or roughly speaking four schools for every three villages, and these include Government-aided, Board, and private institutions. I shall not dwell on the common places of the benefits of education. The Indian handloom industry in which Bengal occupies a high place is being gradually crushed out, because the weavers will not adopt the improvements which other countries have adopted, and which may be brought within their means. The Indian husbandman knows of no other implements than those which have been handed down to him from times immemorial.

"The only means to help them is to give a wider horizon to their vision and that can only be done through the means of education. We spend the least of all civilized countries on education and while in Europe and in North and South America primary education is compulsory and free, we extract from the ignorant and ill-fed peasantry of Bengal nearly 20 lakhs of rupees in fees. If primary education cannot be made compulsory, if it cannot be made altogether free, cannot the Government cheapen it, so that it may be more largely availed of than now by the people for whom it is intended.

"But whether we can render primary education free or not, even in the case of cultivators and working men, we can certainly render it more attractive. I do not know whether the Government is aware of the nature of the text-books in use in these schools. They are intended to be science primers issued by English-publishing firms and written in a language, which it will be hard to define and discriminate. One of them, the most largely used is a conglomerate of English and Bengali and it deals with all conceivable scientific subjects: Chemistry and Physics, Botany and Zoology, Hygiene and Hydrostatics all find a place there. Neither the ill-paid and ill-equipped guru nor the bewildered student can dive into its mysteries, and this beautiful jumble of scientific jargon is doing service for the scientific education of Bengali children. The thing would be ludicrous if it was not so pitiable. Generations of boys are growing up in utter ignorance of what they are taught and valuable time is being wasted. There have been protests and complaints, but who cares. Not the mighty Education Department, which is passing boys through the same mould so that they may emerge with the same shape.

"This brings me to the consideration of another cognate matter. We do not know what our Rulers think of our language. They believe, I am afraid, that it is a language without shape or form and that it may be chiselled into any shape. A learned Committee of four Englishmen and one Indian recently sat and came to the conclusion that primary instruction to the agricultural youth of Bengal should be imparted in their own dialect. We are told that a book has to be written out in English and then translated into the different dialects of Bengal, so that knowledge may be acquired without the process of learning a language. It is difficult to discuss the matter seriously: it is difficult to conceive that a translation from another language is to be the medium of instruction for little children: that foreign modes of thought and expression will have to be rendered into the dialectical language of Bengal, so that they may be understood by the illiterate classes. We may ask these learned gentlemen whether they would translate the word stomach, for instance as 'pat' for East Bengal as 'pet' for Central Bengal, as 'pent' for West Bengal and I do not know into what other word for all the different areas over which the Bengali race has the misfortune to be scattered. I do not know whether it is known to these gentlemen that the Bengali poetic renderings of the Ramayana and Mahabhara'a, the immortal works of Kirtibasha and Kashidasa are read or sung all over Bengal and notwithstanding the large admixture of Sanskrit words generally understood. I do not know whether they have witnessed the spectacle of a Jatra party from Calcutta visiting the interior of the country and largely attended by the literate and illiterate classes and equally appreciated by them. This is not the place nor the occasion to argue the question. In any country but in India nobody would have believed that such a recommendation could have been made and in no country would such a recommendation be given effect to. But it is no exaggeration to say that we do not know how we may fare here. If we oppose we impute, if we keep quiet we acquiesce. We have no intention to impute, but the country has unanimously protested against the recommendation and we trust Your Honour will deliver us from this impending calamity. The Bengali language is not so difficult that simple text-books in indigenous Bengali cannot be written in an intelligible form for the agricultural population. It is enough that we import all our necessaries of life from foreign countries, it is enough that we clothe our agriculturists with the produce of Lancaster, let him have his language coined for him in his own country.

"Sir, I have on previous occasions dwelt on the grievances of the Subordinate and Provincial Educational Services. Your Honor's Government has been pleased to state that the matter is under the consideration of the Government of India. We hope, Sir, that we shall soon have a scheme which will remove one of the gravest blots in the educational system of this Province, an ill-paid staff to discharge what every civilized Government considers the most important function of administration.

"Sir, there is another class of officers who deserve some consideration at Your Honour's hands. I refer to the Sub-Deputy Collectors. They come from the same strata of society as the Deputy Collectors and have generally the same educational qualifications. Their initial pay of Rs. 100 specially when it is considered that they get no travelling allowance up to a distance of 15 miles is hardly adequate and is not desirable in the interests of the service itself or of the State. We are glad to find that the Financial Statement shows that Rs. 2,85,000 has been set apart for the re-organization of the Subordinate Executive Service and we are sure that the claims of this deserving class of officers will be duly considered.

"Sir, I have already detained Your Honour's Council too long and I dare not go into many other questions which vitally concern us. Your Honour is aware that there have been numerous complaints about the way in which gun licenses have been issued or rather withheld. We fail to realise why in areas comparatively free from acts of violence, licenses previously issued are being cancelled. It can have but one meaning, that our Rulers, with every year that is passing, are growing more distrustful of the people, but that is a meaning which it is hard to attach to the action of the authorities. There must be some overzealous policeman somewhere, and we naturally appeal to Your Honour for relief.

"It is not possible at this stage to dwell on the effect of the recent Resolution of Your Honour's Government abolishing competitive tests for admission to the Provincial Civil Service. The merits of competition versus nomination have been discussed threadbare. Your Honour's distinguished predecessors have held different views, but views may certainly change.

"Sir, flattery and sycophancy have been justly condemned by very high authority. It seems that a variance between profession and practice is not the monopoly of the East. While we are told that sycophancy is an unpardonable sin allied to untruth, we are made over hand and foot to the tender mercies of the lord of the district. We have no means to ascertain how the youth of poor and middle class parents will approach the Collector, how their merits or demerits will be known to the earthly arbiter of their destiny. We are essentially a poor people, non-commercial and non-industrial. Service in the Government of their country has been to our young men one of the principal inducements to study. Altruistic and lofty ideals of knowledge for the sake of knowledge have not generally been the guiding principles of our young college students, as we are told is the case with the youths of more favoured nations. They must put aside their self respect and they must discard the exploded divinities of their ancient faith and burn incense at the altar of the gods who belong to a more virile race. When I think of what this will lead to, I despair of my countrymen. But while, Sir, I regret the introduction of this new system, I have to thank Your Honour for the recognition of the claims of the University. Your Honour has conferred upon the University the privilege of recommending three students for these appointments and this will to some extent keep the door open for poor but deserving boys to get into the service: it will palliate but not remove the evil.

"Sir, there is one matter to which I crave leave to refer before I conclude. Last year I appealed to Your Honour for relief on behalf of the malaria-stricken people of Bengal. On that occasion the Hon'ble Mr. Shirres in the course of the budget debate was pleased to say that a special officer had been deputed to make inquiries, but his report had not then been received. I trust that that report has since been received. In this connection I shall call Your Honour's attention to the following figures:—In 1903 while death from plague amounted to 65,680, fever accounted for 1,654,941 deaths: that is, roughly speaking, deaths from fever were nearly 25 times as great as deaths from plague. We are afraid that while this is the case, fever does not receive the same attention that plague does. The one arrests attention both of the people and the Government by its suddenness, the other is allowed to kill the Bengal peasant by slow degrees, and where it does not kill, it leaves behind a weakened population, who drag on a miserable existence. And the remedy is plain enough. In the mufassal towns, with their defective drainage and insanitary conditions, fever contributed 14·26 per cent. to the death-roll, whereas the rural areas were responsible for 22·65 per cent. And in the tract of the country surrounding Calcutta, viz., in the 24-Parganas, while the death-rate from fever was 19·98 per cent. in Calcutta itself it was 5·74 per cent. The figures are significant and shew which way the remedy lies. No doubt the ignorance of the people as regards sanitary matters is to some extent responsible for this terrible havoc, but sanitary science will not help them to get the money for large drainage operations and good drinking water. The advance of science since the last Malaria Commission was held has been very great and we appeal to Your Honour to appoint another Commission or Committee of Inquiry into the causes of death from malaria in Bengal and their remedies. We can assures Your Honour no expense will be grudged by the people on this head.

" While on the subject of malaria, may I draw Your Honour's attention to the condition of the Arambagh Sub-division of the District of Hooghly. In former times it used to be one of the healthiest places in West Bengal and was the breeding ground of that splendid body of men who formed the ranks of the dacoits. It suffers terribly from inundation which devastates the country for miles and miles, thrice and sometimes more in every year, allowing not a blade of grass to grow and then follows fever in its train. This is what was said of the Sub-division in the last Census Report :—

" This Sub-division is generally looked upon as the unhealthiest part, and its crops are often damaged by floods from the Damoodar, whose waters are now allowed to spill over its right bank in order to obviate the risk of the embankment of the left side being breached. In spite of the immigration that has taken place, the district is still less populous by 70,000 than it was in 1872, and even then the district had suffered terribly from the fever epidemic for nearly a decade. It seems very doubtful whether it will fully recover its losses until the drainage problem is solved. The place is but three or four hours' journey from Calcutta, and I would respectfully appeal to Your Honour to visit the locality during the next rains to realise the misery and the sufferings of the poor inhabitants. I have ventured to make the appeal, relying upon Your Honour's sympathy for the poor and the suffering; and I am sure my appeal shall not be in vain.

" Sir, coming nearer home, I may be pardoned if I make some reference to the Municipality of Calcutta. We read with a profound feeling of disappointment the Resolution of Your Honour's Government on the last Administration Report of the Corporation of Calcutta. The Special Committee of that Corporation has brought out defects both of administration and constitution which were serious. People expected that the Government would give directions to rectify the defects which the Committee had so lucidly pointed out. Even the Hon'ble Mr. K. G. Gupta had to adopt the main charges that the Committee had substantiated, and it was scarcely expected that the Government would be influenced in its judgment by the constitution of the Special Committee and would practically dismiss the report from the consideration with the following remarks :—

The Special Committee of the Corporation reviewed the Chairman's report in a very thorough manner, and rendered good service in drawing attention to defects which demand careful attention. But they were as a body frankly hostile to the whole system of administration introduced by the present Calcutta Municipal Act. A very cordial appreciation of good work was not perhaps therefore to be expected in their review.

"I do not think the Government could have overlooked the fact that one of the members of the Committee belonged to an important body which was violently opposed to the old order of things and was partly responsible for the new, and that the report was unanimous. However, I do not wish to detain the Council about controversial matters in regard to the Corporation of Calcutta. I shall as a resident of Calcutta call Your Honour's attention to the following observation in the Government Resolution :—

The supply of unfiltered water is causing anxiety. The large increase in the number of connected privies has materially reduced the pressure in certain localities.

"As my hon'ble friend the Chairman of the Corporation will admit, it has failed in many instances and has proved very vexatious. It is a serious menace to the health of the town when the supply of unfiltered water to the privies fails, as it frequently does in the hot season, and I would appeal to my hon'ble friend and ask Your Honour to support me in the appeal, not to insist on converting service into connected privies until the unfiltered water-supply has been placed on a more satisfactory basis.

"Sir, I showed from figures which I placed before the Council on the occasion of the last budget debate, that the Corporation no longer represented the people of Calcutta, and the representation such as it is of the northern portion of Calcutta was extremely weak. The old members are gone and the new have not the advantage of the experience of the past behind them. In many cases representatives have come in, because people did not care as to who should represent them, and the result has been that that the northern portion of Calcutta has not received the same amount of attention that it deserves. Though along with my colleagues I felt it my duty to secede from the new Corporation under circumstances I need not now advert to, yet I am ready and willing to acknowledge the services of the new Commissioners specially of the gentlemen representing the Chambers of Commerce, who ha taken great pains to beautify and adorn the town. That the north has not received the same care as the south, is one not so much to the apathy of the Commissioners as to their ignorance of the conditions of the northern town.

"So long as my hon'ble friend continues to be the Chairman of the Corporation, we are fully assured that the Indian portion of the town will not be neglected: he knows the people and the people know him: he knows their wants and grievances, and is always ready to come to their rescue, but those who have been in the Corporation can alone realise how difficult it is for the Chairman to direct funds to be spent in any particular area unless he is strongly backed by the representatives of that area: a stronger representation takes away from what ought to have gone to a weaker neighbour. Situated as we are the only person we look forward to is the Chairman, and we have found him always ready and willing to help us. But, Sir, this state of things is not satisfactory. The Hon'ble Mr. Greer has lived down the sinister reputation that the Corporation had acquired of extinguishing its Chairman, but the Corporation cannot hold him tied down for ever. It is necessary that the people should be given some voice, and I submit a preponderating voice, in their own affairs.

"The defects of the present constitution of the Corporation are admitted even by those who were its warmest supporters at the start and I appeal to Your Honour's Government to take a step forward. I am sure Your Honour will be the last person to adhere to a policy after it has been found wanting and there is no doubt that the policy which evolved the Municipal Corporation as now constituted, has been found to have been misconceived. Calcutta requires expansion, its people want more elbow-room. The people of the northern part justly complain of the want of a space like the maidan in the south. Let us extend the limits of Calcutta westward across the river, northward and eastward across the canal. It is cruel to remove bustees without providing accommodation for the poor people to live in the outskirts of the town. There are no healthy quarters in the outskirts, no easy and cheap railway communication to bring the people in. The Improvement Scheme of Calcutta will fail, if we cannot provide for a healthy and easily accessible suburban area. Indications are not wanting to show that Your Honour has in view a large scheme for the re-organization and reconstitution of the Corporation of Calcutta. We hope they are correct and we pray for a generous consideration of the claims of the people in any such scheme that may be framed.

"Referring to the Improvement Scheme the public are rather surprised that its details have hitherto been kept back from them. It is incomprehensible why the public are denied an opportunity of expressing their views on any measure until it has reached a stage were public criticism becomes useless, either because the scheme has become so far developed that any material alteration is impracticable or because the prestige of the Government is likely to suffer if it makes concessions to public opinion. It would have been a great advantage to the Government and to the public if the outlines of the scheme, specially its financial provisions, had been well considered here before they were submitted to the Secretary of State. Now that the sanction of the Secretary of State has been received, the scheme should be published for public information and criticism without keeping them in further suspense. In this connection may I appeal to Your Honour to give the people an adequate representation in any constitution that may be framed for carrying out the scheme, so that the difficulties of the people affected may be properly considered and justly dealt with and what is more the people may feel that they will be justly dealt with.

"There is one other matter to which I wish to refer before I close. There is a great deal of alarm at the threatened imposition of further cesses under the Local Self-Government Bill. It stands hardly to reason that with a treasury overflowing with surpluses further fresh taxation should be resorted to.

"The public are also alarmed at the rumours of the introduction of a measure which will place the ignorant Bengal villager under the clutches of the Police. Balers and shippers may refuse to buy wet jute, but it is unreasonable to expect the Corporation or Government to send people to jail because they fail to supply to balers and shippers jute of the quality contracted for. It would be as reasonable to expect balers and shippers to be sent to jail if they fail to pay the price of the jute they contract to buy.

"Sir, I have detained, I am afraid, Your Honour's Council at great length. I thank Your Honour for the patience with which you have listened to our tale of grievances. Busy men as we are no one realises more than we do the tiresome repetition which we feel it our duty to inflict on this Council; but this is our only opportunity to make ourselves heard; we are told that our platform resolutions passed at meetings, some of which we attend at considerable sacrifice, are the mere expressions of opinion of meddlesome busy bodies and we are not above feeling a suspicion that our speeches in Council count for little more. If the Government had realised how much a resolution which it pens in the seclusion of its bureau, how much a Bill which it drafts in its Secretariat recess, moves the palpitating mass of humanity placed under its care, weak and weighted down it may be, but swayed by the same emotions as their more fortunate brethren and trying to lift the burden of centuries of ignorance and misgovernment; if they had realised how a scheme dividing the language or the people, looking so simple on paper; how a resolution which undoes the gracious promise of the late Queen and excludes the people for nothing else than the crime of colour from appointments in their own country, even in the Department of Police, for we are willing to accept any challenge on the ground of fitness, sends a throbbing motion of pain through their fibres penetrating down to the very centre; if they had realised how this same mass of humanity, not often trusted and often misinterpreted and misunderstood, turn in their hopelessness and helplessness to the generous promises of noble Englishmen, who in the past have come to their rescue, our Government would pause and would give a more patient and sympathetic hearing to our representations. I have every reason to trust that though effect may not be given to what we believe is conducive to the interests of the people, our humble representations will receive sympathetic attention at Your Honour's hands."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I beg to offer my hearty congratulations to the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary on the presentation of a budget which very well may be called a Prosperity Budget. It is gratifying to find that there has been an increase of over 12 lakhs to the receipts for the current year, as originally estimated. The consideration of the details in connection with this increase shows that on one single item, viz., Stamps, there has been an increase of 3 lakhs. In explanation of this increase we are told that it is due to an unusual expansion of Stamp Revenue, chiefly under the head of 'Court-fee Stamps.' This evidently means that there has been an unusual increase in litigation, and I would ask the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary to favour us with an explanation as to the cause which has occasioned this increase. Although I myself am a lawyer, I cannot say that I can felicitate the country on this enormous expansion of litigation.

"Turning to the expenditure side, we find that in the current year there have been savings amounting to Rs. 22,55,000. This is certainly not a matter for congratulation. These savings have evidently been achieved by deferring the execution of several reforms, such as schemes for the improvement of salaries of the ministerial officers, for an increase in the number of Deputy Collectors and the re-organisation of the Subordinate Executive Service and for Educational reforms. While placing the Financial Statement for the current year in March last, the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary congratulated himself on the introduction of a budget under which these much-needed reforms would be carried out; but it is to be regretted that very little progress was made during the year towards executing any of them. In explanation we are told that necessary sanction could not be obtained before the close of the year; but, considering the fact that these schemes have been in contemplation for some years past, this explanation is rather disappointing, and we do not know when we shall see the actual completion of these measures.

"It is indeed satisfactory to notice that in the budget placed before us the permanent expenditure, allowed to the Local Government in the Financial Settlement, has been increased by Rs. 53,98,000, and that this increased amount has been distributed on several schemes involving urgent reforms. But, as regards the improvement of the position of ministerial officers, I must confess to a sense of disappointment. In the budget estimate for 1904-05 provision of 4 lakhs was made on this head; but in the budget under consideration the amount provided is only Rs. 2,75,000, viz., Rs. 1,11,000 shown under 'Land Revenue' and Rs. 1,64,000 under 'Law and Justice.' Will the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary be good enough to explain the cause of this reduction in the course of his speech?

"The said sum of Rs. 53,98,000 includes the magnificent Imperial grant of Rs. 34,50,000—a grant for which we are deeply grateful to the Government of India. This grant has been made for special purposes, viz., for Police and Educational reforms and grants to District Boards. These are certainly objects on which money cannot be too largely spent; and we hope the reforms, for which these assignments have been made, will be fully carried out before the close of the next financial year.

"Coming to the subject of 'Education', we find that in the budget placed before us the grant on this head has been raised from Rs. 35,19,000, provided in the current year's budget estimate to Rs. 47,52,000. We are deeply grateful for this increased appreciation of our educational wants; but, having regard to the growing needs of our people and our vast population, the grant must be regarded as not sufficiently adequate.

"I would next turn to the subject of Police reform—a subject which was agitating the minds of our countrymen for a considerably long time and which has at last been set at rest by the Resolution of the Government of India recently published. In paragraph 8 of his Explanatory Note, the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary has expressed his high appreciation of the character of the reforms, inaugurated by the said Resolution, but I regret I cannot fully share the Financial Secretary's views on this subject. The provisions made for raising the pay of the Constables and Sub-Inspectors are certainly welcome, as they are an improvement, although not much, on the existing state of things; but those regarding the appointment of higher officers of the department have been received by us with a sense of profound disappointment. The distinction made between the appointment of European Assistant Superintendents and of Indian Deputy Superintendents, based as it is on racial considerations, is most lamentable.

"Then, again, we find that the promotion to the grade of District Superintendent will, in the case of European Assistant Superintendents, follow in the usual course but in the case of Indian Deputy Superintendents it has been considered inexpedient to reserve any fixed number of District Superintendentships, and they will be only eligible for promotion when their fitness is fully established. The practical result of these provisions will, we are afraid, be to shut the door to higher appointments in the department against the people of the country. Our disappointment is all the more keen that such a state of things should evolve out of the labours of a Commission which was presided over by a just and sympathetic ruler of the country like Your Honour.

"The object for which the grant of 12½ lakhs has been made to the District Boards has sufficiently been explained in the Financial Secretary's Note; but I desire to point out that what is wanted on the interior of the country is not so much roads and communications as an adequate supply of pure drinking-water. I trust that a large portion of this grant will be devoted to this purpose, and may I be permitted to express the hope that Your Honour's Government will be pleased to issue instructions upon these lines to the district authorities? The researches of eminent experts have left no doubt that among the potent causes of cholera and malarial fever is bad and impure water; and a Government which removes this want will be entitled to the unspeakable blessings of the country.

"I will next invite Your Honour's attention to a matter which specially affects the division of Chota Nagpur which I have the honour to represent in this Council. It is a question connected with Irrigation in that part of the country. The failure of rice crops in Chota Nagpur has been somewhat too frequent in recent years; and in the year 1897-98 it resulted in a severe famine. This failure can hardly be attributed to want of rainfall, as we have scarcely less than fifty inches in a year, but it is generally due to the failure of what is called hatiya rains of October. In the event of their failure, the only means of saving the crops lies in artifical Irrigation; but the bunds and ahars which afford the only feasible means of irrigation in Chota Nagpur have in most cases gone out of repair and their beds are silted up. The landlords in Chota Nagpur are generally spendthrifts, and they have neither the means nor the inclination to undertake reforms in this connection, and the only improvement of the bunds is to be looked for from the tenantry. But the tenants, if left solely to their own resources, will hardly be able to do the needful in this matter.

"The system of advancing loans for improvement of bunds has not proved a success in Chota Nagpur, as the rigorous realization of arrears through peons has proved a source of harassment and given rise to a feeling of general repugnance to have recourse to Government for loan. Although a considerable portion of the division, I may say more than half, is practically under Government management,—I mean the portion comprising Government estates, Wards' estates, Encumbered estates—it is to be regretted that even in these estates very little has hitherto been done in the way of executing useful works of irrigation.

"The Report of the Indian Irrigation Commission, which held its sittings in 1902, strongly emphasizes the necessity of improving the existing bunds and ahars and increasing their number, as will appear from an extract I quote from the said report :—

The beds of ahars are silted up. The bunds are worn down and out of repair. In the repair of these bunds and the increase of their number lies the advancement of Irrigation in Chota Nagpur. In this undulating tract with its copious, if irregular, rainfall, there must be numberless small streams, the waters of which could be dammed and diverted into tanks and utilised in saving the crops at critical seasons.

"In regard to the estates under Government management, the report makes a pointed reference to the fact that much more should be done than at present by Government in its capacities of landlord and manager. We do not know how far the recommendation of the Irrigation Commission has been given effect to; and I think I shall be justified in pressing upon the attention of Government the adoption of measures calculated to give adequate relief in a matter of such vital importance. In estates under Government management, the Government can certainly do a great deal in its capacity as landlord or manager; and in other parts of the divisions where people, on account of their limited resources, are unable to do the needful, and specially where bunds are necessary across streams whereby water is diverted by a pair to a series of ahars and which the people cannot construct for want of any general power of combination amongst them, Government will, I trust, render adequate help by suitable grants out of the funds at its disposal. Having regard to the grants made to the District Boards by the Government of India, I venture to suggest that a part of this grant, so far as Chota Nagpur is concerned, may usefully be ear-marked for this important purpose.

"I have no desire, Sir, to make my tale of grievances too heavy, but I cannot conclude without drawing Your Honour's attention to another matter which is also of great importance, affecting as it does the constitution of District Boards in Chota Nagpur. In four out of the five districts in this division we have got Boards, but all of them are composed on a nomination system. Whatever might have been the state of things in the past, Chota Nagpur has in recent years made satisfactory progress; and I venture to submit that time has come when the Boards in Chota Nagpur should be constituted on an elective basis. I fervently pray that Your Honour's Government may see its way to give an impetus to the legitimate aspirations and loyal sentiments of the people by introducing the elective system into the composition of the Boards and thereby earn the deep gratitude of the people of Chota Nagpur. Having regard to the fact that Ranchi is soon destined under the benevolent auspices of Your Honour's Government to be a centre of high education, it is proper in the fitness of things that the boon of Local Self-Government should precede the introduction of that higher education which will foster and promote such an institution."

The Hon'ble Mr. GREER said :—"Your Honour, the Hon'ble Member for the University has referred to matters connected with the Corporation, and I desire to say a few words on the subject. I am accustomed to hearing complaints regarding the neglect of the Northern Wards of the City, but I am unable to find out any period in which so much has been done to improve the locality as during the past few years. I do not propose to weary the Council with details of Municipal Administration; they are to be found in the annual reports. I would only ask the Hon'ble Member to consider at what period in the history of the City of Calcutta has so much money been devoted and attention given to the wants of the inhabitants as regards conservancy, the cleansing of streets and bustees, the water-supply, the opening out of public squares, and such like municipal conveniences. The answers will be found in the annual reports. The area is overcrowded with buildings, constructed in defiance of sanitary laws, and people, the majority of whom have an elementary knowledge of the principles which govern the public health, and the Corporation have a most heavy task in coping with the evils which they have received as a legacy from the past. They are facing the difficulty and will continue to do so, but it is only reasonable to ask for a proper comparison to be made of the state of things in the present and the past and for an exercise of patience for the development of improvements which are being carried out. As regards the unfiltered water-supply, I do not consider it a satisfactory system. In my opinion it should never have been introduced. An accidental breakdown of the engines at Mullick's Ghât brought about a temporary failure of the unfiltered water-supply last year, but the pressure has been fairly maintained since then, except a short interval for the repair of the main. The main pipe along the Strand Road is unduly small for the demand of the northern part of the City, and, in order to meet the difficulty, provision has been made in the coming financial year for the construction of a 24-inch main at a cost of Rs. 66,000, which will increase the pressure by 15 feet. I would here briefly note that a scheme is under consideration to abolish the unfiltered water-supply, substituting filtered water throughout the town and giving the inhabitants an ample supply of pure water. I do not know the Hon'ble Member's source of information regarding the completed sewers in the suburbs declared to be unfit for use. I am informed by the Engineering Department that the total length of sewers to be constructed under the Suburban Drainage Scheme in round figures is about 43 miles, and that a total length of 99,000 feet were finished before the year 1900. Of this finished length already taken over, so far as they have discovered, 200 feet have failed owing to unforeseen causes, or about ·2 of the total length.

"A reference has been made to Local Self-Government in Calcutta. I would ask your permission to say a few words on a subject which I trust will engage the attention of the Council at no distant date and bring about legislation in the interests of Municipal Government in this City. Your Honour has lately issued a Resolution which should have the effect of the needful information being collected and definite proposals being prepared for the consideration of this Council. I refer to the Borough system. It is in force in London, where various complications exist owing to the presence of conflicting authorities—the Local Government Board, the London County Council, the Borough Council and Vestries. In Calcutta there is a clean page, so to speak, in the absence of vested interests. Briefly speaking the system consists in the creation of a number of Boroughs working with a certain degree of independence in subordination to a central authority—the Corporation. The preliminary steps in this direction have been taken in Calcutta since the passing of the existing Municipal Act by the division of the City into four districts, each provided with a District office, equipped with Engineers, Health Officers and Building Surveyors and the necessary subordinate staff, clerical and outdoor. The annual budget of the Corporation now shows the distribution of municipal funds under various municipal heads amongst the four districts. A process of decentralisation has thus been carried into effect, but any further substantial progress requires legislation, and the creation of Boroughs is the natural and needful step. The time therefore has come for extending the system by giving each of these districts some degree of independence for the discharge of its municipal duties. Under such a system the Corporation, including the representatives from Borough Councils, would retain in their hands works which may be classed as Metropolitan, as, for example, main drainage and water-supply, and especially the preparation of the annual City Budget with control over Borough Budgets. The Corporation and the head-quarters staff would thus be relieved from dealing with an enormous mass of petty works and details, and could devote more time to important major operations.

"On the other hand, the Borough Councils, working within Budget limits, might deal with local affairs, the cleansing of the Borough area, the watering and lighting of its streets, and numerous minor works. The Borough Council might work with its own Chairman (a non-official) and Committees, and many representative men would find ample scope for their energies in these local administrations. It is desirable that the services of these men should be utilised in municipal affairs and, there being proper guidance, the public would derive great benefit from them.

"Such is the first part of the scheme, but I am strongly of opinion that to stop at this point would be to shut our eyes to a portion of the measure which presses most urgently for attention, namely, the extension of the system to the Suburban Municipalities and their amalgamation in the Borough system under the Corporation. To an outsider the Suburban Municipalities and the City proper together constitute Calcutta. In many cases the wants of the inhabitants of these areas are alike. Many of these Suburban Municipalities have direct concern in the work of the Corporation, as for example in the Water-Supply and Main Drainage Schemes, and the interests of the residents would be benefited by their representation on the central body.

"It is desirable that a systematic form of Municipal Government should be established over Calcutta and its Suburbs, and that the latter should be brought into more close communication with the central authority. There is an imminent danger of the Suburban Municipalities being overrun by the surplus population of the City and the evils being repeated in them which are now menacing the prosperity of Calcutta.

"The second part of the scheme presents extra difficulties as regards taxation and other details, but there is no need for uniformity in all particulars, and the measure does not necessarily contemplate the imposition of the existing rates and taxes of Calcutta over the Suburban Municipalities. I have said that I trust some such measure may be considered by the Council at no distant date. It involves no admission of failure in the past, but merely implies a natural development of existing conditions. I am of opinion that the change is called for alike in the interests of the Government and the rate-payers, and that a postponement of the measure would involve an increase in the difficulties to be met with hereafter in introducing this great and needful reform."

The Hon'ble MR. CARNDUFF said:—"Sir,—It will not be necessary for me to detain the Council long; for the Education and Judicial Departments have been very liberally treated, and the tone of the speeches to which we have been listening, is so far as those Departments are concerned, in the main congratulatory.

"For primary education the special assignment of ten lakhs of rupees will enable us, through the District Boards, to make an effective start in the direction of providing decent buildings for primary schools and so supplying a very real want and removing a reproach; to carry out a scheme for the development of indigenous Muhammadan primary schools; to extend facilities for education in rural areas, in some cases by establishing primary schools with courses specially adapted for the children of the agricultural population, and in others by converting a number of existing lower primary schools into schools with simpler courses of study and shorter hours of attendance; to raise many lower primary to the rank of upper primary schools, and to establish new schools of the latter class; to found additional training schools for teachers for rural primary schools; and to strengthen the subordinate inspecting agency, which is, and has for years been, very inadequate.

"As regards the proposal for the translation into the various dialects of text-books for lower primary schools, I would remind the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar, the Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri and the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu that the Lieutenant-Governor has lately agreed to extend till the 15th April the period within which opinions will be received. I am, therefore, not now in a position to make any definite statement on the subject; but the Hon'ble Members may rest assured that it will be approached with an open mind, and that their objections will be carefully considered. The special scholarships, regarding which one Hon'ble Member has asked for information, are industrial scholarships intended for Indian students proceeding abroad to study technical subjects. Four such scholarships have been provided for students who are now reading at the Birmingham University, and two mining scholarships will be tenable by students attending the Civil Engineering College at Sibpur. The Nizamat scholarships mentioned in the budget will be awarded, as heretofore, to deserving members of a noble Muhammadan family. The Kindergarten system has now been regularly introduced, and the expenditure of almost a lakh of rupees for the purchase of new and improved appliances has been sanctioned. As regards training schools for gurus, the intention is to establish these at sub-divisional head-quarters, and proposals for the creation of training colleges have been submitted to the Government of India. How great are the needs of Bengal in this respect is strikingly seen when it is stated that the percentage of trained teachers in primary schools in this Province is 4·1 only, as against 23·4 in Madras, 34·1 in Bombay, 39·2 in the United Provinces, and 48·3 in the Punjab. The present training schools are not suitable for the purpose of training teachers for rural primary schools, and are barely sufficient to produce enough teachers for upper primary and middle vernacular schools. It is proposed, therefore, to open special training schools for the teachers of rural primary schools, and it is considered necessary to open not less than 70 such schools, each capable of training 40 students a year; but even at this rate it will take some sixteen years to provide for the existing number of rural primary schools. A scheme for the re-organisation of the Educational Services is as I have had occasion to state in answer to a question in Council two weeks ago, now before the Imperial Government, and, if it is sanctioned, special provision will be made for the funds required to carry it into effect.

"The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu has urged that hostels and quarters for professors should be provided for in connection with the Presidency College. I would remind the Hon'ble Member that the Eden Hindu Hostel for students was established some years ago; and I may add that the question of building quarters for professors near the College is under consideration.

"As regards the proposal to raise the Bihar School of Engineering to the status of an Engineering College, I am not in a position to say more at present, in reply to the Hon'ble Babu Saligram Singh, than that the question has not been lost sight of.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Larmour has referred to what he has styled 'primary technical education,' and here, no doubt, much remains to be done. When communicating their orders upon the Report of the Committee on Industrial Education, the Government of India asked this Government to prepare a scheme, and promised financial aid to it, if approved. They observed that it would probably be found that the industry to be dealt with first should be weaving; and accordingly this Government convened a Conference at which both the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce were represented. The result was that definite proposals for the improvement and encouragement of the hand-loom industry were submitted to, and are now before, the Government of India. That scheme will, of course, be but a beginning, and will, it is hoped, be only the first of others having for their object the training of the ordinary artisans to whom the Hon'ble Member has referred. Proposals for the improvement of the bone and hide-curing industries have already been put forward, and the Hon'ble Member now mentions wood-work and other handicrafts. It is the intention of this Government to turn to these as soon as the weaving scheme has been fairly started.

"In the Judicial Department the claims of the ministerial establishments attached to the Civil Courts have not been overlooked, and I am glad to be able to say that a proposal to strengthen the Nazarats in particular is about to be referred to a strong Committee, which will meet probably next July.

"The explanation why the budget provision for temporary Subordinate Judges during the current year has not been fully expended is that, whereas we provided for three extra officers throughout the year, it was found unnecessary—and the Government was guided in the matter entirely by the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court—to employ them for more than six months. As regards the figures relating to District Judges, the fact is that some of the expenditure budgetted for last year, though falling under the heading 'District and Sessions Judges,' was intended to meet the cost of the appointment of night-watchmen for the civil courts, and fewer appointments than were anticipated were found to be actually necessary.

"The outcome of the recommendations made by the Police Commission will, I believe, be dealt with by another official Member, and I need not offer any remarks on the subject."

The Hon'ble MR. SHIRRES said:—"Sir, I have to thank the Hon'ble Members who have spoken for the congratulations which they have been good enough to give me and also for the courtesy with which they have responded to my request that they would furnish me beforehand with an indication of the particular topics they proposed to touch upon. I regret, however, that in some cases the intimation was received too late for me to examine or deal with the facts and figures other than those relating to the budget.

"In the first place I may endeavour to re-assure as far as I can those Hon'ble Members who see nothing but discouragement in the increase of revenue under various heads. The increases under Stamps were principally in the following districts :—

	Rs.		Rs.
Mymensingh	39,000	Bhagalpur	59,000
Tippera	39,000	Purneah	74,000
Gaya	56,000	Backergunge	33,000
Mazuffarpur	64,000	Calcutta	1,71,000

"In Calcutta there was a large increase under general stamps. In the other places the increase according to the explanations which have been received is due partly to the Survey and Settlement operations and partly to additions to the Judicial staff.

"The Survey and Settlement operations, however, although they bring matters to a head at the time tend to prevent subsequent litigation. Also the increases following on additions to the Judicial staff are due in part to the clearing off of arrears. On the other hand it is probable that other additions to the Judicial staff on which we have been congratulated will lead to enhanced receipts in other places.

"Again the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar complains of the increased estimate for ordinary collections of Income-tax which he contends is not fair and legitimate. If, however, he will turn to paragraph 20 of the Explanatory Notes he will see that the average annual increase during the four years ending with the year 1902-1903 from the classes who are still liable to assessment was Rs. 1,73,000. Against this average increase of Rs. 1,73,000 we have estimated for an increase of only one lakh. Although, therefore, we have not budgetted for a decrease our moderate estimate contemplates the possibility of a large falling off in the rate of increase, and perhaps that may satisfy the Hon'ble Member.

"As regards 'Excise' I need only refer to the speech of the Hon'ble Mr. Baker in the Imperial Council on Wednesday which dealt fully with the subject.

"My hon'ble friend Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu makes out that the new settlement gives a net loss of Rs. 25,69,000 a year. I do not propose to go over the discussions regarding the financial settlement again or to take up the time of the Council with an explanation of the figures. I have however a statement here showing that both in the current year and next year there is a net gain instead of a net loss. This statement I will lay upon the table.

"Several Members have expressed regret at the existence of savings due to our failure to obtain sanction for large schemes especially to the scheme for the improvement of the pay and position of Ministerial Officers. The savings on account of the scheme for Deputy Magistrates are comparatively small because the large grant which the Government of India have promised will not be made until a scheme is sanctioned. The proposals regarding the Subordinate Executive staff have now been sanctioned. As regards Ministerial Officers I can only say that this Government has spared no efforts to push the scheme through and equally shares the regret expressed by the Hon'ble Members. There was no cut and dried scheme ready beforehand, but as soon as we knew that money was likely to be available one was prepared. I fear that I must plead guilty to having been far too sanguine when I spoke last year of our ability to push through quickly a scheme of such magnitude. The preparation of the Proposition Statement by the Accountant-General was a magnum opus in itself and took time. The scheme also was bound to contain and did contain many debatable points, and at the instance of the Government of India the Lieutenant-Governor has directed the appointment of a Committee to prepare a larger scheme. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes however that it may be found possible to allow an ad interim increase of some kind without waiting for the report of the Committee. I may also explain that the reduced provision for Ministerial Officers in next year's budget to which allusion is made by the Hon'ble Babu Kali Pada Ghosh is not due to the scheme having been cut down but to the fact that we do not anticipate that any orders of the Secretary of State can be received for some time and we have therefore provided for payment for only part of the year. If, however, sanction is obtained at an earlier date we shall transfer money from some other heads so as to enable payments to be made at once.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Larmour has expressed the hope that if Chittagong goes over to Assam the grants we are now making to that port will be refunded. The money, however, was made over to us by the Government of India expressly for expenditure on Chittagong and I fear that if Chittagong goes the money goes with it. Nor can I satisfy the Hon'ble Member with any promise that the Provincial Government will make any large contribution towards the cost of the Improvement Scheme. The expenditure in Calcutta on Public Works, Medical, Education and Police is large and we have just heard a complaint from the Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri on the subject. Regarding the scheme for housing Government servants in Calcutta I may say, however, that when it again comes before this Government, as no doubt it will do, the remarks of the Hon'ble Member will be carefully considered.

"Regarding Water-Supply I may say that the special grant which we made at the beginning of the year has been all utilised and in fact has been exceeded, but we met all the demands which were made upon us. On the general question I have nothing to add to what has been repeatedly said and I shall confine myself to quoting remarks made by the Hon'ble Mr. Baker with which I entirely agree. He dealt with this subject in three successive years but I shall content myself with quoting the remarks made in 1900—

But the notion that the Government can by any action on its part provide the people with an adequate supply of good water is an absolute chimera. Nothing can be done except by the people themselves. Last year I pointed out that almost every village in Bengal possessed one or more suitable tanks or wells which, if properly looked after, would provide all that is required. In 1896 it was pointed out that in 1882 Government gave a grant of one lakh for Water-Supply in Nadia, yet in produced no material effect. What is wanted is that the zamindars and the villagers themselves should re-excavate and maintain existing tanks. A doctrine of self-help is usually distasteful; but in this vitally important matter there is no other possible remedy.

"As regards Malaria also I have little to say that is new. We have made arrangements to manufacture more Quinine, we have increased the quantity of quinine in pice packets from five to seven grains and we are arranging to increase the number of distributing centres. The Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri derives no comfort from the entry of Rs. 40,000 for the enlargement of the Cinchona factory in order to increase the supply of quinine because he fears that Government may derive a profit from the manufacture. Let me re-assure him on that point. Owing to improved processes the cost of manufacture is constantly being reduced but as soon as we find that such is the case we pass on the benefit to the public. Recently finding that there was a profit we increased the quantity of quinine in pice packets from 5 to 7 grains. I may also direct attention to another entry in paragraph 14 of the Explanatory Notes. The entry in question is Rs. 3,75,000 which is part of a contribution of 5 lakhs towards the cost of the Mograhat Drainage Scheme.

"The Hon'ble Member also makes the statement that I am unable to show any expense under the head of remedial measures in respect of such preventable diseases as Cholera and Malarial Fever. I have just referred to certain items of specific expenditure and in addition to those I would point out that the medical expenditure shown in the budget for next year amounts to 22¾ lakhs of rupees. This money is for the purpose of combating all disease but inasmuch as Malaria is the principal disease in this Province it may fairly be said that a large part of this expenditure is devoted to combating that disease.

"The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu referred to the condition of the Sub-division of Arambagh. The report of the Civil Surgeon of Hooghly for the year 1904 shows that no special inundations took place in the district during the year. It is stated that the year was less unhealthy than usual, and every registering circle in the district shows a diminution in death-rate. It is also reported that for the whole district the fall is most marked in Malarial fevers. The Civil Surgeon says that the decrease in the death-rate is not due to any slackness in registration but that it represents a really lower number of deaths.

"There has not been time to obtain the opinion of the Medical Advisers of Government on the request for a Commission of Enquiry. The suggestion will in due course be submitted for His Honour's orders, but speaking for myself as a layman I am inclined to think that what we require at the present stage is bacteriological enquiry of the facts known rather than a Commission for the purpose of ascertaining new facts.

"With regard to Plague I may say that we have met all the applications for money that have been made and only a few days ago Government gave additional grants of Rs. 6,000 to the Commissioner of Patna and of Rs. 1,500 to the Commissioner of Burdwan. As Hon'ble Members are aware it is very difficult usefully to incur much direct expenditure on Plague. The people do not welcome inoculation or disinfection, and there is no use building huts to assist in evacuation unless the people are willing to occupy them. As I said last year Government has not up to the present been deterred by any expense it has been called on to meet and the difficulty is to carry the people with us. The decrease in Plague expenditure referred to by the Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri was due to the abandonment of the policy of segregation camps.

"Lastly, I may refer to the urgent prayer of the Hon'ble Babu Kali Pada Ghosh for the introduction of the elective system into Chota Nagpur. I would remind the Hon'ble Member however that it is only a few years since District Boards were established in Chota Nagpur and the elective system can exist only where there are Local Boards. There is only one Local Board in Chota Nagpur namely that in the Gobindpur Sub-division of the district of Manbhum. This Local Board was established about two years ago and will in due course elect members to the District Board. The local officers will be consulted on the suggestion that the people should be allowed to elect their representatives, but I may point out that in more advanced places the Government is frequently compelled to nominate members because of the failure of elections."

The Hon'ble Mr. Inglis said:—"Sir, the Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri has drawn attention to the necessity for works of Sanitary Drainage. He has particularly drawn attention to the necessity for removing shoals at the heads of dead or dying rivers, so as to cause the flow from the parent stream to again enter on them. I think, Sir, we are all agreed that this is an ideal to be desired. I am, however, afraid that in the vast majority of cases it must remain an ideal. In dealing with rivers such as the Ganges and the Brahmaputra, we are dealing with forces of nature on a vast scale. The beds and banks of these rivers are of an extremely changeable nature. It is almost impossible except at an enormous outlay to hold permanently any fixed position. If, owing to the action of natural forces which are beyond our control, a parent river chokes up the head of one of its branches and opens out another in a different part of the country, we may endeavour to remove the shoal at the head, but we have, I think, no guarantee that we shall be able to prevent that shoal reforming almost at once. At the present time we have a survey party at work in the Jessore district to see whether it may be practicable to open a channel from the big flowing river into the Bhagirathi. If this could be done and maintained, the results would certainly be excellent. To show that we are doing something in the way of improving drainage, I would mention the Mugra Hât drainage scheme. This scheme, which involves a large sluice at Diamond Harbour, will provide for the drainage of a greater part of the 24-Parganas district. The scheme has been worked out in great detail. It will provide for the internal channels being navigable and for a lock into the river. It therefore promises to be of great value to the district.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri has also drawn attention to the desirability of doing more for the waterways. We are doing something in this respect. As I have already stated in answer to a question, we have so far developed the channel across the Madaripur Bil that it is now navigable for a part of the year. We have for the last three years been working quietly to improve the channel of the Ganges from Dinapore to Goalundo by a system of bandels or wing-dams. We have deepened the water over the shoals. The effect of this has been satisfactory so far as steamers drawing four or five feet are concerned. It has facilitated their progress up and down the river. It has also facilitated the passage of country boats downwards. On the other hand, it is not in favour of the up-stream traffic of country boats. We have also found certain difficulties arising from the fact that the across river traffic of the railway ferries comes into competition with the up and down traffic. I mention this merely to show that these schemes are not so easy to carry out as they are to suggest.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar has asked that some contribution from the Hospital Port Dues Fund should be made for the Nurses' Home. As Secretary of the Marine Department I think I may say that there can be no objection to our giving some grant from the fund, which is, I am glad to say, an affluent one.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Apcar has also referred to the urgent necessity for silt clearing in Tolly's Nala. I quite admit the urgency of the case. I have this morning received an estimate from the Superintending Engineer, which amounts to Rs. 32,602, for removing the obstruction to the traffic. The obstruction is a recurring one owing to the fact that the tide flows up from both ends of the Nala. There is a certain point where the tides meet and where rapid silting must always go on. The silting at present has been allowed to get perhaps rather out of hand, but I think, Sir, I may assure the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar that we will take prompt steps to remedy the present state of affairs.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Larmour has suggested that it is desirable that the rate of interest on the Government loan to the Kidderpore Docks should be reduced. As he stated this matter was considered by the Government of India in 1895. The orders of the Government of India at that time were communicated in a letter from Mr. Finlay, who was then Secretary to the Government of India in the Finance and Commerce Department, and he wrote:—

I am directed to say that it is not possible for the Government of India to deal with the Port Commissioners upon principles different from those which they apply to their other debtors. I am directed to say that His Excellency the Governor General in Council regrets that he must adhere to the decision that the rate of interest on the Kidderpore Dock loan cannot be reduced. I am to say that the only concession in this respect which the Government of India would at present be prepared to make is that if the Port Commissioners consider they can raise money in the open market on more favourable terms than those on which they borrowed it from the Government, the Government of India will be willing to accept repayment of the present debt without raising any question as to the stipulation made regarding the period of repayment.

"The question is, Sir, I think rather of Imperial than of Provincial interest. If the Port Commissioners think it desirable to re-open the question, I am sure the Bengal Government will give their arguments full consideration; but having regard to the fact which the Hon'ble Mr. Larmour has himself stated, that the finances of the Port Commissioners are at present fairly prosperous, I do not think we can hold out much hope that the Government of India will re-consider their former orders."

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE said:—"The points on which I propose to touch relate to Police Reform, the Provincial Service, the Subordinate Executive Service, the Registration Department, Agricultural Expenditure, Village Banks and the Veterinary Department.

"As regards Police Reform, the Hon'ble Member has suggested that, if twelve lakhs, the grant from the Government of India will not suffice to carry out the reforms outlined by the Government of India for 1905-06, this grant should be supplemented from Provincial Funds. The Government of India lay down the following order of precedence for reforms to be introduced this year:—

(1) The strengthening of the Armed Police Reserves.
(2) The improvement of the pay of Constables.
(3) An increase in the number of Sub-Inspectors and the raising of their minimum pay.

"I am glad to be able to inform the Council that the funds placed at our disposal are sufficient to cover not only these but several other reforms, and that there is no necessity for supplementing the grant from Provincial Funds.

Armed Police Reserves.—As regards the Armed Police Reserves, it will not be possible to appoint Inspectors and Sergeants to any district armed reserve, as in a good many places it will be necessary to build quarters.

"Constables.—There will be a very substantial increase in the pay of constables. The pay of all constables will be raised to the minimum of their district. This will vary from Rs. 7 to Rs. 9 in different parts of the Province. (The present minimum varies from Rs. 6 to Rs. 7.) The average minimum rate of pay throughout Bengal will be approximately Rs. 8. In addition to this, every constable who has served for three years in a grade will get an addition of Re. 1 to his pay. For Calcutta the minimum pay of constables is to be raised to Rs. 10. In Bengal generally no deductions are at present made on account of the pension of constables and officers. In Calcutta there is a Police Superannuation Fund to which officers and men serving in the Police contribute. Steps are being taken to wind up this Fund and put the Calcutta Police on the same footing in this respect as the District Police.

"Constables' Training Schools.—I may mention that though the Government of India have not prescribed it for this year, funds will permit of the establishment of two training schools for constables through which recruits will pass. The training will last six months, and will include drill, an elementary knowledge of law, instruction in the duties of constables towards the public and the training of their powers of observation.

"Sub-Inspectors.—The present minimum pay of all Sub-Inspectors is Rs. 30 and the maximum pay is Rs. 80. The minimum pay will be raised to Rs. 50 and the maximum to Rs. 100. The number will also be increased by 130 or more so as to enable us to provide at least one Sub-Inspector for each investigating centre. Arrangements have already been made by the Inspector-General of Police for the accommodation and training of these officers at the Bhagalpur Training School. Before I leave this subject I must refer to the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar's complaint that they are no longer to be recruited by competitive examinations. I can say from personal knowledge that we are now getting a far better class of men by nomination than the few who still enter by competition.

"Head Constables.—Among reforms not prescribed for this year I hope it will be possible to deal with the case of head-constables and that the minimum pay of head-constables will be raised from Rs. 10 to Rs. 15 It should also be possible to give those who have served more than a certain time in the two lower grades promotion. I hope we will also be able to recruit more men so as to hasten the replacement of writer-constables by writer head-constables.

"Constables.—Besides the increase of pay, it will also be possible to make considerable additions to the number. A considerable number of the present low-paid and very unsatisfactory class of town chaukidars will be replaced by town constables.

"Sub-Inspectors.—I have already mentioned that 130 Sub-Inspectors are to be recruited in addition to the men who were recruited towards the close of last year.

"It would be possible with the funds at our disposal still further to increase the number of men and officers recruited, but it could only have been done at the expense of the quality of the recruits. I understand from the Inspector-General of Police that a very good class of candidates is coming forward for recruitment to Sub-Inspectorships, but if we were to take more than a certain number, we would have to take men of an inferior class. I look upon it as a matter of the first importance that our Sub-Inspectors should be men not merely educationally qualified, but with such family connections and training as to make it easier for them to resist the temptations to resort to corrupt practices which are so frequent in the police.

"River Police.—Among reforms which though not specifically prescribed for next year are yet apparently considered very urgent by the Government of India is the introduction of a proper system of River Police. A Police Officer (Mr. Bramley, District Superintendent of Police, Benares) has been placed on special duty to draw up detailed proposals, and a commencement will I hope be made this year.

"Criminal Investigation Department.—Another reform which I understand the Government of India will allow us to undertake this year is the formal constitution of a Criminal Department under a Deputy Inspector-General, who will also deal with Railway Police. A commencement has already been made and the operations of the Department have met with considerable success, but it has been carried on under great difficulties, as the Deputy Inspector-General in charge (Mr. Knyvett) had to carry on the work in addition to his own duties.

"As the measures I have already detailed will not exhaust the funds at our disposal, I hope it will be possible to get the permission of the Government of India to make a commencement as soon as possible of the formation of the Provincial Police Service. I look upon this as one of the most important measures of reform advocated by the Police Commission and accepted by the Government of India and the Secretary of State. Another reform which, I hope, it may be possible to secure is the raising of all Inspectors' pay to the minimum accepted by the Government of India of Rs. 150. I hope also it may be possible to promote Inspectors who have been serving for some time in a grade. Again, as regards Assistant Superintendents of Police and District Superintendents of Police, I hope we may be able to obtain permission during the coming year to raise their pay to the minimum proposed by the Police Commission.

"I think that, very naturally, considering how short a time the scheme has been before the public, there has been some misunderstanding as to the exact effect of the measures stated in the Government of India Resolution on the prospects of Indians entering the Police Service. It has even been said that, so far from these prospects being improved, they are now worse than they were before owing to the fact that men promoted from the Provincial Service to become District Superintendents of Police are to be treated on a different footing from the District Superintendents of Police recruited from Europe. It is quite true that the man who has risen from the ranks to the post of District Superintendent of Police has hitherto been theoretically qualified to rise to the same maximum pay as his colleagues who are appointed at Home. But, as a matter of fact, an officer is fortunate if he reaches the lowest grade but one by the time he is 55 when he in the ordinary course retires from the Service. Under the altered state of things, any officer appointed direct to the Provincial Police Service and who is selected for appointment as District Superintendent of Police may confidently expect to attain the highest grade open to men appointed in this country on Rs. 900 a month. Men who have worked their way through the ranks will not, in all cases, be able to reach this grade, but they will commence on Rs. 600, the highest pay to which they can now hope to attain.

"I must also again remind the Council of the great opening afforded by the Provincial Police Service independent of any prospects of promotion from it. I may add in conclusion that though there are excellent Indian officers in the force, I do not believe any radical reform is possible unless the superior staff is mainly recruited from Europe.

"I will now pass from details and make a few general remarks on the subject of Police Reform. The Police Commission found, and I do not think that any one in Bengal can honestly deny the correctness of their finding, that there is an enormous amount of corruption and inefficiency among the lower grades, and that, while there are many excellent officers in the higher grades, the average is not up to the standard required if police work is to be well done. It is obviously impossible to stop corruption in the lower ranks by merely raising the pay. It is not reasonable to expect, for instance, that because a constable's minimum pay is raised from Rs. 6 to Rs. 8 he will therefore straightway become an honest man. But, at all events, by raising his pay Government has done its duty. He will receive what is, at best, a living wage and he cannot plead necessity as an excuse for dishonesty. I do not think the comparisons made by the Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri are in point. He has left out of view, for instance, the fact that their service is pensionable. He has perhaps also forgotten in Calcutta the minimum pay will be Rs. 10. As regards the travelling allowance at all events a beginning has been made. In the case of higher appointments, such as that of Sub-Inspector, we hope by raising the pay to attract a well-connected and well-educated class of men. We have fortunately even now many such men in the service, and I hope that, in future, though they may be educationally inferior to our Deputy Collectors and Sub Deputy Collectors, they will come from the same class of society. If we succeed in getting such a class of men, I think there can be no doubt that these recruits from the upper middle classes of Indian society will behave in a very different way from many of their predecessors.

"As regards the ranks of the Assistant Superintendents of Police and District Superintendents of Police, they already contain many excellent officers whom it would be hard to better under any system, but there are a certain number below the average required for the difficult and important work of District Superintendent, and the number of such officers will, I hope, be greatly reduced, as under the terms now offered, men with better educational qualifications should in future be recruited in England.

"Turning to the Provincial Executive Service, no one can regret more than the Chief Secretary the fact that this Government has been unable as yet to obtain the addition to their number it considers necessary. I have had constantly to refuse what I considered the most reasonable applications for additions to the ordinary staff on account of urgent and pressing work simply because I had not the men to send. I have at other times, and this I still more deeply regret, been obliged to refuse well-earned leave to men simply because they could not be spared. The Government of Bengal has corresponded for some time with the Government of India on the subject of increasing the cadre, and the Government of India has in principle admitted the justice of our demands for a larger service. But fuller information has been called for as to the actual details of the number required. This information we submitted in January, and I hope before many months we will have received the sanction of the Secretary of State to a very large increase to the numbers of the Provincial Service.

"As regards the Subordinate Executive Service, I am glad to say that the proposals of the Government of Bengal have been accepted by the Secretary of State in full except as regards a few settlement appointments in connection with which further information is required. I hope that early next month the full number of extra men now sanctioned will have been appointed. The increase is very considerable. Including Deputy Superintendents of Excise, who are to be graded separately in future, the number has been raised from 105 to 225 men.

"As regards the complaint that competitive examinations have been abolished, I would refer to the Government Resolution which shows how limited competition was before, and that all that has been done is to substitute for the appointment of a small number by competitive examinations nomination by the Syndicate of the Calcutta University.

"One very important and most desirable result of the increase in the cadre will be that, when full effect is given to the proposals of the Bengal Government, it will be unnecessary to employ any outsiders or kanungoes as Assistant Settlement Officers.

"In this connection I cannot accept the views of two Hon'ble Members, Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu and Babu Saligram Singh, that the initial pay is insufficient. The number and quality of the candidates who now come forward show that the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector is one much coveted by many well-educated and respectably-connected young men. A great boon has been granted by the creation of a grade on Rs. 250 for officers who have worked fairly well but who are not fitted for promotion to the Provincial Service.

"I now turn to the Registration Department. As regards this Department, final orders are awaited, but proposals have been submitted and generally accepted by the Government of India to place it on an entirely different footing and to pay Sub-Registrars by salaries instead of by commissions. It is also proposed to give a considerable increase of pay to the Sub-Registrars' clerks. Service in the Department will, if the proposals are accepted, be pensionable. The Registration Department, when once the scheme has been introduced and is in full working order, will no longer be the refuge of odd worn-out pensioners, and I have no doubt it will be found possible to utilise the rural Sub-Registrars in many ways, as registration work does not in most cases take up a Sub-Registrar's full time.

"Under the head of 'Land-Revenue expenditure,' I note the following items :—

Provision has been made of one and-a-half lakhs for Sundarbans reclamation work. Government is now trying the experiment of dealing direct with the raiyats, clearing the land and maintaining all necessary drainage and embankment works. So far the experiment promises to be very successful.

"The Government of India propose to distribute a large grant for Agricultural Experiments. The details are not yet settled, and I can only give a general idea of what is proposed. A few properly-equipped experimental farms, two to commence with, are to be started. Attached to these there will be a number of demonstration farms, each of which will as a rule only deal with one experiment which has been tried and found successful at the experimental farm. The object of these demonstration farms is to show the cultivators the effect of thoroughly-tested improvements.

"Rupees 50,000 has been allotted for experiments with a view to effecting improvements in the growth and manufacture of Indigo. It is to be hoped that the result of these experiments will be to prevent the extinction of a very important industry.

"Rupees 5,000 has been provided for the distribution of selected cotton seed. It will recognise the importance of doing what is possible to improve the quality of the cotton grown.

"Rupees 25,000 has been allotted for work connected with Co-operative Credit Societies. So far only a very small beginning has been made, but in Eastern Bengal at all events it seems probable that things are ripe for a early development of such societies on sound principles. Mr. Gourlay, the Registrar, reports that in the districts he visited he found the prospects very encouraging.

"Rupees 67,000 has been provided for a new Hostel at Belgatchia and various improvements.

"Rupees 17,000 additional expenditure is to be incurred in increasing and improving the Veterinary Establishment. This is only part of a large scheme which is still under consideration."

The Hon'ble MR. K. G. GUPTA said :—"Sir, I wish to say a few words with reference to the remarks made by Hon'ble Members regarding one or two Departments with which I am connected. First, with reference to Income-tax, the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar has drawn attention to the very large increase in the number of assessees in the present lowest class. The figure of increase standing by itself seems apparently very unsatisfactory and somewhat damaging to the assessing agency, but when it is closely analysed it will not look so bad as it appears. The assessees of every class are divided into several heads according to the sources of income, viz., Government servants, servants of local bodies and private employés either belonging to individual employers or to companies and other bodies and traders and others. As far as the assessing agents are concerned, their chief work lies in assessing traders and other people who do not come under the various heads of servants. In their case also there has been an increase, but that increase is a very small one compared with that which has taken place in the case of servants of different sorts, regarding whom there can be no suspicion of over-assessment. For instance, comparing the figures of 190?-1903 with those of 1903-1904 and confining our attention to the new last class of assessees, we find that in the case of Government servants there is an increase of 50 per cent. and in the case of servants of local bodies an increase of 216 per cent. In the case of servants of private employers and of public bodies and companies it is 115 and 195 per cent. respectively, whereas in the case of traders and other people with whom alone the assessors are concerned the increase is only 36 per cent. An obvious explanation is that in the previous year there was a still lower class which had to pay Rs. 15 income-tax and that has been abolished; the difference of tax was only Rs. 5. The classification is now done with more care because the fact of one's falling within one class or another is a question of total exemption or paying Rs. 20; and this apart from the normal growth of wealth. However, further enquiry has been ordered by the Board, and no doubt when the reports are received the matter will be made clear, but in the meantime I wish to draw the attention of Honble Members of the Council to these figures so that they may not summarily condemn the assessing agency of having shown excessive zeal or of having attempted to undo the benevolent intentions of Government.

"Coming now to 'Excise.' That is a department with which in some shape or other I have been connected for a long time, and that is also a department which is more subject to misrepresentation and misunderstanding than perhaps any other Revenue Department under Government. Some people seem to think that a mere increase in the Excise receipts is in itself something atrocious, something to be deprecated and absolutely wrong, but I do not think that is a reasonable way of looking at the question. Short of total prohibition, which I fancy is not within the range of practical politics, all that the Excise Department may be expected to do is to see that undue facilities are not offered for obtaining intoxicants and that the prices of stimulants are kept reasonably high. With regard to these two points I wish to draw the attention of the Council to some facts and figures which will speak for themselves. I wish to compare the year 1874-75 with the year 1903-1904. For the year 1904-1905 we have not yet got complete statistics. I have chosen the year 1874-75 because that was the first year after the separation of Assam from Bengal. In 1874-75 the number of country spirit licenses in Bengal was 5,165, against a previous quinquennial average of 6,312. In the last year, that is, 1903-1904, the number of such licenses was only 3,382. Similarly, ganja in 1874-75 was 4,394 and last year it was only 2,793 and opium 3,836 in the former year and 1,716 in the last year—and all this in spite of a very great increase in population. Coming to the rate of taxation, we have as regards ganja during the period a rise from Rs. 3·4 to Rs. 15·1 per seer and opium from Rs. 17 to Rs. 28·6 per seer. These are the facts for the whole of Bengal; and with regard to Calcutta specially, which generally excites a larger amount of attention than any other part of the country, I may say that the population of Calcutta during this period has increased by 6 per cent., and yet the number of spirit licenses has increased only from 136 to 137, that is, by one. It has been further reduced in the current year; ganja remains the same—at 63. Opium is reduced from 65 to 60, but the incidence of revenue has in every case been largely raised. With these facts before us I do not think it would be reasonable for any one to charge the Excise Department with trying to raise revenue at the sacrifice of temperance. The subject of country liquor has been fully discussed by the Hon'ble Mr. Baker in the Supreme Council and it is not necessary for me here to dilate further on the subject.

"There is another matter to which I have to refer because I have been made the subject of an attack not merely outside this Council, but even here with reference to the part I took in connection with the Committee which was appointed for devising a scheme for improving Rural Education. The object of the Committee was simple and harmless enough, and I might also claim for it that it was an object laudable in itself and which I find every one almost has in view. It has been the experience in Bengal for many years that Primary Education has not permeated the lowest classes of the people, and that the masses and the great body of cultivators are still unaffected by it, and therefore Government very naturally considered it necessary to find out the causes of this failure of Primary Education to reach the very lowest classes and to see what could be done to remove the defect.

"A Committee was appointed of which I happened to have the honour to be a member. After a prolonged discussion and considerable deliberation the Committee drew up a scheme which met with the provisional approval of Government, but it was not finally passed pending an expression of opinion by the public and other persons interested in Primary Education. That scheme as a whole I do not find is condemned by anybody: on the contrary, the main outlines of it have received general approval. There is, however, one point of detail, which has elicited much adverse criticism. In this respect what we wanted to do was to find out a medium which would be easily understood by the people for whom the text-books were to be prepared. The Committee have been commended for lightening the burdens of the primary scholars by simplifying the course and reducing its scope, but they have been found fault with because they went further and wanted to make the medium also as simple and as plain as possible. The Committee may have been mistaken, and I as one of the members of that Committee may have been mistaken, but it is quite open to the public to give full expression of their views and not only to criticise what we have said or done but also to show the best way of achieving the object, which we have all in view. If we have not done the right thing, or if we have erred, I do not see why it should stir up so much warmth or passion.

"All of us have the same object in view. We want to make Primary Education available to the very lowest classes who cannot now acquire it because of the complexity of the course, the difficulty of the text-books and other causes. We tried to simplify matters. We tried our best to find out a way by which such education could be made available to the classes for which it was intended. As I have said, we may not have done the right thing, but surely the subject is still open to discussion. There is no sinister motive anywhere. Government fully realised the necessity of the subject and has submitted the proposed scheme to the deliberations of those who are interested in education. With that object it has published the whole scheme and invited full discussion. Then why all this vituperation and invective? What I have to urge is this: the Committee have drawn up a scheme; if there are any defects in it, by all means point them out; and the Judicial Secretary has already given us the assurance that the objections will be duly and fully considered before final orders are passed."

The Hon'ble the PRESIDENT said:—"Gentlemen—I congratulate my hon'ble friend Mr. Shirres on the generally favourable opinions which have been expressed regarding his financial statement. Matters connected with the budget have, as a rule, been already dealt with by the Hon'ble Members representing the various departments concerned, and I shall not therefore trouble the Council by entering into details. I am half tempted to speak of the importance of our proposals for re-organising the staff of Deputy Collectors and Sub-Deputy Collectors and improving the position of Ministerial Officers. But these have been sufficiently dealt with. We have carried through one of the measures; and the other two will, we hope, not be long delayed. The criticism of the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu regarding the character of the Settlement effected with the Government of India last year has been, it seems to me, fully answered by the Hon'ble Mr. Shirres and also by two of the non-official Members of this Council; on that also I consider it unnecessary to say anything now. I shall confine myself to a few remarks regarding general questions which have been raised in the course of this discussion.

"I would first of all refer to the complaint of the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar and others that too short a time has been given for the consideration of the Budget after it was laid on the table and before its discussion in the Council. On this point I will only say that if any blame attaches to any one it is to myself. The ordinary practice has been to allow one week from the date of the presentation of the budget to the date of its discussion. In this the practice of this Council conforms to the practice of the Government of India; and it can hardly be urged that more time is required to master the details of the Provincial Budget than is required for those of the Imperial. I accordingly fixed to morrow as the day for the discussion of the budget this year. I have, however, an important and most pleasant duty to perform to-morrow in being present when His Excellency the Viceroy lays the foundation stone of the Pusa Agricultural Research Institute; and I was compelled therefore to alter the date which I had fixed. I then fixed on to-day, simply because I thought that Hon'ble Members would probably like to take up the discussion of the budget as soon as possible, and because I had no idea that it would take them long to master its details. I would remind the Hon'ble Member that, at the close of our meeting last week, he came into my room to make a representation in regard to a matter in which he is interested. Had he said anything to me then about the difficulty of being ready for the discussion to-day, it would have been far more convenient to me, and would have given me great pleasure, to have postponed the discussion for, say, ten days instead of six; but he gave me no hint of anything of the kind. I mention this merely as an illustration of what I think a better method of making representations. It is better to prevent anything that may be deemed a hardship than to complain of it after it has been permitted to occur. I am sure that Hon'ble Members will admit that they are usually treated with courtesy and consideration; and this I think should encourage them to make a representation regarding any inconvenience to which they feel that they are being put rather beforehand with the view of prevention than later in the way of complaint. I shall be very glad to give a longer period next year. In this connection I may be permitted to refer to a remark made by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu that 'questions receive little encouragement in this Council.' I am bound to say that I heard this with surprise. The Hon'ble Members who have to answer interpellations made in this Council consistently aim at giving clear and full information, and never return evasive answers. Of course, there must occasionally be questions put which cannot be answered satisfactorily. But the treatment of interpellations in this Council is habitually courteous and considerate.

"The next subject to which I should refer briefly is the subject of Education. First of all, I join with Hon'ble Members in an expression of our thanks to the Government of India for the recurring grant of Rs. 10 lakhs per annum to the Provincial revenues of Bengal to meet increased expenditure on Primary Education. The Governor General in Council has expressed his desire that this grant shall be fully utilised in increasing the normal allotment for Primary Education; and measures have been taken to ensure that expenditure hitherto incurred will not be discontinued on account of this grant, but that there will be, to the extent at least of this grant, an increase of expenditure on Primary Education. It has been found by experience that it is not easy for a Local Government to resist the strong claims which are made upon its resources by those who are interested in desirable improvements and who can make themselves heard. Primary Education in Bengal is in a very unsatisfactory state—more so, in some respects at least, than in other parts of India—and yet the demand for reform is less clamorous than with regard to matters of less importance. The subject has been attracting our attention for some time, and schemes have been formed for the development of Primary Education, in respect of which we had a strong hope that the Government of India would give us some assistance, and which we could not have carried out without the substantial contribution which has now been made to our finances. It has been pointed out already that the money will be mainly spent on buildings for primary schools, which are worse in Bengal than any I have seen in almost any other part of India; in helping primary education among Muhammadans; in carrying out the effective scheme for rural primary schools; in providing training schools for primary teachers; and in a substantial increase of the subordinate inspecting agency. Our hopes as to receiving substantial assistance have been more than realised; and we trust that there is now before us an era of progress and development in Primary Education.

"It has been pointed out by the Hon'ble Mr. Shirres that the provincial grants for Education in this Province have very materially increased of late years. While we are pushing on primary education, we do not intend to neglect our duty in regard to the higher stages of education. I do not, however, intend to detain the Council by remarks on this subject. All that I need say is this, that I am greatly encouraged by seeing the attention which is being paid throughout the province generally to Secondary Education on approved lines, and also by the interest which is being taken in the development of University Education. I think it is a cause for great satisfaction that there is so much of a spirit of co-operation among official and non-official teachers and others interested in University Education in regard to the drawing up of the regulations for the new University. I am glad also to find the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu taking this opportunity of giving his support to the Ranchi College scheme, and of suggesting improvements in the Presidency College on lines which commend themselves thoroughly to me. I congratulate the Ranchi College Committee on the subscriptions which have been made practically unsolicited towards the scheme. No great effort has yet been made to raise subscriptions, and yet they have nearly reached rupees two lakhs. I am sure that the scheme appeals to the feeling of many throughout the Province, who desire a sound University education for their sons. As to the suggestions made regarding the Presidency College, I shall see that they receive early and careful consideration from the educational authorities. That very considerable improvement is required in regard to the important matters of accommodation for the students and bringing them more into contact with their Professors I have no doubt whatever; and I shall be very glad to consider, in consultation with my official advisers and with others interested in higher education, the steps which should be taken to secure such improvement.

"I should like to say that I sympathise very much with what has fallen from my hon'ble friend Mr. Larmour regarding technical and industrial education. It has been pointed out to him by the Hon'ble Mr. Carnduff that the matter has certainly not been entirely neglected, and that interest in it and attention to it are increasing. It is a matter which receives anxious consideration at the hands of this Government. I have been interested by the remarks which have been made by the Hon'ble Babu Saligram Singh regarding the Temple Medical School at Patna. He is anxious to have it raised to the status of a College, so that Biharis may be induced to avail themselves of a higher medical education and prepare themselves for the higher grades of the medical service or profession. I need hardly say how deeply I sympathise with him in this desire of his. But he will understand quite easily that it is impossible to give him any definite promise at the present time. It is necessary that such a question as this should be very carefully considered. It is by no means without difficulty. Three important points have to be considered. The first is the effect which would be produced on the attendance at the school or college by raising the educational standard of admission. It would, I fear, be impossible to lower the standard of admission to Medical Colleges generally, so as to meet the case of this Bihari College; and I am afraid that there might be some difficulty in getting a sufficient number of students for a Medical College at Patna possessing the prescribed educational qualifications. This is a matter to be enquired into before any decision on the question can be arrived at. Another point is whether the expenditure which will be required for securing the Professors necessary to teach medicine and surgery in the College would be justified by the probabilites in respect of the outturn of men qualified to be graduates in medicine. This also requires enquiry and consideration. Thirdly, there is the fear that the opportunities for clinical instruction in the hospitals of Patna are not adequate for the training of graduates in medicine. As the Hon'ble Member is well aware, I have recently taken steps greatly to improve the hospital which is connected with the Temple Medical School at Patna; but I am not certain that it is even now adequate for the purposes of a college. There are great advantages in having medical education imparted in a great city where there are first rate hospitals. At the same time as I have said I sympathise with the object that the Hon'ble Member has before him; and the suggestions which he has made will receive the fullest consideration.

"Before leaving the subject of Education I should like to say one word about the Resolution regarding Primary Education published last month, which has been referred to by more than one Hon'ble Member. I have received already many criticisms of that Resolution. On the scheme as a whole criticisms are generally favourable. There is, however, one point to which special exception is taken, namely, the proposal to prescribe text-books not only in the different languages of the province, but also in the different dialects prevailing in different districts. The object which the Committee, which was appointed to report on this subject, had before them, was to simplify Primary Education for the rural population, to render the text-books and means of instruction more intelligible to country people. I need not refer to the altogether baseless insinuation that there was any intention of breaking up the languages of Bengal, and of establishing what has been figuratively called an educational tower of Babel. The object of the Committee was entirely sound. Whether their proposal was sound or not, is another question. Their judgment may have been at fault. In regard to that point, as well as in regard to other features of the scheme, the frankest criticism was invited by the Government. The remarks which have been made by Hon'ble Members to-day will be carefully considered, in connection with the many other temperate representations which have been received in regard to this matter; and I earnestly trust that we shall be led to a decision which will be to the advantage of the people and commend itself to the intelligent sentiment of those who are interested in Education.

"I should like to turn for a moment to the remarks which have been made by the Hon'ble Mr. Larmour regarding the 'paying ward' in the Presidency General Hospital. This was a matter in which my predecessor, the late Sir John Woodburn, was very deeply interested. It was brought to my notice very soon after I assumed charge of my present office by my friend Sir Montague Turner. I have received very substantial financial assistance from the European community; and I am now able to carry out the project. It is a pleasure to me to think that it has commended itself to the Council. The suggestion which has been made by the Hon'ble Raja Ban Behari Kapur that a similar 'paying ward' should be attached (say) to the Medical College Hospital for the reception of Indian patients, is one which commends itself to my sympathetic consideration. I know, from enquiries which I have already made, that many patients coming in from the country for treatment in Calcutta are not only compelled to incur great expenditure for house accommodation as well as for professional fees, but are also exposed to very undesirable conditions in respect of their surroundings while under treatment. I should like very much therefore to do something in the way of providing either a paying ward attached to one of our best hospitals, or a nursing home, where such patients from the interior or even perhaps from the city itself might be accommodated. If a reasonable scheme can be devised, I shall be very glad to assist in respect of the initial cost, the charges of maintenance of the institution being of course met by payments made by the patients. I shall immediately appoint a Committee of European Doctors and of representative Indian gentlemen to consider the matter and see whether they can propose a reasonable scheme.

"I should like also to say one word in regard to what Mr. Apcar has said about the Calcutta Nurses' Institution. I am quite ready to agree to an increase in the maximum contribution from Government towards this most valuable institution from 37½ thousand rupees to fifty thousand rupees, on the same condition as exists at present, namely, that the Government pays Rs. 3 for every rupee subscribed. As to the proposal that a contribution should be made from the Hospital Port Dues Fund, I do not, as at present advised, see any objection. Section 50 of the Indian Port Act, 1889, seems to me to authorise such contribution. The matter however requires further consideration. I should be glad if the Hon'ble Member, as President of the Institution, will formally apply for a contribution.

"Before leaving the discussion of medical subjects I should like to say that the remarks which have been made about the mortality from malaria have not fallen on unsympathetic ears. The matter already engages our attention. I shall not discuss it now; but I promise that we shall not fail to do what seems to us possible to wrestle with this powerful enemy.

"Another subject to which I should like to refer is the grant which has been made to District and Local Boards by the Government of India. The grant is approximately equal to one quarter of the amount which these Boards derive from local cesses on land. The allotment to this Province is 12½ lakhs. The assignment from Imperial to Provincial revenues will be a fixed one, whereas the future assignments to the Boards, being calculated at one quarter of their receipts from cesses on land, will necessarily undergo a gradual increase. I have no doubt that the Local Government will be able to meet from its growing revenues the small additional expenditure involved. At the outset the distribution of the grants will be at the discretion of the Local Government; since some Boards may at present be found to be in a financial position which would render it unnecessary to give them the full additional 25 per cent. on their land cess receipts, while others again may be able to spend with advantage more than the amount which would fall to them under a system of proportionate distribution. Later on, however, it is intended to make the distribution rateably to all Boards. The financial history of the Boards in Bengal illustrates the danger of assigning stationary or inelastic revenues to meet expanding charges. The result has been that the financial position of the Boards has been exceedingly unsatisfactory. There has been a tendency on the part of some of the Boards, which it has been very difficult for Government to resist, to divert the Road Cess to purposes for which it was not intended. Instructions have frequently been issued to prevent this; and grants have been given to the Boards during recent years which have in the aggregate amounted to more than the sums thus diverted. But these grants have not been systematically made; nor has it been possible to resist the diversion of funds by some of the Boards. This matter will now be effectively dealt with and disposed of on right and equitable lines with something like finality. The Boards will now be able to make more adequate provision for communications, medical relief, schools, water-supply and sanitation, and veterinary aid to cattle. More interest will be attached to the administration of local affairs; and no doubt more effective work will be done. I earnestly trust that this measure will give a very marked impulse to Local Self-Government. Perhaps I may be permitted here again to say that one of the objects of the Local Self-Government is policy, to secure the co-operation of Government officers, local bodies and the public-spirited among the people. I well remember the discussions when the great development in Local Self-Government took place some years ago. I was deeply interested in the matter; and I happened to occupy a Secretariat position in my old Province which gave me a great deal of work to do in connection with it. The co-operation of the Government, the local leaders of the people, and the beneficent among the people themselves, was one of the principal objects which promoters of the scheme had before them. There are matters which must be dealt with by the Government alone; there are other matters which must now be dealt with by the Local Boards; and there are private charities with which neither can interfere. But there are many matters in which two or more of the three agencies for good in the country, to which I have referred, may well co-operate together.

"I should like to say one word about Municipal matters in Calcutta. I do not think it necessary to refer to the remarks that have been made about the views of the Local Government in regard to the work of the Corporation during the last year. What it has been necessary for me to say has been fully enough said. Neither do I consider it necessary to add anything to what has been said by the Hon'ble Mr. Shirres about the possibility of giving a provincial grant for the improvement of Calcutta. I shall only say one wor[illegible] about the remarks made by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu and the Hon'ble Mr. Greer about decentralisation of Municipal work in Calcutta. I cannot at present stand committed to any view in regard to this most [illegible]ortant, [illegible] spita subject. Primâ facie, it is undoubtedly desirable to decentralise. The work is enormous; and we lose a great deal of local agency by endeavouring to do the work by the central authority only. Clearly, however, the question is not a simple one, and requires very serious consideration. I have already therefore taken steps to appoint a representative Committee of experienced officers and non-officials to advise me on this matter. I have also asked one of its members to study the question in London, Berlin and Paris, and see what has been done in these great cities in the way of decentralisation of Municipal work. When the report of the Committee has been received, I shall proceed to deal with the matter as promptly as possible.

"I come now to the important subject of the improvement of Police. It is a matter of great satisfaction to me that all the most important proposals of the Police Commission have been practically accepted by the Government of India and the Secretary of State. They involve very great expenditure. Necessary reform would have been impossible to Local Governments without assistance from Imperial finances; and I am glad that the same spirit which led the Government of Lord Curzon to appoint the Police Commission to make a thorough and comprehensive enquiry into the condition of the Police. has also led to their rendering substantial assistance to Local Governments in carrying out the reforms which had been found to be necessary. The Government of Bengal has received a recurring grant of Rs. 12 lakhs per annum to enable it to meet the additional expenditure on Police arising out of the recommendations of the Commission. The Hon'ble Mr. Carlyle has explained to you how this money is to be utilised; and I shall not trouble you with further details in this matter. Our proposals have so far been already worked out; and we shall begin to carry them into effect as soon as possible.

" Passing from these details, however, I desire very briefly to refer to certain criticisms which have been made about the proposals of the Commission in respect of European officers and the formation of a Provincial Service. I heard on Wednesday my hon'ble friend the Maharaja of Darbhanga express his regret 'that it has been found necessary to close the doors of the new Imperial Police Service to Indians and to relegate them to a Provincial Service with the designation of Deputy Superintendent of Police.' What one would gather from such a statement as this is, that the Police Commission had recommended a retrograde measure, that they have proposed to exclude Indians from positions which they now occupy and to employ them less freely in the superior grades of the police. The Maharaja knew better; and he had doubtless no intention of saying anything of the kind. It is not to be wondered at, however, that such an impression should be created; and it has found utterance in the remarks of some of the Hon'ble Members of this Council. I think, however, that a perusal of the report of the Police Commission will show that this is entirely a misconception. I should like first of all to state the case as it at present stands. We have a few Inspectors of Police promoted to the charge of districts: one or two in some of the provinces. But these gentlemen are promoted from the lower grades of the service generally at a time of life when the energy that is required for police work in a district can hardly be expected of them. At the very end of their service, when they might reasonably hope to be allowed lighter work which would tax less their physical frame, they are promoted to work of a most exacting kind. This plan has not worked either to the satisfaction or to the credit of the force. Men have been promoted to be Superintendents too late to rise to any but the lowest grades, and too late to discharge satisfactorily the duties of the office. What the Commission proposed was that a Provincial Service should be created similar to the Provincial Service which has answered so admirably in the executive work of districts; that Indian gentlemen of education and position, or of approved service, should be appointed Deputy Superintendents of Police on pay ranging from Rs. 250 to Rs. 500; and that officers should be selected from amongst these for promotion to the charge of districts on pay running from Rs. 600 to 900. This is a new departure altogether. It is the creation of such a service as ought to secure some of our best Indian gentlemen for police work, just as the Provincial Service has secured a class of men for district work, generally so admirable. The Government of India have fully accepted these proposals of the Police Commission, with this exception that they have decided that promotion to district charges cannot be allowed until fitness is fully established. I have no objection to raise against this proviso. I believe that many a good scheme is wrecked from being carried out too hastily. I am quite confident that men will be found fit for the charge of districts among Deputy Superintendents; and I am, by no means, unwilling to postpone pressing for their appointment until their fitness is fully established. On the other hand I am clearly of opinion that for the present at least the great majority of our Superintendents must be Europeans. As the country moves forward and caste, religious, and race prejudices and antipathies become less accentuated, it will no doubt be possible to increase the number of Indian Superintendents. But surely the best plan for securing all this, is to say that so long as we require Europeans we shall recruit them on a method which will secure the best Europeans we can get; and we shall pay them salaries which would induce good men to leave their own country and incur the disadvantages and increased expenditure of service abroad. At the same time, while we shall hold out inducements to Indians that will be fully adequate to secure good men of that class, it is unnecessary to pay them as much as we must pay Europeans; and the mere fact that they will draw less pay will be a permanent inducement to Government to increase the number of Indian Superintendents as soon as men of established fitness are found available. I confess I find myself unable to accept as deserved the adverse criticisms which these proposals have received from those who profess to be animated by a desire to advance the interests of the Indian people and of efficient police administration.

"In conclusion I should like to say one word in regard to the abolition of competition for the Provincial Service. There is no doubt that the progress of education has rendered it possible to demand high educational qualifications from candidates for the Provincial Service. The state of things which existed before the Bengal Government dealt with the question of recruitment for this service in its last Resolution was this. There was a competitive examination. Only three candidates were selected purely by competition after necessary enquiries had been made in regard to their physical fitness and their moral character. Other candidates were appointed not by competition but merely by selection from amongst candidates who had qualified at this examination. It seemed to me and to a very large body of officials and non-official gentlemen (the majorty of whom were Indians) whom I consulted, that it was quite unnecessary to have a special competitive examination in a province where we had only one University, and that the better plan would be to appoint candidates not because they have qualified in the special test but because they have qualified in the University. It is far better evidence of educational fitness and of strength of character to hold a degree in a University than to qualify in a single competitive examination. So that men might feel that it was possible to fight their own way into the service, we agreed to request the Syndicate of the University to assist us in the selection of three candidates who should be the best candidates of their year in the University. For the rest, instead of leaving the selection to the Lieutenant-Governor and his staff at head-quarters, we called upon the Commissioners to nominate candidates who had obtained University degrees, so that men might be appointed who had not only shown what we regard to be a better educational qualification than the mere passing of a competitive examination, but who should also be known to responsible officers as men likely to make good public servants. That is the change which has been introduced in Bengal; and it has been introduced with the full approval of the Government of India. It seems to me that the result will necessarily be to encourage education, and in all human probability to secure a better class of Government servants. The picture drawn by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu of the development of sycophancy under this scheme does not alarm me much. It proceeds from failure to appreciate how good students are watched in the neighbourhood of their homes; and it implies a lower estimate of the character of Indian gentlemen in the mufassal and of their relations with local officers than I am prepared to accept.

"The Council will now be adjourned to a date to be notified hereafter."

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

DRAFT RULES.

Rule I.—The operations under the Glanders and Farcy Act, 1899, in Calcutta and within the Municipalities and area referred to above, shall be under the direction of the Superintendent or other officer in charge of the Bengal Civil Veterinary Department; and all Inspectors and Veterinary Practitioners duly appointed under the Act, and members of the Veterinary Preventive force appointed to assist the Inspectors and Veterinary Practitioners in carrying out the purposes and objects of this Act, shall be under the control of the said Superintendent or other officer in charge of the said Department.

Rule II.—The owner or person in charge of a horse which he believes, or has reason to believe, to be diseased within the meaning of section 2 (1) of the Act, shall report the case within twenty-four hours to an Inspector appointed under the Act or to a Police Officer who shall at once give information of the case to an Inspector appointed under the Act. Such owner or person shall also, if practicable, remove the animal to some isolated building within 50 yards of the stable, building, shed, enclosed place, open lines or other place where the animal has been standing, or to a remote part of such stable, building, shed, enclosed place, open lines or other place. He shall also keep it as far away from other horses as possible. The Inspector appointed under the Act shall also detain in such place any horse which has been in contact with or near the diseased animal or in the same stable, building, shed, enclosed place, open lines or other place until a license for its removal is granted in the form given in Schedule No. II attached to these rules.

Rule III.—An Inspector appointed under the Act may enter and search any enclosure, field, building or other place for the purpose of ascertaining whether there is therein any horse which is diseased; and, as far as practicable, he shall conduct his search in the presence of the owner of the horse or of the person in charge of the horse or of the building, field, enclosure or other place in which the horse is kept. The Inspector shall, if required to do so, before entering and searching any such building, field, enclosure, or other place, show the certificate of his appointment, which shall be in the form given in Schedule No. V attached to these rules.

Rule IV.—If an Inspector appointed under the Act believes, or has reason to believe, that the owner or person in charge of a horse is absenting himself in order to evade the provisions of the Act, or the rules framed thereunder, or if the Inspector meets with resistance or obstruction, he may nevertheless enter for the purpose of search any building, field, enclosure or other place, in which he believes, or has reason to believe, that a diseased horse is kept, provided that he be accompanied by not less than two members of the Veterinary Preventive Force.

Rule V.—Subject to the provisions of the two last rules, an Inspector appointed under the Act shall seize, and may hand over to a member of the Veterinary Preventive force for detention, any horse which he believes, or has reason to believe, to be diseased. As soon as possible and with due care to prevent contagion to other horses and human beings, such horse shall be removed to the Contagious Diseases Hospital at Belgachia, there to be dealt with in accordance with the provisions of the Act. Any horse thus seized may be detained in the said hospital for as long as may be necessary, and may be subjected to any recognised test or tests.

Rule VI—The Contagious Diseases (Animals) Hospital attached to the Government Veterinary College at Belgachia will be ordinarily used as a place for isolating, examining, treating or otherwise dealing with animals seized, under section 7, clauses (1) and (2) of the Act.

Rule VII.—When an Inspector appointed under the Act seizes a horse under section 6 of the Act, he shall present to the owner or person in charge of it a printed copy of these rules. If such Inspector is a Veterinary Practitioner appointed under the Act, and the horse is found on examination to be diseased, he shall also present to such owner or person a certificate in the form given in Schedule No. I attached to these rules. If the Inspector is not a Veterinary Practitioner appointed under the Act, and if the horse is found on examination by such a practitioner to be diseased, he shall, as soon as practicable, procure from such practitioner a certificate of the nature referred to and serve a copy of it on the said owner or person in charge of the horse. Should the owner or person in charge be absent at the time of seizure, the documents referred to shall be nailed on to a prominent place within or without the premises where the seizure took place.

Rule VIII.—If the Veterinary Practitioner certifies under section 8 (1) of the Act that a horse is diseased, it shall be destroyed humanely in the presence of an Inspector appointed under the Act, and the carcass shall be disposed of in the presence of a member of the Veterinary Preventive Force.

Rule IX.—If, after completing the examination, the Veterinary Practitioner does not certify that a horse is diseased, he shall restore it to the owner or his agent at once, if he is present; and the expenses incurred shall be debited to Government. If, however, the owner or his agent is absent, due notice in the form given in Schedule No. IV, attached to these rules, shall be at once served upon the owner or his agent to remove the animal within seven days. This notice may be served either personally or by leaving it at the owner's or agent's last known residence or place of business; and in the latter case, a copy of it shall be posted at the police-station in the jurisdiction of which the animal was seized. If the animal is not removed within the prescribed period of seven days, it may be dealt with in one of the following ways, namely:—

(a) The animal may be sold to defray expenses. In that case any balance that may remain may be kept at the owner's disposal for two months, after which time it shall be the property of Government.
(b) The animal may be sent to the Pinjrapole.
(c) The animal may be destroyed.

Rule X.—When a horse or carcass, which is diseased or believed to be diseased, is about to be removed to another place for examination, slaughter, burial, cremation or any other lawful purpose, the owner or person in charge of such horse or carcass shall attach a suitable covering over its muzzle and to any part of its body from which contagious or infectious matter may escape, so as to minimise danger from contact during removal.

Rule XI.—If a diseased horse dies, the owner or the person in charge of it shall, as soon as possible and with all due care to prevent contagion to other horses and human beings, cause the carcass to be taken to a suitable place to be there burnt or buried or otherwise destroyed in the safest and most efficacious manner practicable. The means to be adopted shall be decided in each case by an Inspector appointed under the Act and shall be recorded in writing; and the work shall be carried out under the supervision of a member of the Veterinary Preventive Force.

Rule XII.—The owner or person in charge of infected articles or places shall be responsible for carrying out the following orders as soon as possible after the issue of a notice by an Inspector under section 9 of the Act:—

(i) Every piece of stable gear shall be destroyed by fire, except iron-work, which shall be made red hot.
(ii) The roofs of buildings shall be well cleaned and freed from all dust and cobwebs.
(iii) The walls shall be scraped, the wooden mangers and feeding boxes shall be burnt, and all woodwork which has been within reach of horses shall be carefully washed with soft soap and hot water, mixed with crude carbolic acid or phenyle in the proportion of one part of acid or phenyle to twenty parts of water.

(iv) The floor, if of mud or brick, shall be dug up for a depth of at least eight inches, and if urine has percolated to a greater depth, to that depth; and fresh material shall be laid down. If the floor is of cement, and is in good repair, it shall be treated in the same way as the walls; but, if it is not in good repair, it shall be treated as provided in this rule.

(v) All refuse derived from cleansing, and any dung, litter, straw, grass or hay shall be taken to a suitable place and shall be burnt. Any material left after burning shall be buried according to orders issued by an Inspector appointed under the Act.

(vi) All buildings shall be thoroughly whitewashed with good lime and water, to which five per cent. of crude carbolic acid or phenyle has been added.

(vii) Temporary stables of straw, grass or similar materials shall be pulled down, removed to a suitable place and burnt, the floor being treated in the manner prescribed in sub-clause (iv) above.

(viii) The woodwork of carts shall be thoroughly scraped, washed with soap and hot water containing five per cent. of crude carbolic acid or phenyle, and exposed to the sun for two days, after which the treatment shall be repeated.

(ix) The poles or shafts, dash-boards and other parts of carriages with which a diseased animal has come into contact shall be washed with soap and hot water containing five per cent. of crude carbolic acid or phenyle, the paint being scraped off and fresh paint being applied. The rest of the vehicle shall be thoroughly washed with soap and hot water containing one part of crude carbolic acid or phenyle to twenty parts of water.

Provided that, for reasons given in writing, an Inspector appointed under the Act may prescribe any other method of disinfection which the special circumstances of a particular case may require.

Rule XIII.—The owner or person in charge of a vessel, railway truck or any other conveyance which has been used for the transport of a diseased horse shall, within 24 hours of receipt of a notice issued under section 9 of the Act, have the said vessel, railway truck or conveyance and all the fittings thereof disinfected. In the case of vessels, the rules laid down in sub-clauses (i), (ii), (iii), (v) and (vi) of Rule XII shall be observed as far as applicable. The floor shall be treated in the manner prescribed in sub-clause (iii) of that rule in regard to walls; and all battens shall be removed and burnt.

Rule XIV.—All stables, buildings, carts, carriages, or vessels which have been disinfected under Rule XII shall be examined after disinfection by an Inspector appointed under the Act; and the owner or the person in charge of such stables, buildings, carts, carriages or vessels shall give him all reasonable facilities for so doing. If the Inspector is not satisfied that the work of disinfection has been thoroughly done, he may pass such orders as he may consider necessary for the proper disinfection of the stables, etc., and the owner or person in charge of such stables, etc., shall be bound to carry out such orders without delay.

Rule XV.—The entire cost of carrying out the provisions of the rules under the Act shall be borne by the owner or the person in charge of the horse in respect of which a Veterinary Practitioner appointed under the Act has given a certificate that it was diseased; and the cost shall be recoverable as a fine. The account rendered to the owner or person in charge of the horse shall be in the form given in schedule No. III attached to these rules. A part or the whole of the costs may, however, be remitted and debited to Government by the Superintendent of the Civil Veterinary Department, if it is proved to his satisfaction that the debtor has executed promptly and thoroughly all the duties laid upon him by the Act.

Rule XVI.—In the event of obstruction, the Police shall be bound, on the written application of an Inspector, Veterinary Practitioner, or a member of the Veterinary Preventive force, to render such officers such assistance as may be necessary to enable them to perform duly their duties under the Act.

Rule XVII.—An Inspector appointed under the Act or a member of the Veterinary Preventive force, unless he is a gazetted or a commissioned officer, shall wear a distinctive departmental uniform when on duty, except in special cases in which he holds a written authority from the Superintendent, Civil Veterinary Department, that he is exempted from the obligation so to do.

Rule XVIII.—Except as provided in these rules, no person shall intentionally or negligently cause or permit any diseased horse to stray or to be worked, led or driven, in a public thoroughfare, road, street or place.

Rule XIX.—Whoever refuses or neglects to comply with, or commits a breach of, any rule framed under this Act shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month, or with a fine which may extend to fifty rupees, or with both.

NOTE.—Under section 2 (2) of the Act, these rules apply also to asses and mules.

No. 1964.—The 11th April 1905.—The Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased generally to accept the recommendations made by the Committee appointed to consider the question of commercial education at the Presidency College, Calcutta, and to direct that the following prospectus, showing the courses of study, the examinations, the rates of fees, and other cognate matters, as now provisionally decided upon, be published for general information:—

Courses of study and delivery of lectures.

(1) Arrangements have been made for instruction and examination in two different courses of study—one to be a complete course every part of which shall be obligatory, and the other to consist of a series of lectures or classes all or any of which may be attended at option. The lectures in the former course shall be delivered during the day, while those in the latter shall be delivered in the evening only.

Day course.

(2) The following shall be the subjects prescribed for the day course:—

(i) English (modern), and especially English correspondence, including commercial correspondence, letter-drafting and précis-writing;

(ii) arithmetic, including commercial and mental arithmetic;

(iii) one of the following languages, namely, Bengali, Hindi, Urdu, Uriya, French, German or Latin;

(iv) one of the following subjects, namely, book-keeping, shorthand-writing or type-writing; and

(v) commercial history and geography.

The course shall extend over a period of two years, at the end of which an examination shall be held in the prescribed subjects, in all of which the candidates will be required to pass. No candidate will be allowed to pass unless his answers on every subject are written in a good, legible handwriting.

Evening course.

(3) The following shall be the subjects prescribed for the evening course:—

(i) outlines of political economy;

(ii) banking and currency;

(iii) commercial and industrial law;

(iv) annuities and insurance;

(v) book-keeping;

(vi) shorthand-writing;

(vii) type-writing; and

(viii) English (modern).

In these subjects special examinations shall be held, candidates being allowed to take up each separately and to obtain certificates of having passed in it.

Award of certificates and publication of results.

(4) Certificates shall be awarded by the Education Department to students passing the examinations, and shall require endorsement by the Secretary to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, and lists of successful candidates, without classification, shall be published by that Chamber and by the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce.

Admission.

(5) There will be no age-limit for candidates for either course.

Candidates who have passed the "C class" Examination of High Schools or the Entrance Examination will be eligible for admission to the day course; but others will be admitted only if they satisfy the Education Department, by passing a preliminary test-examination of a similar standard, that they have sufficient general education to enable them to derive advantage from the lectures. Candidates who have not attended the lectures in the day course, will be allowed to compete at the examination only if they have passed the Entrance or the "C class" Examination or satisfied the Education Department, by passing a preliminary test-examination, that they have a reasonable prospect of success. The form of certificate to be issued to students who have passed this examination, as laid down in paragraph (2) above, shall show whether the student has passed the "C class" or Entrance Examination or not and also whether he has duly attended the lectures prescribed for the day course. Those only who have passed the "C class" or Entrance Examination, and after attending the full day course of lectures have passed the prescribed examination, will be considered to be eligible for the full commercial certificate.

Candidates who have attended the lectures in the day course, will be eligible for admission to the evening course and allowed to compete at the examinations; but others will be admitted and allowed to compete only if they satisfy the Education Department by passing a preliminary test-examination that they have sufficient general education to enable them to derive advantage from the lectures, or that they have a reasonable prospect of success, as the case may be. The certificates issued on the result of the examination in this course, as laid down in paragraph (3) above, shall show whether the students have attended the lectures prescribed for the day course and have passed such examination and also whether they have attended the evening course of lectures.

Fees.

(6) The fees shall not exceed Rs. 3 per mensem payable for the whole school year for the entire day course, and the like sum for each series of fifteen lectures in the evening course on—

(i) banking and currency;

(ii) commercial and industrial law;

(iii) annuities and insurance;

(iv) English (modern).

The fee for each course of thirty-two lectures on the outlines of political economy shall be Rs. 5.

As the evening lectures on book-keeping, shorthand-writing, and type-writing will be on advanced portions of those subjects and will continue over a considerable period, the fee for each course shall be Rs. 10.

(7) The setting of the papers for the examinations will be left to an Examination Board, which shall be constituted for the purpose by the Director of Public Instruction, and upon which the Education Department, the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce shall be represented.

Prizes.

(8) Three gold medals, offered by the Remington Type-writer Company, shall be awarded on the results of the examination on the evening course of lectures on type-writing to the three students awarded the highest marks for efficiency.

Should any other prizes be offered hereafter, the fact will be announced and the terms on which they are offered for competition published in due course.

Opening of classes.

(9) The evening course of lectures on political economy began on the 7th March last. The new classes in the day course will be opened next June.

2. The Government of Bengal will be prepared to consider applications for grants-in-aid, which will probably take the form of contributions towards the salaries of the necessary lecturers, to enable other colleges and high schools to introduce schemes of education on the lines laid down in the case of the Presidency College by the prospectus above; but these will be dealt with separately and considered on their merits as they are received.

3. Four scholarships, of Rs. 16, Rs. 12, Rs. 8, and Rs. 8 per mensem, tenable for two years, respectively, are, under existing arrangements, available for candidates admitted to the day course who have passed the "C class" Examination; and candidates who have obtained similar scholarships at the Entrance Examination will be permitted to hold them during the day course.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

ESTABLISHMENT.

The 8th April 1905.

No. 88.—Mr. C. A. White, Officiating Sanitary Engineer, is appointed to officiate as Superintending Engineer of the Central Circle, in addition to his own duties, vice Mr. W. B. Gwyther, Superintending Engineer, on deputation.

M. J. SCOBIE,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

The 7th April 1905.

No. 46 Marine.—Under the powers conferred upon him by section 36 of the Indian Steam-ships Act, 1884, and in supersession of the rules sanctioned under notification No. 122 Marine, dated the 4th September 1902, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules to regulate the granting of certificates of competency to Engineers of sea-going steam-ships.

W. A. INGLIS,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

General Rules.

1. Certificates of competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose Examiners have been appointed and arrangements have been made for holding the examinations periodically at the Port of Calcutta. The examinations will be held whenever necessary or at such other times as the Government may appoint.

Certificates of competency granted to persons who pass requisite examinations.

2. The application for examination is to be made on Form Exn. 3, which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Form, Exn. 3, properly filled in, together with the candidate's Indentures of Apprenticeship, testimonials, and discharges, must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination. As such testimonials may have to be verified before the candidate can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in together with the Form Exn. 3, as early as possible.

Application how to be made.

The Port Officer should be particularly careful to ascertain that there are no gaps in the candidate's service which are not properly accounted for before he is allowed up for examination.

3. In cases where the services of a candidate require verification, or where he is in doubt whether his service complies with the regulations, and wishes to submit his case for special consideration, all certificates, discharges and testimonials, together with the form of application* properly* filled in, should be submitted to the Port Officer, who will either deal with the case or transmit it to the Government for decision.

How to apply in special cases.

4. All other enquiry regarding examinations should be made and dealt with in the same way. The point on which information is sought should be clearly stated and certificates, discharges, testimonials, etc., should be forwarded when they are material to the enquiry.

Inquiries.

5. All candidates will be required to produce, in addition to the official discharge certificates, testimonials as to their workshop service and as to their service at sea. The testimonials as to workshop service must be signed by the employer and must testify to the candidate's conduct and ability, and state what kind of work he was engaged on (e.g., fitting, erecting, etc.), and for how long.

Testimonials; shore service.

6 Testimonials as to service at sea must testify to the applicant's sobriety, experience, ability, and general good conduct for at least the last twelve months' service at sea preceding the date of application to be examined. They must be signed by the Master and Chief Engineer (or, in the case of testimonials to Chief Engineers, by the Master and Superintending Engineer), and must clearly state whether the applicant was on regular watch, and in regular charge of a watch on the main engines or boilers. It is desirable that testimonials of candidates should be endorsed by the Superintending Engineer. No time spent in clerical work will be allowed to count.

Further as to testimonials.

7. In cases where a testimonial from the Chief Engineer, or from the Master, is for any sufficient reason not obtainable, one may be submitted from the Superintending Engineer in place of that of the Chief Engineer, and one from the Managing Owner or Secretary or Chairman of a large Company in place of that of the Master, but in every such instance the testimonial must declare that the facts stated are in accordance with the reports made by the Chief Engineer or the Master, as the case may be, or else that the facts are within the writer's personal knowledge.

Physical defects.

8. When a candidate is observed to be hard of hearing, or is labouring under any other obvious physical defect, the signatories of his testimonials are required to mention that defect specifically, and to state whether it in any way interfered with the efficiency of the candidate as an engineer on watch. When these modified testimonials are such as to completely satisfy the examiner that the defect is not such as to interfere with the efficient discharge of the applicant's duties as engineer, the examination is proceeded with; otherwise the case is referred to the Government. Candidates afflicted with nervous impediment in speech may write their answers to viva-voce questions.

Testimonials of Foreigners.

9. The testimonials of service of Foreign Engineers and of British Engineers serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognized official authority of that country; or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government.

Certificate as to age.

10. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate he will be required to produce a Certificate of Birth or Baptism.

Foreigners to know English.

11. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel.

Verification of service, &c., by articles.

12. Service which cannot be verified by proper entries in the Articles of the Ships in which the candidates have served cannot be counted.

Issue of certificate.

13. If the candidate passes he will receive a form (Form Exn. 16) authorizing the Port Officer to whom it is addressed to issue the Certificate. The candidate's testimonials and other papers will be returned to him when the examination is finished. It is therefore important that the port at which the Certificate is to be issued should be the same on both the Form Exn. 16 and the form of application Exn. 3. If circumstances should make any alteration necessary, the Examiner should see that it is made in both forms; otherwise delay in the issue of the Certificate may be caused.

Service found to be insufficient.

14. If after a candidate has passed the examination it is discovered on further investigation that his services are insufficient to entitle him to receive a Certificate of the grade for which he has passed, the Certificate will not be granted to him; but if the Port Officer is satisfied that the error in the calculation of the candidate's services did not occur through any fault or wilful misrepresentation on his part, he may either have the fee returned to him or have it placed to his credit. Should his services entitle him to a Certificate of a lower grade, it may be granted to him, and the difference, if any, between the fee paid by him for the superior Certificate and the fee payable for the inferior Certificate will be returned to him or placed to his credit.

The Superior Certificate will not be granted until the candidate has performed the amount of service in which he was deficient, and has been re-examined in all the subjects unless the Government see fit to dispense with the re-examination.

Failure examination

15. If the candidate fails in practical knowledge he may not present himself for re-examination until he can produce proofs of three months' further service at sea, as Engineer on watch on the main engines or boilers, from the date of failure. If he fails in arithmetic, elementary questions, or drawing only, he may come up again at any time.

Fee must be paid first.

16. Candidates for examination, in making their application on the Form Exn. 3, will be required to pay the Examination fee before any step is taken towards inquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. If the candidate is found not to be qualified, the fee will either be returned to him or placed to his credit until he is qualified.

Payment of fees.

17. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a candidate offers a gratuity to any other officer and in any place but in the Port Office, the candidate so offering a gratuity will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected, and not allowed to be examined for twelve months either at the Port where the offence was committed or at any other port.

Fees not turned failure.

18. If a candidate fails in his examination, no part of the fee he has paid will be returned to him.

19. The fees are as follows :—

Table of fees.

	Rs.
Second Class Engineer's Certificate ...	15
First Class Engineer's Certificate ...	30
First Class Engineer's Certificate if candidate is already in possession of a Second Class Certificate of Competency granted by the Board of Trade, or by the Government of a British possession under section 8 of the Merchant Shipping (Colonial) Act, 1869	15

Three years in England or four years in India of the apprentice time must have been passed in the fitting or erecting shops, or in both. In calculating the four years in England or five years in India of artisan service, which are to constitute the required apprenticeship, which should not begin at an earlier age than 15, time spent at a technical school (recognized by the Port Officer as suitable) where there is an engineering laboratory, may be taken into account and accepted as equivalent to artisan service, at the ratio of three years in the technical school to two in artisan service, provided that the applicant was over 15 years of age, and can produce the Principal's Certificate for regular attendance and satisfactory progress, and provided also that in such case the other portion of the time was spent in the fitting or erecting shops of an engineer, as indicated above.

Journeyman's time will be considered as equivalent to apprenticeship.

Every applicant must produce testimonials of ability as an engineer workman to the satisfaction of the Government.

If the candidate has not served for four years in England or five years in India as an apprentice Engineer, or as Journeyman, he will be required to have served, in lieu thereof, four years at sea as Engineer on regular watch on the main engines or boilers of a foreign-going steamer of not less than 66 nominal horse-power, or six years in a home-trade steamer of not less than 66 nominal horse-power.

(b) In addition to the apprenticeship as above described, or the alternative sea service, the applicant must have served one year at sea as Engineer on regular watch on the main engines or boilers of a foreign-going steamer of not less than 66 nominal horse-power, or eighteen months in a home-trade steamer of not less than 66 nominal horse-power.

(c) He must be able to give a satisfactory description of boilers, and the methods of staying them, together with the use and management of the different valves, cocks, pipes, and connexions.

(i) He must understand the construction of steering engines, evaporators, feed filters, and feed heaters.

(j) He must understand the construction of centrifugal bucket, and plunger pumps, and the principle on which they act.

(k) He must be able to state how a temporary or permanent repair could be effected in case of derangement of a part of the machinery, or total breakdown.

(l) He must write a legible hand, and have a good knowledge of arithmetic up to and including vulgar and decimal fractions and square and

In the case of England, "foreign-going steamer" includes every steamer employed in trading or going between some place or places situate beyond the following limits, that is to say, the coasts of the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands and Isle of Man, and the Continent of Europe between the River Elbe and Brest, inclusive. "Home-trade steamer" includes every steamer employed in trading or going within the following limits, that is to say, the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands and Isle of Man, and the Continent of Europe between the River Elbe and Brest inclusive.

In the case of India, foreign-going steamer includes every steamer employed in trading between any port of the territories which are or may become vested in His Majesty by the Statutes 21 and 22 Vict., Cap. 106, entitled "An Act for the better government of India," and any port or place not in the said territories, nor on the Continent of India, nor in the Straits Settlements, nor in the Island of Ceylon. "Home-trade steamer" includes every steamer employed in trading between any ports of the said territories or between any port of the said territories and any port or place on the Continent of India or in the Straits Settlements or in the Island of Ceylon.

First Class.

21. FIRST CLASS ENGINEER.—A candidate for a First Class Engineer's Certificate must be not less than 22 years of age.

In addition to the qualification required for a Second Class Engineer,

(a) He must—

(1) have served at sea for 12 months, with a Second Class Certificate of Competency or service as Senior Engineer in charge of a watch on the main engines or boilers of a foreign-going steam-ship of not less than 99 nominal horse power ; or

(2) have served at sea for 18 months, with a Second Class Certificate of Competency, or service as First Engineer of a home-trade steamer of not less than 99 nominal horse-power ; or 2 years as Second Engineer of a home-trade steamer of not less than 99 nominal horse-power, with a Second Class Certificate of Competency, or service ; or

(3) have served 2½ years with a Second Class Certificate of Competency or service as third Engineer of a home-trade steamer of not less than 99 nominal horse-power, if during the whole of that period he has been the senior Engineer in charge of a watch on the main engines and boilers; or

(4) possess or be entitled to a First Class Certificate of service.

(d) He must be able to calculate safety-valve pressures, and the strength of the boilers shell, stays, and riveting.

(e) He must be able to state the general proportions borne by the principal parts of the machinery to each other, and to calculate the direct stress, the torsional stress, and the bending stress in round bars, and the direct stress and the bending stress in rectangular bars with given loads.

(f) He must be able to explain the method of testing and altering the setting of the slide valves, and to sketch about what difference any alteration in the slide valve will make in the indicator diagram, and also the method of testing the fairness of shafts and of adjusting them application of these rules to questions relating to the power, duty and economy of engines and boilers, and to the stresses in rods, shafts and levers of the engine.

(i) He must understand the construction of, and be able to maintain in working condition, the auxiliary machinery which is placed under his charge, viz, refrigerating machinery, electric light engines and dynamos, electric motors fitted to ships' boats, hydraulic machinery, and the various descriptions of steering engines, etc.

Workshop service where engines are not made.

22. When the workshop service has been performed in a place where steam-engines are not made or repaired, and the class of work done is similar to that required in engine making, the service may be accepted with an additional year in the engine-room; that is, four years in England or five years in India of workshop service and two years in the engine-room (of which one year must have been at sea) or one year at sea in the engine room and one year at engine fitting in a suitable marine engine workshop. The approval of the Port Officer must be obtained in every such case before the candidate is examined.

Workshop service other than fitting or erecting.

23. When the workshop service has been performed in a place where engines are made, and the department in which the applicant has been principally engaged is not "fitting" or "erecting," the case must be referred to the Government with a report upon the service performed. If the service be such as is useful training for an Engineer, the Port Officer may accept the service, but in every such case the applicant must prove additional engine-room or marine engine workshop service as required above.

Qualifying service defined.

24. In the case of candidates for First Class Certificates, qualifying service means service on regular watch as senior Engineer in charge of the main engines or boilers. During the whole of the period claimed, candidates must have been in possession of Second Class Certificates.

In the case of candidates for Second Class Certificates, qualifying service means service as Engineer on regular watch on the main engines or boilers. In no case will time spent in clerical work be allowed to count.

Names on articles.

25 In all cases the candidates' names must have been duly entered on the ship's Articles as Engineers in their proper ratings.

Regular watch.

26. Being on regular watch means being on watch for at least eight hours a day.

Further as to qualifying service.

27. Only such service as gives the experience required to make a man thoroughly competent as a sea-going Engineer is accepted as qualifying service. Even for a Second Class Certificate the candidate must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiner that he is qualified by experience and knowledge to act as Chief Engineer in an under-powered steamer of 99 nominal horse-power on a voyage, say, India to Egypt, taking full responsibility for engines and boilers

Sea service.

28. The sea service required by these Regulations is, unless otherwise stated, service performed in foreign-going ships.

Home-trade service.

29. Service in the Home or Coasting Trade is regarded as being equivalent to two-thirds of the same period of time served in the Foreign Trade, except in the case of Indian Coasting Voyages extending beyond a distance of 500 miles from the port of departure in steam-ships commanded by Masters holding Foreign-going Certificates, when such service will count as foreign-voyages, and will be reckoned as full time; but the time spent in the port of departure or Home Port will not be allowed to count. In all cases the length of service is deemed to commence on the date of sailing from the port of departure or Home Port and to end on the date of arrival at the Home Port. Such service must be vouched for in the form laid down in Appendix G.

30. Service as watch-keeper on a lake or river steamer of not less than 66 nominal horse-power may be accepted under the following conditions:— Lake or river service.

(1) the service will only count half as much as sea service, i.e., every two months of lake or river service is only equivalent to one month's sea service;
(2) candidates for second class certificates must prove, in addition to the lake or river service, at least three months' qualifying service at sea in a steam-ship of not less than 66 nominal horse-power;
(3) candidates for first class certificates must prove, in addition to lake or river service in vessels of 99 nominal horse-power, at least six months' qualifying service at sea, with a Second Class Engineer's Certificate, in vessels of not less than 99 nominal horse-power

31. Service performed on board auxiliary screw whalers and other vessels with auxiliary steam-power of not less than 66 nominal horse-power in the capacity of Engineer may be allowed to count towards qualifying candidates for examination for Second Class Engineers' Certificates of Competency to the extent of one-half the time the vessel is actually at sea. If the candidate is able to prove a larger amount of time under steam, he will be allowed to count the whole of such extended time. Service in auxiliary screw steam-ships.

32. Service performed in pilot vessels will not qualify a candidate for examination. Service in pilot boats.

33. Service in sea-going steam dredgers, trawlers, or tug-boats may be accepted under the following conditions:— Two months of such service is only equivalent to one month's qualifying service. Candidates for Second Class Certificates may perform all their sea service in sea-going steam dredgers, trawlers, or tug-boats, but they must have been on regular watch on the main engines or boilers, and the vessels must not be less than 66 nominal horse-power. Candidates for First Class Certificates must have served in vessels of at least 99 nominal horse-power, and have been in charge of a watch on the main engines or boilers. They must, in addition, have served in a qualifying capacity for at least six months in a foreign-going cargo or passenger steam-ship, or nine months in a home-trade cargo or passenger steam-ship. Service in dredgers, trawlers or tug-boats.

34. Service performed in steam yachts, either within or beyond home-trade limits, may be accepted as equivalent to two-thirds of the time performed in foreign-going trading vessels, provided that the candidate's name is entered on the vessel's Articles and that he can prove, to the satisfaction of the Port Officer, that the time claimed was actually served at sea. Service in yachts

Candidates for Second Class Certificates may perform all their service in yachts, but the candidate must have been on regular watch on the main engines or boilers, and the vessel must be of not less than 66 nominal horse-power.

Candidates for First Class Certificates must have served on vessels of not less than 99 nominal horse-power, and must have been in regular charge of the main engines or boilers. In addition they must have served for at least three months in a qualifying capacity on board a foreign-going trading or passenger steam-ship. This additional service will, however, not be required in the case of a candidate who has served for 18 months as first engineer, or for 2 years as second engineer, of a steam yacht of the requisite power.

35. The Government may see fit to allow an applicant who, in consequence of service abroad, has been unable to obtain a Second Class Certificate, to be examined for a First Class Certificate, although he has not obtained a Certificate of the lower grade, provided he is able to satisfy them as to the satisfactory character of his services. If any candidate who has not got a Second Class Certificate of First class Certificate without Second class certificate

Competency fails to pass the examination for the first Class Certificate, but passes that for the lower grade, he may be given a Second Class Certificate of Competency, but no part of the fee will be returned. A candidate who has been permitted to be examined for a First Class Certificate without first obtaining a Second Class Certificate of Competency or service and who fails in his examination in practical knowledge, may not be re-examined for a Certificate of the higher grade until he has served 3 months as watch-keeper with a Second Class Engineer's Certificate of Competency or service as required by the regulations. If the candidate fails altogether, i.e., both in the examination for the lower as well as for the higher grade of Certificate, he may be re-examined for a Second Class Certificate only, subject to the usual regulations relating to failure.

Certificates of service.

36. An officer who has attained the rank of Engineer or Assistant Engineer in His Majesty's Navy or Indian Marine service is entitled without examination, if an Engineer, to a certificate of service as First Class Engineer, and if an Assistant Engineer, to a certificate of service as Second Class Engineer. These officers may be examined for a certificate of competency on the same conditions as Engineers of the Mercantile Marine.

An officer who has attained the rank of Artificer Engineer in His Majesty's Navy or Indian Marine service is also entitled without examination to a certificate of service as Second Class Engineer.

Application of Naval Officers.

37. The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty have directed that applications from officers of the Navy for Certificates of service or for permission to be examined for Certificates of Competency must, in the case of officers on the active list, be made through the Commanding Officer to the Secretary to the Admiralty, and in the case of officers on half pay direct to the Secretary to the Admiralty, who in either case will forward the applications to the Board of Trade.

Masters and Mates' Examination in steam.

38. Particulars of the examination of Masters and Mates in steam will be found in Appendix E.

Certificates.

39. The term Certificate in these Regulations means a Certificate issued by the Board of Trade or by a British Possession under the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act.

Conduct of the Examinations.

Commencement and duration of Examinations.

40. The examinations will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Examiner's list on the day of examination are examined

Examination of engine room Artificers.

41. Chief Engine Room Artificers, and Engine Room Artificers in the Royal Navy, may be examined for Certificates of Competency on the same conditions as Engineers of the Mercantile Marine.

Candidates to be punctual.

42 Candidates are required to appear at the examination room punctually at the time appointed.

43. Before commencing the examination, the tables and desks must be cleared of all scraps of paper or books that are not used in the examination, and care should be taken that the candidates do not bring into the examination room any book or paper.

Strangers not admitted.

44. No persons will be allowed in the rooms during the examinations other than those whose duties require them to be present.

No instructors will be allowed on the premises.

Blotting paper.

45. A sheet of blotting paper will be issued to each candidate with the first examination paper, and it must be returned to the Examiner when the last paper is completed each day. The Examiner will be careful to see that the blotting paper has not been used by the candidate in solving his problems, or for conveying information to other candidates.

All work to be shown.

46. No candidate will be allowed to work out his problems on a slate or on waste paper or to write on the blotting paper supplied for his use in the examination.

. Violation of this rule will subject the candidate to all the penalties of a failure.

Additional sheets of paper will be supplied by the Examiner if required, but they must be attached to, and form part of, the examination papers.

Books and papers strictly forbidden.

47. All books necessary for the use of candidates under examination will be provided by the Government, and candidates are prohibited from bringing into the examination room books or papers of any kind whatever. The slightest infringement of this regulation will subject the offender to all the penalties of a failure, and he will not be allowed to present himself for re-examination for a period of three months.

Instruments are provided.

48. Candidates for First Class Certificates have to pass an examination in rough working drawing, which may, in the candidate's option, be either hand sketches clearly dimensioned and complete in the necessary views and sections, or drawings to a scale. Drawing boards and T squares will be provided by the Government, but the applicants will have to bring with them any drawing instruments they may require.

Candidates' places.

49. Candidates should be so placed as to prevent one copying from another, and no communication whatever between the candidates should be allowed.

Penalty for copying, &c.

50. In the event of any candidate being discovered referring to any book or paper, or copying from another, or affording any assistance or giving any information to another, or communicating in any way with another, during the time of examination, or copying any part of the problems for the purpose of taking them out of the examination rooms, he will subject himself to all the penalties of a failure, and will not be allowed to be examined for a period of six months.

Leaving room or building.

51. No candidate may leave the examination room without permission and without giving up the paper on which he is engaged. Under no circumstances will the same paper be returned to him, but the Examiner may substitute other data, or another question.

Injury to books.

52. If a candidate defaces, blots, writes in or otherwise injures any book or form belonging to the Government, his papers will be retained until he has replaced the damaged book or document. He will not be allowed to remove the damaged book or document, and will be subjected to all the penalties of a failure.

Silence.

53. Perfect silence is to be preserved in the examination room.

Penalty for breach of rules.

54. Any candidate violating any of the regulations or being guilty of insolence to the Examiner, or of disorderly or improper conduct in or about the room, wi l render himself liable to the postponement of his examination, or, in the event of his having passed, to the detention of his Certificate for such period as the Government may direct.

Order of examinations.

55. The examination of candidates for Second Class Certificates consists of three parts: arithmetic, elementary questions, and viva voce; and that of candidates for First Class Certificates of four parts: arithmetic, drawing, elementary questions, and viva voce (see paragraphs 21 and 22).

Arithmetic.

56. When the number of marks obtained in arithmetic amounts to 28, that is, two-thirds of the maximum, the candidate passes in arithmetic.

If the marks obtained amount to 21, but not to 28, and if the applicant has had long sea experience, his testimonials should be taken into account, and his examination continued, if deemed advisable by the Examiner, and he may be passed or failed, having due regard to his practical knowledge, and to whether he is being examined for second class or first class.

Elementary questions.

57. All engineer applicants presenting themselves for examination will be required to give written answers to ten questions selected from Elementary Questions shown in Appendix B (not published). These questions are intended to furnish a record to some extent of the candidate's knowledge at the time of his examination, and also to induce the candidates to pay more attention to their handwriting and spelling.

Examiners will require all candidates to fill up a form, Exn. 15b,* and they will forward it to the Port Officer, together with the report of the examination.

The questions for both classes of engineers will be taken from the same series of Elementary Questions; and candidates for first class certificates are expected to show their superiority by giving answers more complete than those of the other candidates.

Viva

58. Having regard to the fact that when the verbal examination is held, the candidate has already passed in arithmetic, and, if a first class candidate, in drawing, and has also written answers to the elementary questions, the Examiners will deal with practical, rather than theoretical questions in this division of the examination; and no candidate should be failed without having been well cross-questioned on the points for which failure takes place.

Moreover in cases where the Examiner approves of the elementary paper but fails the candidate for lack of practical knowledge or for elementary, a written account of the points failed in must be forwarded to the Port Officer with the elementary papers and the report Exn. 15.

The elementary questions to be answered on Form Exn. 15b* are good starting points in viva voce examinations. With the candidates' written answers before the Examiner, the same question can be put in a way requiring an answer in another form. Each question may be developed into several according to the circumstances of the case, e.g.—

1. What is made of ? Of what parts does it consist ?
2. What is its use ?
3. What attention does it require at sea ?
4. What attention does it require in port ?
5. When it becomes defective, what is it that principally goes wrong with it ?
6. How is it repaired ?
7. What alteration may prevent a recurrence of the defect ?

It is considered of great importance that engineers presenting themselves for examination should have an extensive knowledge of the particulars of actual casualties which have occurred at sea and be able to state how these might have been prevented, and how remedied. Sometimes an engineer presents himself who has had no personal experience of any defects, and who can tell nothing about casualties to machinery which have occurred in the experience of others : such candidates should be closely questioned as to their knowledge of boiler and engine construction and the repairs of same.

The management of engines and boilers at sea, the duties of the engineer on watch, the work to be done to the engines, boilers, and auxiliary machinery in port, and the periodical examinations of the working parts, form part of the viva voce examination.

Reports of examination.

59. Reports of examinations on the form Exn. 15, together with the Examination Papers, should be forwarded to the Port Officer immediately the examinations are completed.

General.

60. Certificates of Competency shall be made and issued by the Government in the forms hereunto annexed.

61. Every Certificate of Competency shall be made in duplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the person entitled to the Certificate, and the other shall be kept and recorded by the Port Officer of Calcutta.

62. No application from the holder of a certificate granted by the Government of any other British Possession or by the Board of Trade to be examined for a certificate of the same legal value shall be entertained.

* See Appendix A.

APPENDIX C.

EXAMINATION in ROUGH WORKING DRAWING for a FIRST CLASS ENGINEER'S CERTIFICATE of COMPETENCY. (FORM EXN. 17).

1. The regulations in regard to the qualifications of a candidate for a first class engineer's certificate of competency specify that—

"He must be able to make rough working drawings of the different parts of the engines and boilers.

"He must be able to state the general proportions borne by the principal parts of the machinery to each other."

2. In accordance with these clauses, a candidate for a first class certificate is required to make a rough working drawing of the parts specified as on page 34. An engineer who has been some years in charge of marine engines and boilers ought to have familiarly in his mind the general construction of at least one set of engines and boilers, say that set he was last with. Fine drawing is not expected, and in the proportions of the parts a wide margin will be allowed; absurd dimensions will be failure in practical knowledge.

3. The drawing must, however, be practically a working drawing, giving a sufficient number of views to show the parts fully—sections, plans, or elevations, just as the candidate would require to be supplied to him if he had to make the parts to the design of another person

4. A clear hand sketch showing the construction completely and fully dimensioned will be accepted if the candidate prefers this alternative.

5. A portion only of the parts specified may be accepted in place of the whole, if that portion is sufficient to show that the candidate has a good practical idea of the construction of the parts, and a fair notion of their general proportions or dimensions.

6. Candidates are hereby cautioned not to put on paper what they have not fully considered, and deliberately intend to be understood, as their statement of what they know about the construction of any part required.

7. The statements given in by a candidate may be in themselves, apparently, of little importance, but as sample material from which the state of the candidate's knowledge of engines and boilers is to be inferred, every detail which is glaringly inconsistent with a sound knowledge of the use of the part, or in which an essential consideration has evidently been overlooked, is an important element in the description which the candidate is giving of his own qualifications.

8. The candidate is advised not to begin more than he can clearly finish in the time allowed. An important object in this part of the examination is to ascertain whether the candidate can be trusted to mark all necessary dimensions upon a sketch or a drawing. The test of this is, practically, the making of the part from the sketch without having to supply additional dimensions, and without measuring the drawing. To prove this ability the candidate must fully dimension the parts shown in his sketch or drawing, notwithstanding that the parts may be correctly drawn to scale. A drawing is fully dimensioned when no part of it is left to the option of the party who is to work to the drawing.

9. To prevent misunderstanding, however, when the candidate has been led into showing more of the details than he has time fully to finish, he should name, in the statement on the other side, the particular parts which he has fully dimensioned.

10. All dimensions should have lines and darts, to indicate distinctly the points between which the dimensions are given.

11. Beware of writing cross dimensions upon centre lines. or upon longitudinal dimension lines. This is not an order but a recommendation.

12. The candidate is not expected to design anything; he has merely to sketch or draw a something with which he is expected to be already familiar. At the same time he should call attention to any defect in the design of the article or apparatus. Omission to do so will imply want of practical knowledge.

13. Pencil in nothing after half-past 3; all the dimensions, the figures, and the darts must be inked in; employ the remaining time in examining the drawing and in inking in any figures which may have been before overlooked, and in checking the dimensions.

14. Make sure that you will have sufficient room on the drawing sheet to show all the necessary views. You can have another sheet of drawing paper if necessary. All the paper used must be forwarded with the drawing.

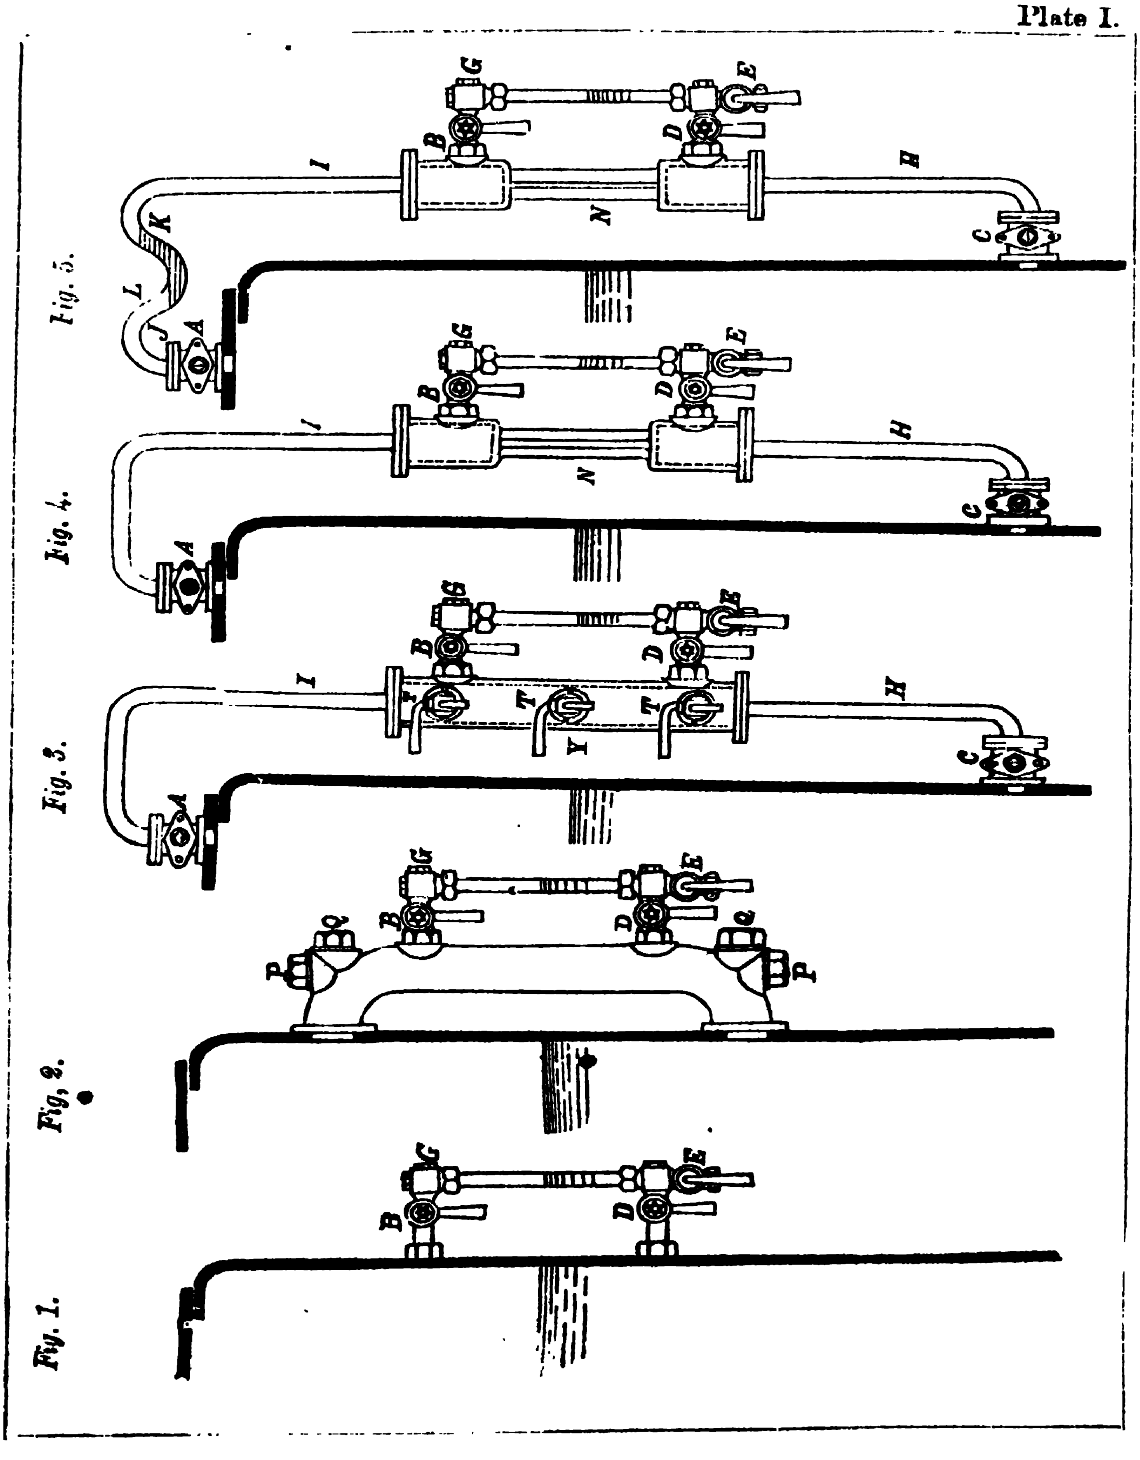
APPENDIX D.

READING THE WATER-GAUGES

NOTWITHSTANDING that the reading of the water-gauge is made a special feature in the examination of engineers, many boiler casualties result from the engineer of the watch either not understanding the construction of the water-gauge fittings or not satisfying himself by actual trial that the cocks, pipes, &c., are clear.

In one case, two furnace crowns came down in a steamer that was just starting on a voyage. The engineers were satisfied that there was plenty of water in the boiler because the water-gauge showed full glass, and they called the attention of a Board of Trade Surveyor to this fact as being conclusive evidence that the casualty could not have resulted from shortness of water. On examination of the fittings, however, it was found that the cock between the boiler and the steam pipe leading to the gauge was shut, having been carelessly left in that position on the previous day when the mountings were overhauled for survey. Directly the cock was opened the water disappeared from the gauge-glass, and the second engineer admitted that he had blown down the boiler in order to lower the water level, as the glass was full.

* Run the pen through the words that do not apply.



Many steamers have had their furnaces brought down at sea in a similar manner to the above through what the engineers of the watch have called "false water in the glass,' and which on examination has been found to result from the top communication being chocked.

These casualties resulted from what, to say the least, was bad management, not false water.

Unless a candidate under examination is able to prove that he understands how to verify the indications of the water-gauge, he should not be passed in practical knowledge, and, as failure in practical knowledge involves the candidate going to sea for another three months before being eligible for re-examination, the examiner should explain to such candidate his error, after failing him, in order to prevent further casualities resulting from his want of knowledge on this subject.

The sketches, Figures 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, Plate I, represent the usual methods of attaching water-gauge mountings to marine boilers. The important features in each gauge and the method of verifying its indications are dealt with separately in the following remarks:—

Plate I.

In this case the water gauge cocks are attached direct to the boiler, and the accuracy of the gauge when the boiler is under steam can be tested as follows :—

First.—Let B remain open, then close cock D and open cock E, and if steam issues it proves that cock B and the passage through the top fitting and gauge glass are clear. If no steam or water issues, either cock B or the passage through the top fitting and gauge glass is choked and the gauge cannot act properly until the obstruction is removed.

Second.—Close cock B and open D and E, and if water issues, cock D is clear. If no water or steam issues, either cock D or the passage from the boiler through the lower fitting is choked and must be cleared before the gauge can act properly.

REFERRING TO FIGURE 2 ONLY.

In this case the gauge cocks are attached to a bent pipe of comparatively large diameter (at least 3 inches in the bore), the upper end of which communicates with the steam space, and the lower end with the water space of the boiler. Owing to the bore of the pipe being large it is not liable to become choked or stopped under the ordinary conditions of working. The water-gauge is, therefore, in practically the same condition as if it were attached direct to the boiler, as in Figure 1. This gauge, when at work, is tested in precisely the same manner as the one shown in figure 1.

Screw plugs are inserted at PP and QQ, by the removal of which the apertures in the pipe can be cleared, if necessary, by the insertion of a wire or rod when steam is down.

REFERRING TO FIGURE 3 ONLY.

In this gauge there is an open communication from A to C through the column Y, and in order to "blow through the glass" it is only necessary to shut cocks D and B alternately, keeping E open. But to "blow through the water-gauge," including the pipes H and I, it is necessary, after blowing through the glass as described above, to shut A and C alternately, at the same time keeping B, D and E open for such time as will ensure the complete discharge of the contents of the gauge and its connections. When B, D and C are clear and A choked, the steam lodging in the glass and in the pipe I leading from column Y to A becomes condensed, and the water flowing through C to take its place rises in column Y and in the glass to a level above that of the water in the boiler. In other words, the gauge shows a false level. If now E be opened and water is blown out, then on E being again closed the water in the gauge will rise higher than before and be still further misleading. On the other hand, when B, D and A are clear and C choked, the water, if any, in the glass is trapped and no longer rises and falls with the water in the boiler or with the motion of the vessel; it, however, slowly rises in the glass owing to the condensation of the steam in the upper part of the gauge until such time as E is opened when the whole of the water in the glass in blown out, and on E being closed the glass does not show any water notwithstanding that the water in the boiler may be at the proper level. When the test cocks T T T are attached to column Y, as shown in Figure 3, they cease to be reliable when either cock A or C or the pipe in connection therewith is choked, or nearly choked.

REFERRING TO FIGURE 4 ONLY.

Sometimes the water-gauge fittings, are arranged as shown in Figures 4 and 5, with no passage up the column, the central portion (N) of the column being simply a pillar or connecting piece of any convenient section between the upper and lower portions to which the cocks B and D are attached.

By this arrangement double communications are obviated and there is no need for what is known as "double shut off" in testing the accuracy of the gauge. When, however, the gauges are constructed in this manner the cocks B and D are unreliable as test cocks in the event of there being no glass in the gauge. This feature should be carefully noted. Moreover, when in working condition the reduction of pressure in the glass which arises when E is opened causes the water in pipe H to rise above its normal level. This objectionable feature should also be noted.

REFERRING TO FIGURE 5 ONLY.

Sometimes there is a bend, L, in the steam pipe I leading from cock A to cock B. This has occasionally escaped observation when new boilers have been fitted on board ship. In most cases this bend arises from the pipe being led in an abnormal direction to escape other pipes, beams or fittings near the smoke box. With such a bend the condensed steam collects in the pipe and falls to the bottom of the bend, and in time it completely fills the pipe from J to K. The steam from K down to the level of the water in the glass is thereby trapped and, as condensation proceeds, leads to a reduction of pressure in the pipe below that of the boiler and an equivalent rise of the water in the bend and also in the gauge-glass. When the vessel is quiescent the water in the gauge-glass increases in height until cock E is opened or until the pressure in the boiler is so much in excess of that in the lower part of pipe I as to cause the water in the bend to be blown into the gauge-glass. In either case instantaneous change of water level ensues.

In the ordinary course of working the phenomenon described above is more or less modified by the presence of air in the upper part of the gauge and by the rise and fall of the water in the boiler and gauge-glass arising from the rolling or pitching motions of the vessel.

OTHER SPECIAL POINTS TO BE NOTED.

When the cocks A and C are omitted, as in Figure 2, it is owing to the bore of the stand pipe being sufficiently large to enable it to be regarded as part of the boiler. Such pipes require, however, to be examined and cleared at intervals by passing a rod through the holes provided for the purpose at PP and QQ.

Cocks at A and C are not necessary for the testing of gauges arranged as shown in Figures 4 and 5. Examiners ought, however, to make sure that candidates are aware of the impossibility of testing the reliability of the indications of water-gauges arranged as in Figure 3 when the cocks A and C are absent and of the effect which the choking of cock A or C, or pipe H or I has on the indications of the test cocks T T T attached to column Y.

Probably more than half the steamers afloat are fitted with water-gauges as shown in Figures 3 and 4, and it is therefore specially important that engineer candidates should thoroughly understand their construction, the principle on which they act, and the steps which must be taken to keep them in an efficient condition.

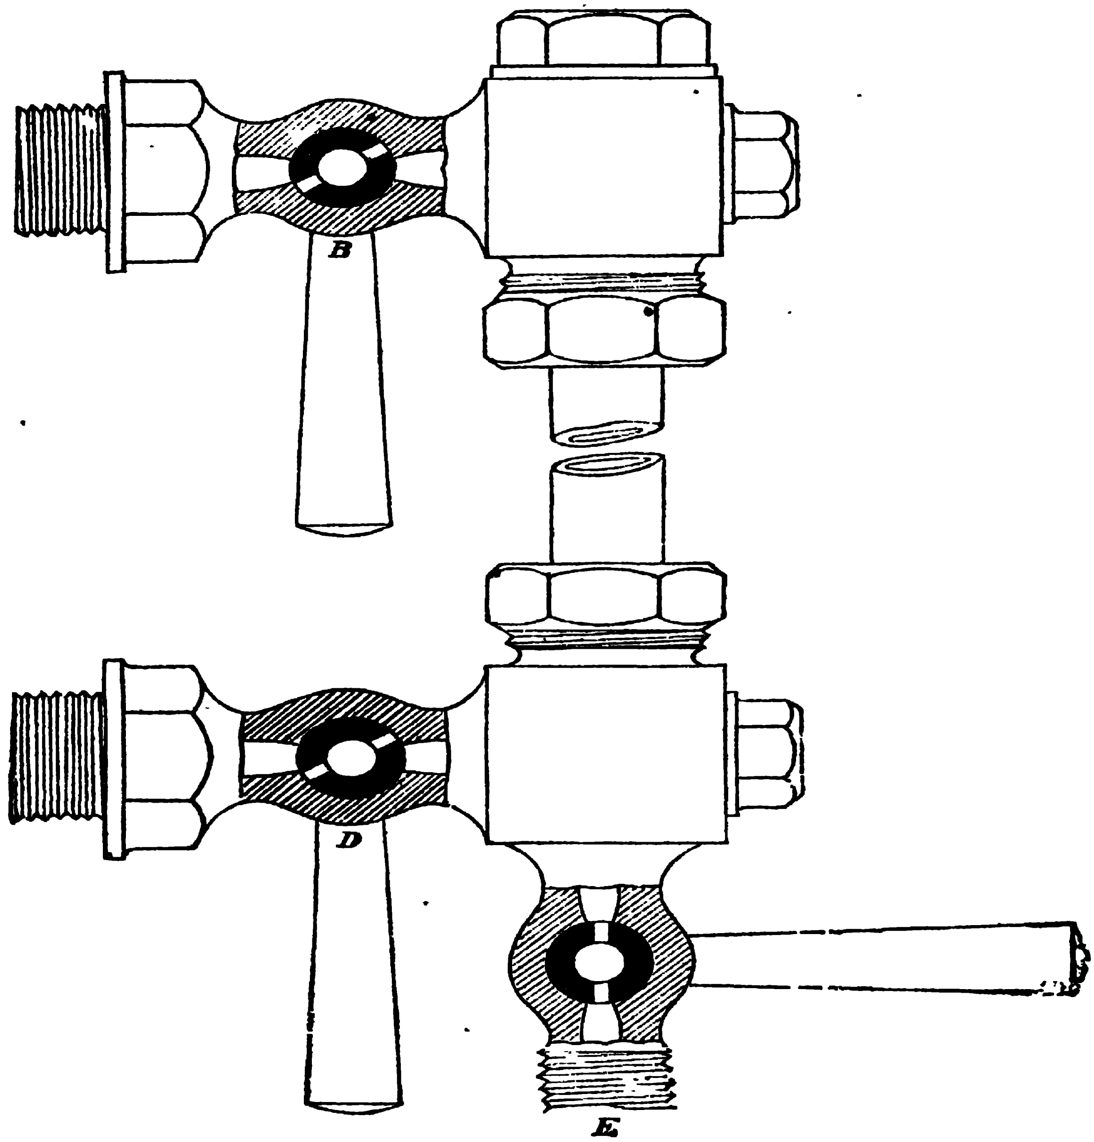
When fitting a gauge-glass into its place it is specially important that it should not be placed so high as to prevent a clearing rod being inserted at G, figures 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5. This defect, especially if it occurs in a water-gauge attached to a boiler subject to priming, permits a rapid accumulation of scum around the top of the glass and results in the choking of the orifice leading from cock B to the gauge-glass in each of the figures.

When a gauge-glass is too short or is placed either too high or too low in the fittings, it is also liable to become choked by the packing material being forced over its ends by the glands whilst being screwed up.

The use of unsuitable or insecure internal pipes in connection with either the ordinary gauge-glass cocks of the description shown in Figure 1, or with test cocks which are joined to the boiler itself, should also be carefully guarded against.

Boiler casualties have resulted from the cocks B and D having the parts wrongly placed as shown in Figure 6, Plate II. In one case of that kind which forms the subject of Report No. 208 under the Boiler Explosions Acts, the engineer in testing the water-gauge omitted to see that the passages in the cocks B and D were clear when the handles were in their proper working position. This defect could easily have been discovered if proper attention had been paid to the condition of the cocks. A defect of this nature may be due to faulty construction originally, or to the handle of the cock having been overstrained, and the neck twisted. Whether the passages in the plugs are fair and clear can, however, be verified in a few minutes. As an illustration, the water cock D, Figure 6, Plate II, can be verified by blowing through E with B shut and then moving the handle of D to one side until it is just closed, and then to the other side until it is again just closed; the proper working position of the handle is about equally distant from each of the above positions. The other cocks can be verified in the same manner.

Another serious casualty occurred through the handle of the cock A, Figure 3 having been twisted from its original position relatively to the orifice of the cock, resulting in the cock being shut when apparently open.



When a water-gauge, that is clear in all its parts, has been thoroughly blown through, the water in the glass rises above the level at which it formerly stood, immediately the drain cock E is closed, but if left undisturbed for a time it gradually falls to its former position. The amount of rise which occurs on these occasions depends chiefly on the temperature of the contents of the boiler and on the length of the pipes by which column Y is connected top and bottom to the boiler, but in cases where the gauge is of the description illustrated in Figures 3, 4 and 5, it amounts in high pressure boilers to about 4 inches, while the time occupied by the water in returning to its former level ranges from 30 to 40 minutes. The cause of this rise is twofold, namely (a) the displacement of the comparatively cold water in pipe H by hotter and proportionately lighter water from the boiler, and (b) a slight condensation of the steam and a correspondig fractional reduction of pressure in pipe I. The cause of the gradual subsidence of the water in the glass to its former level is also of a dual chararacter, namely (a) the cooling of the water in pipe H, and (b) the diminution in the condensation of steam in pipe I owing to the collection therein of air released from the steam condensed.

These results will, however, be somewhat modified if the water in the boiler is of higher density than in pipe H, and this will nearly always be the case owing to the condensation of the steam in the glass and upper fittings of the water-gauge, causing the water in the lower part to be fresher than that in the boiler.

The examiner should impress upon candidates the necessity for periodically blowing through the water-gauge on each boiler (no matter what the form may be) in a systematic and thorough manner, and, in cases where a boiler is fitted with two water-gauges, of keeping both in constant use; finally, he should further impress upon them the necessity for keeping the water-gauges well lighted, clean, and in all respects efficient.

APPENDIX E.

EXAMINATION OF MASTERS AND MATES IN STEAM.

These examinations are provided for the purpose of giving Masters and Mates who are possessed of Certificates of Competency an opportunity of undergoing a voluntary examination as to their practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam engine. The examiners are appointed by Government.

The examination is open to any person who holds a Certificate of any grade in the Foreign or Home trade or as Master of his own pleasure yacht. Candidates should fill up the form of application, Form Exn. 2, at the Port Office, pay the fee of Rs. 15, and deposit their Certificates with the Port Officer, who will inform the applicant when and where to attend to be examined. If the candidate fails to pass his Certificate will be at once returned to him.

If he passes, the report (Exn. 15) will be sent to the Port Officer, and the Certificate, together with the Form Exn. 2, will be sent to the Government; the words "Certified to have passed in steam," with the date and place of examination, will then be entered on the Certificate and its counterpart, and the Certificate will be sent to the Superintendent of the Mercantile Marine Office of the port named in the Form Exn. 2, and be delivered to the candidate in the usual manner.

If a candidate fails he may not present himself for re-examination until the expiration of three months from the date of failure.

The examination is for the most part vivâ voce, and extends to a general knowledge of the practical use and working of the steam engine, and of the various valves, fittings, and pieces of machinery connected with it; and of the way in which electric lighting is carried out on board ship. Theoretical questions on calculations of horse-power or areas of cylinders and valves or any of the more difficult questions relating to steam engines and boilers will not be asked.

Examiners are to satisfy themselves that the candidates know the names and understand the uses of the various parts of engines and boilers, and their connecting pipes, valves, cocks, &c. Practical knowledge, as distinguished from theories and abstruse calculations, is to be the test of the candidate's fitness to have his Certificate endorsed.

The examiner should arrange to conduct part of the examination in the engine room of a steamship, unless from circumstances he finds it impossible to do so; but in the event of the candidate passing, the examiner should state in writing what circumstances prevented a visit to an engine room. If an opportunity offer, the candidate should be permitted, under the guidance of the examiner, to start and stop the engine of some vessel which may have her steam up.

The examiner, in sending in his report of the examination, should state where the examination has been held.

Candidates will be required to give written answers to sixteen out of twenty questions taken from the Elementary Questions printed in Appendix B. These questions will be altered from time to time without notice. The twenty questions are not to be difficult, theoritical, or book question, but are to be such as any man of ordinary capacity, who has any practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam engine, ought to answer.

If a candidate refers to any book or paper or memorandum, or obtains information from another candidate during the examination, he will be treated as having failed, will forfeit his fee, and will not be allowed to be re-examined for a period of three months.

The examiners will report in the case of failure, the nature of the question or questions that decided the failure, or the point in the managment of the engine in which the candidate was deficient.

There is nothing in the regulations requiring that applicants for the voluntary examination shall have served on board steamships; all that is required is that they shall have a practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam-engine. Examiners will not fail to appreciate the fact that practical knowledge is best gained in the engine room; and the examination of an officer who does not produce official evidence of service in steamships, and of experience of engines, must necessarily be more searching than in the case of one who produces evidence of such service and experience.

Examiners will require all candidates to fill up a Form Exn. 15 (b), and they will forward it to the Port Officer with the report of the examination.

Masters and Mates may cancel questions A, B, and C, but they should fill up the form for questions D, E, F, and G, as evidence of their practical knowledge.

A candidate for this examination is required to have a thorough grasp of the construction of the steam-engine and boiler, to enable him, in the first place, to understand the nature and importace of any defect which may be reported to him by the Chief Engineer, and so that he may work in harmony with him in affording time and facilities for disconnexions, inspections, adjustments, and repairs.

To have a looking-on knowledge of what the principal repairs are about engines and boilers and pipes, and how these repairs are accomplished.

To be able to form an independent opinion as to a breakdown, and the consequent propriety or impropriety of proceeding under steam with temporarily repaired or defective machinery.

To understand how to estimate approximately the reduction of fuel required for reduced speed, and consequently to sanction such reduction of speed as may seem to him to be warranted by the report of the Chief Engineer, and to satisfy himself before leaving port that there is sufficient coal for the voyage.

To have an intelligent grasp of the general run of pipes and connexions in the engine-room, the marking of cocks, the opening and closing of cocks and valves, how mistakes of importance may be made in the confusion of an accident and how best to guard against such mistakes.

To be capable of being left in charge of the feeding of a set of boilers, to understand the working of the water-gauge, and to be able to guard against being misled by false indications of the gauge glass.

To understand about blowing down and surfacing, the reasons for doing so, and the danger which may result from the neglect of these under certain circumstances.

A master or mate presenting himself for examination in steam must be understood to have made up for his want of practical experience by reading up about the steam-engine. He ought, therefore, to show that he has given his mind to intelligently understanding the rationale of the action of the steam-engine. Under this head he should, therefore, be able to state appoximately the quantity of heat required in the formation of steam, the remarkable relation of "latent" heat to "sensible" heat, how much steam can be raised by the combustion of one pound of coal, what horse-power measure is, what indicated horse-power is, what is the action of the slide-valve, the course of the steam through the engine, and the advantage of working expansively, and how the expansive action is shown by the indicator diagram. To know the uses of the various parts of the engines and dynamos used for electric lighting, and how they and the cables are fitted in the hull; how wires are jointed, insulated, and cased; why it is desirable that they should be led along places which are dry and accessible; what is "sparking," and what are the causes which produce it; what is its danger in coal bunkers and petroleum-carrying steamers; what are the uses of switches and cut-outs, and why is it so important to prevent short-circuiting taking place.

The candidate has to answer in writing 16 out of 20 questions selected from the Elementary Questions (see Appendix B).

Selections for this examination are given on the alphabetic sheet for "Steam." Generally, these answers are given by candidates as learned by rote from a book; the candidate should therefore be asked such vivâ voce questions as will necessitate his giving his answers in different words, so as to discover whether he has the root of the matter in him.

The principal part of the vivâ voce is the examination on board a steamer, preferably one with which he is unacquainted. He is told to look about and try to find out the run of the machinery without the assistance of anyone: the examiner to be in the engine-room to see that this independent examination is properly carried out. When the candidate reports that he thinks he knows the whole arrangement of the machinery, the Examiner will then question him on the uses of the parts, get him to point out the different cylinders, pumps, valves, condenser, &c.; also the dynamo, its field-magnets, armature, commutators, brushes, cables, &c. He must show that he understands the run of the pipes in the bilges, not necessarily that he has gone over every one of them, but he ought to be directed to trace, at least, one important range of pipes and to thoroughly satisfy the examiner that he could be safely trusted to manipulate the valves or cocks in connexion therewith. It will not often be practicable for the candidate to be asked to actually work engines under steam, but he must satisfy the examiner that he knows how to do so, and that he is aware what precautions have to be taken in regard to water in the cylinder, &c. It is most important that a candidate should show that, in the event of an accident depriving him of the assistance of engineers, he knows what to do to safely take his vessel to an anchorage, or to stop the engines and proceed under sail alone

The examination of a mate in steam is the same as that of a master. The knowledge required has no reference to the mate's position. A mate may be examined, but such examination implies that the mate will one day be a master, when the possession of the knowledge will be an advantage to him in the discharge of his duties as master.

CALCUTTA UNIVERSITY NOTICE.

In January 1902, Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghosh, Member of the Senate, offered to place at the disposal of the Calcutta University Government Securities of the nominal value of Rs. 10,000 of the Loan of 1865 for the encouragement of the study of Comparative Indian Law by persons belonging to what is called the Adhyapak class in Bengal, and for the purpose of establishing out of the annual income of the fund of a prize to be awarded to the writer of the best essay on the subject under the following conditions:—

(i) By Comparative Indian Law shall be meant the Hindu Smriti Sastra, called Vyabaharkhanda and a comparison of the standard Sanskrit authorities on the subject with British Indian Law as contained in Parliamentary Statutes, Regulations and Acts of the Indian Legislative Councils, and the Law as laid down in Leading Cases. The study, which it shall be the object of the Prize to encourage, is the History of the Hindu Smriti Sastra as it existed at and from the time when India came under British rule and how and to what extent it has been altered under British influence, regard being had not only to the existing Statutes, Regulations and Acts, but also to those which, having been in operation for a time, have now been repealed or become obsolete, and regard being also had not only to the existing Leading Cases but to cases which were considered Leading at one time, but have now been overruled, and how and to what extent such alteration has affected Hindu Society.

(ii) The essay, at the discretion of a Committee consisting of the Vice-Chancellor for the time being of the University, the President of the Faculty of Law and the Principal of the Government Sanskrit College in Calcutta, may deal with the whole of the Indian Comparative Law as before defined or with part or parts thereof; but in no case shall an essay be entitled to competition which in any way attacks the religious beliefs, usages or institutions of His Majesty's subjects. And it shall be in the province and discretion of the said Committee to (a) make a detailed programme of studies for the proposed prize, (b) name the subject of the essay for any one particular year, and (c) decide whether such prize shall be awarded every year or at longer intervals.

(iii) By Adhyapak shall be meant scholars of the Smriti Sastra, students of Smriti in the Government Sanskrit College in Calcutta, and in the tols or indigenous Brahmanical schools which send in candidates for the Title Examinations held in that College and students in other similar institutions in India.

(iv) The essay or essays shall be written either in English or in Bengali; but if any competitor sends in an essay in any vernacular language other than Bengali he shall be bound to furnish an English translation thereof.

(v) The adjudicators for the Prize shall be the Vice-Chancellor of the University, the Chief Justice of Bengal, the President of the Faculty of Law and the Principal of the Sanskrit College in Calcutta. They shall be entitled to consult experts of their own selection to assist them to (a) decide whether the essay or essays in competition is or are of sufficient merit to deserve the prize, (b) award such prize, (c) decide about the number of manuscript copies of each essay to be sent in by the successful competitors, and (d) consider the ways and means for the publication of any essay or essays.

(vi) The Prize shall be called the "Research Prize in Comparative Indian Law."

The offer was thankfully accepted by the Syndicate at their meeting held on the 8th February, 1902.

The first prize will be awarded in January 1906.

The value of the prize will be Rs 1,000.

The subject for the year 1906 will be—

Discuss the theory of adoption as expounded by the Hindu Smriti Sastras, and compare the Law regarding the adoption of an only son therein contained with the decision of the Privy Council and of the different High Courts and other Courts in British India on that subject.

CALCUTTA,

A. PEDLER,
Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE APPOINTMENT AND PROCEEDINGS OF VISITING COMMITTEES OF SECONDARY SCHOOLS MAINTAINED FROM PUBLIC FUNDS. (APPROVED IN GOVERNMENT ORDER No. 1812(EDN.), DATED 31ST MARCH 1905.)

[These rules are supplementary to the rules for the management of schools, which are already in force.]

1. For every secondary school managed by Government or by a District Board, Municipal Committee or Joint-Committee there should be Visiting Committees, consisting of local residents adequately representing the classes from which the students are drawn.

2. For Government schools, except collegiate schools, the members of the Visiting Committees should be appointed by the District Officer in consultation with the Inspector of Schools. For collegiate schools they should be appointed by the Director of Public Instruction on the nomination of the Principals of the attached colleges, who should consult suitable local authorities before sending in their selections.

3. For schools managed by District Boards, Municipal Committees or Joint-Committees, the members should be appointed from among the members of the District and Local Boards, Municipal Committees or Joint-Committees, as the case may be, by the Chairmen concerned. Other gentlemen interested in education may also be appointed members.

4. The term of office of members of Visiting Committees should be for a period of three years from the date of their appointment. Any member should be eligible for reappointment at the end of that period at the discretion of the appointing authority. Members who have not fulfilled the duties for which they were appointed should not be reappointed on the expiry of the three years' term of office. A member should be appointed whenever a vacancy occurs.

5. Visiting Committees shall have no power to issue any orders to the Head Masters of schools, their functions being confined to the offering of advice for the consideration of the school authorities and the officers of the Education Department.

6. The Visiting Committee of a school should inspect the institution at least once a quarter. Visits should not, however, be paid to the school during school-hours more often than once a month. Due notice of visit should ordinarily be given to the Head Master, but surprise visits may be made when necessary. The number of members visiting a school on any occasion should not be more than two.

7. The Visiting Committee should either record their opinion in the Visitors' Book of the school for the information of the Inspector or the Deputy Inspector of Schools, or the Principal of the College, as the case may be, or may communicate their suggestions in writing direct. A copy of the remarks should also be forwarded in the case of schools managed by District Boards, Municipal Committees or Joint-Committees to the Chairman concerned within three days of the inspection.

8. The members of every Visiting Committee should elect from amongst themselves a Chairman and a Secretary, and submit their names to the District Officer, the Director of Public Instruction or the Chairman of the District Board, Municipal Committee or Joint-Committee, as the case may be, for approval.

9. A meeting of a Visiting Committee should be called by the Secretary when considered necessary, or at the requisition of any two members of the Committee, for the general discussion of matters relating to the school. Not less than seven days' notice should be given of any meeting.

10. The notice should set forth the business to be transacted at the meeting, and no business other than that so stated should be transacted, except with the consent of all the members present. When any business of which notice has not been given is considered at a meeting, the decision recorded or resolution adopted at such meeting should be communicated forthwith to all the members, and the subject should be capable of being re-opened at a subsequent meeting convened on a requisition made by three members of the Committee within seven days of the communication of the original resolution; but, save as hereinbefore mentioned, no subject once finally disposed of should be reconsidered within six months, unless two-thirds of the members consent by signing a requisition.

11. The maximum number of members of a Visiting Committee should be ten and the minimum six, and one-third of the members in office should form a quorum. The Chairman should have a casting vote, in addition to his ordinary vote, in cases where the votes of the members present are equally divided. In the absence of the Chairman, one of the members present should be elected to preside. Committees should formulate any further rules of business that may be necessary.

12. Under the directions of the Committee, the Secretary should carry on correspondence with the proper authorities on behalf of the Committee, and be in charge of all papers belonging to the Committee.

13. The Secretary shall keep a record of the proceedings of each meeting and submit it to the next meeting for confirmation. Such proceedings and all work done by a Committee shall be duly recorded in a book kept for the purpose, which should be open for inspection by all inspecting officers of the Education Department.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE APPOINTMENT AND PROCEEDINGS OF COMMITTEES OF MANAGEMENT OF AIDED SECONDARY SCHOOLS (APPROVED IN GOVERNMENT ORDER No. 1812(EDN.), DATED 31ST MARCH 1905.)

[These rules are supplementary to the rules already in force in schools aided by Government or by District Boards and Municipalities.]

1. The general management of an aided secondary school, high or middle, is subject to the rules prescribed from time to time by Government or the Department for the management of aided schools. The local management should remain in the hands of a Committee of Management, the members of which should be so selected as to represent all classes of the community—legal, commercial, trading, industrial and agricultural; but in cases in which the Director of Public Instruction is satisfied that the promoters of a school can give guarantees for efficient management otherwise, it will be sufficient if it is placed under a Visiting Committee as in the case of a school maintained from public funds.

2. Appointments to a Committee of Management should be made with the approval of—

(a) The District Officer, in consultation with the Inspector of Schools, in the case of a school aided by Government;

(b) The Chairman of the District Board or Municipal Committee, in the case of a school aided by a District Board or Municipal Committee

3. The members of a Committee of Management of a school should elect from amongst themselves a Chairman, a Secretary and an Auditor, and submit their names to the District Officer or the Chairman, as the case may be, for previous approval.

4. A meeting of the Committee should be called by the Secretary, usually once every month (except in the long vacation months), or oftener if need be. Not less than seven days' notice should be given of any meeting.

5. The notice should set forth the business to be transacted at the meeting, and no business other than that so stated should be transacted, except with the consent of all the members present. When any business of which notice has not been given is considered at a meeting, the decision recorded or resolution adopted at such meeting should be communicated forthwith to all the members, and the subject should be capable of being re-opened at a subsequent meeting convened on a requisition made by three members of the Committee within seven days of the communication of the original resolution; but, save as hereinbefore mentioned, no subject once finally disposed of should be reconsidered within six months, unless two-thirds of the members consent by signing a requisition.

6. The monthly audited accounts should be presented at the next month's meeting of the Committee for the purpose of being passed.

7. The maximum number of members of a Committee should be ten and the minimum six, and one-third of the members in office should form a quorum. The Chairman should have a casting vote, in addition to his ordinary vote, when the votes of the members present are equally divided. In the absence of the Chairman, one of the members present should be elected to preside. Committees should formulate any further rules of business that may be necessary

8. Under the direction of the Committee, the Secretary should carry on correspondence with the proper authorities on behalf of the Committee. He should also keep a record of the proceedings of each meeting and submit it to the next meeting for confirmation. Such proceedings and all work done by the Committee should be duly recorded in a book kept for the purpose.

9. The trust-deeds and other important papers relating to the school should be in charge of the Secretary or of some resident member of the Committee, except those which it is necessary to keep in the special charge of the Head Master; but all papers relating to the school in the shape of accounts and records should be available at any time for inspection by all inspecting officers of the Education Department.

10. No teacher should be appointed, promoted, suspended or removed, except by a resolution passed at a meeting of the Committee. In all cases of appointment, promotion and removal of the staff, the Head Master's opinion should be on record, and the Committee should always record reasons for removal, punishment, stoppage of promotion and supersession of the staff.

In exceptionally urgent cases relating to teachers other than the Head Master, however, the Secretary should, after consultation with the Head Master, make a provisional appointment in anticipation of the Committee's sanction; but the matter should be reported to the Committee at their next meeting for approval.

Similarly a provisional arrangement should be made by the Secretary in consultation with the Chairman, and subject to the approval of the Committee, in respect of a vacancy in the Head Mastership when the case is exceptionally urgent; but this should not be taken to dispense with the necessity of final confirmation by the existing educational authorities, as required under the grant-in-aid rules.

11. Subject to the provisions of the grant-in-aid rules, the list of holidays will be settled by the Secretary, in consultation with the Head Master. In the case of a difference of opinion between the Secretary and the Head Master, the matter should be referred to the Committee for decision.

12. The arrangement of classes, the settlement of the school routine, and all other details relating to school discipline and teaching should be in charge of the Head Master, acting under the advice of the departmental educational officers, but the Committee, however, should have the right to offer their opinion and advice in these matters in writing to the Inspector or the Deputy Inspector of Schools.

13. All questions relating to the promotion of boys and the selection of candidates for the Entrance and Scholarship examinations should remain in the hands of the Head Master and be subject to the supervision of the inspecting officers of the Education Department only.

Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

STATE TECHNICAL SCHOLARSHIPS FOR NATIVES OF BENGAL.

1. With a view to provide for natives of India the higher technical education which may qualify them to assist in promoting the improvement of existing native industries, and the development of new industries wherever this may be possible, the Government of India are ready, as an experimental measure, to give a small number of Technical scholarships, if promising candidates, well qualified in some particular branch of industry, present themselves. The outlines of the scheme are sketched out below.

2. Value of the scholarships.—The value of the scholarships has been fixed at £150 a year, in addition to fees payable to the institutions where the scholars will study and travelling expenses; but Government will consider proposals for increasing it in special cases.

3. Places and periods of tenure.—Each scholarship is tenable for an average period of two years, which may be increased or reduced in special cases.

4. The scholarships may be held in Great Britain, on the Continent of Europe, or in America, and are payable from the date of the scholar's arrival in the country which he may select for study.

5. Subjects of study—Law, Medicine, Forestry, Veterinary Science, Agriculture and Engineering have been excluded from the scope of the present proposal. The scholarships are in the first instance proposed to be used for the encouragement of the mining industry in Bengal, but any other branch of industry can similarly be helped and fostered. Industries in which native capital and enterprise are engaged, or likely to be engaged, and in which the trained scholar might, on return to his country, find scope for his skill and ability, will be particularly appropriate for selection.

6. Conditions of award.—The scholarships are tenable by persons who are natives of India within the meaning of section 6 of the Statute, 33 Vic., Cap. 3. A competent knowledge of English, or the language of any other country in which the candidate proposes to work and study is essential to enable him to take full advantage of the course of study.

7. In the matter of selection of scholars, Government will be guided by considerations of the candidate's capacity, intelligence, particular interest in and connection with the industry selected, and the assurance that he will continue to devote himself to the subject on his return to India. These being matters which cannot be decided by the holding of degrees obtained, by examination, or by competition, no special examination is considered necessary and none will be held. But a scholar before nomination should have received the best technical education available in the Province, in the particular industry which he has to study, and no candidate will be considered qualified unless he has displayed an aptitude for technical study.

8. No age-limit has been fixed. But it may be fixed by Government in certain cases.

9. The candidates for scholarships should submit certificates attesting (a) their moral character, (b) knowledge of the language of the country in which they elect to study, and (c) physical capacity, from recognized persons who may be considered fit to certify to these facts. These certificates will not be returned.

10. The scholars in England or elsewhere, as the case may be, will be under the control and supervision of the Secretary of State. The conditions under which they will hold the scholarships will be similar to those laid down for Government of India scholarships, and power will be retained to cancel a scholarship and to send the scholar back to India if his progress and conduct be not satisfactory.

11. Returned scholars.—No scholar will be bound on his return to India by any engagement to serve Government or a private firm, and the choice of his career will be in the first instance determined, on his return from Europe by his own inclination. Should any occasion arise, Government will be glad to turn his ability and increased knowledge to account as teacher in an Industrial school or in other capacities connected with the improvement of local industies.

12. Applications from natives of Bengal for such scholarships for the development of the mining industry, in the first instance, should be made direct to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, on or before the 1st May 1905. Full particulars should be furnished as to the past educational experience, training and future requirements of each applicant for a scholarship. Applicants should also indicate, if possible, what they wish to work at in their future careers on return to India. The scholarships will be awarded by the Government of India on the recommendation of the Local Government.

Kyouk Phyou harbour—Actual depth of water on the Irrawaddy shoal.

No. 105.—(First publication).—The Master of the S.S. Pachumba reports that when passing the Irrawaddy shoal, outside Kyouk Phyou harbour, on the morning of the 24th March, he observed at L. W. Before the charge is exploded this vessel will give prolonged blasts with the steam whistle, and a red flag will be shown from the larger of the attendant boats.

CAUTION.—When these signals are displayed mariners are warned not to approach the boats engaged in this work nearer than half a mile, and they are specially requested to keep clear of these vessels when sweeping operations are in progress, as the apparatus renders the vessel's movements slow and uncertain.

REPORT OF THE BRUCE INSTITUTION FOR THE YEAR 1904.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1929, dated the 11th April 1905.—The following is published for general information.

H. W. C. CARNDUFF,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

REPORT OF THE BRUCE INSTITUTION

FOR THE YEAR 1904.

I.—Control.—During the year under review, the Rev. Titus Lowe was appointed to be a Governor, vice the Rev. J. Robinson, D.D., whose term of office had expired. Mr. L. P. Pugh was absent from India for a period of about four months. His term of office having expired meanwhile, he was, on his return to India, re-appointed to be a Governor. Mr. D. M. Hamilton was appointed to be a Governor, vice Mr. Geo. Roddick, resigned.

The following is a list of the Governors at the close of the year:—

The Most Rev. the Lord Bishop of Calcutta
The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal
The Chairman of the Calcutta Municipality
The Director of Public Instruction, Bengal (Honorary Secretary)

The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Sale.
L. P. Pugh, Esq. (Barrister-at-law).
The Ven'ble Archdeacon Kitchin.
The Rev. Father A. Van de Mergel, S.J.
The Rev. Titus Lowe.
D. M. Hamilton, Esq.
W. W. Hornell, Esq. (Inspector of European Schools).

II.—Capital and Income.—The capital of the Institution stood, as in the previous year, at Rs. 10,51,200, of which Rs. 10,46,200 is held by the Comptroller-General in the form of a 3½ per cent. stock certificate of the year 1865, and the balance, Rs. 5,000 which is invested in 3½ per cent. Government securities is held by the Secretary and Treasurer, Bank of Bengal. The annual interest on the capital amounts to Rs. 36,792, which is placed to the credit of the Institution in the Bank of Bengal. The year opened with a balance of Rs. 17,834-10-3 and closed with a balance of Rs. 18,546-1-3.

III.—Election, Vacancies, etc.—The annual election was held in the month of January as usual. For the 20 vacancies advertised, 52 applications were received, and 20 girls were elected on the recommendation of a Sub-Committee consisting of the Ven'ble Archdeacon Kitchin, the Rev. J. E. Robinson, D.D., Father A. Van de Mergel and Mr. Geo. Roddick. Of the girls elected, five were placed in the Loreto Boarding School, Entally, five in the Loreto Orphanage, Entally, four in the Calcutta Girls' School, three in the Pratt Memorial School, and three in St. Paul's Mission School.

Of the girls who had been withdrawn during the year, twenty-five had attained the age of seventeen years, the limit ordinarily allowed under the rules, while one girl was removed for continuous absence without leave. Another girl who was not in good health was permitted to go for a few months to a hill school for a change, but no extra expense was incurred by the Bruce Institution on this account. Two other girls, who had recently recovered from illness, were permitted to attend school for a period of two months as day-scholars, while another girl who was suffering from asthma, was transferred from the Calcutta Free School to the Girls' High School at Allahabad. There were four deaths during the year. Of the girls who had left, one is learning cookery, type-writing, and shorthand, and is also being trained in hospital work in the school in which she was educated, while another girl is continuing her studies in the Technical class of the same school, and is also learning type-writing. Another girl has been retained by the school authorities to give general help, and receives in return board and lodging for her services.

At the close of the year there were 124 girls on the foundation, against 133 in the preceding year. They were distributed as follows:—

Loreto Convent, Entally—
Boarding School	23
Orphanage	26
	—	49
Calcutta Girls' School		31
Pratt Memorial School		17
Calcutta Free School		8
La Martinière		6
St. Paul's Mission Home		8
Protestant European Orphanage, Cuttack ...		2
Old Church Parochial Home		1
St. Vincent's Home		1
Girls' High School, Allahabad		1
Total ...		124

The following table affords particulars as to the class and religion of the foundationers at the close of the year:—

3. Father, or both parents alive	1	3	1	5
Total ...	50	48	26	124

IV.—Education and Maintenance.—The nature of the education imparted to the girls on the foundation is generally that prescribed for primary and middle schools for Europeans. In exceptional cases a higher education is given. Parents and guardians are allowed to choose any school for the education of their children or wards, who may be elected, provided that such a school has first been approved by Government as suitable for the education and maintenance of Bruce foundationers. A sum of Rs. 21-8-0 a month is paid for the education and maintenance of each girl in a Boarding School and Rs. 16 a month in an Orphanage. A sum of Rs. 40 is also allowed for each foundationer for an outfit on joining a boarding school, and Rs. 25 for the same purpose on joining an Orphanage. A girl is not ordinarily allowed to remain in school after she has attained the age of seventeen years, when an outfit grant of Rs. 50 is usually given to enable her to make a start in life. If, however, a girl elects to take up teaching as a profession, some extension of time is generally allowed, if the Governors consider her fit to take up higher studies. Four such extensions were granted during the year. Short extensions, not exceeding over a few months, are also generally allowed to enable foundationers to appear at the examinations held under the Code of Regulations for European Schools. Two such extensions were allowed during the year. The end sought is to fit the girls for a respectable and useful station in life.

The average monthly cost for the education and maintenance of each girl on the foundation amounted to Rs. 18-9-5, against Rs. 18-13-4, in the preceding year.

The total amount paid under the different heads of expenditure was as under:—

V.—Inspection.—The Rev. Father A. Van de Mergel, S.J., was appointed Visiting Governor for the first-half, and the Rev. Titus Lowe for the second-half of the year. Their reports were generally satisfactory. Father Van de Mergel states that though his visits were quite unexpected he found everything in a satisfactory state as regards the way in which the children are treated in the schools. The Rev. Titus Lowe states that he found the girls well cared for and happy, and that no complaints were lodged against any of the foundationers by those in charge. He also found the health of almost all the girls to be very good. Annual reports are also received from the school authorities, in regard to the conduct, application, progress, health, and attendance of the foundationers. These reports have generally been satisfactory.

VI.—Meetings.—Four meetings were held during the year, but there was no resolution of importance calling for special mention.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

⌓, dew; d, drizzling rain; t, thunder; <, lightning; ⁄, strong wind.

V. H. JACKSON,
Assistant Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

CALCUTTA,
The 11th April 1905.

STATE TECHNICAL SCHOLARSHIPS FOR NATIVES OF BENGAL.

1. With a view to provide for natives of India the higher technical education which may qualify them to assist in promoting the improvement of existing native industries, and the development of new industries wherever this may be possible, the Government of India are ready, as an experimental measure, to give a small number of Technical scholarships, if promising candidates, well qualified in some particular branch of industry, present themselves. The outlines of the scheme are sketched out below.

2. Value of the scholarships.—The value of the scholarships has been fixed at £150 a year, in addition to fees payable to the institutions where the scholars will study and travelling expenses; but Government will consider proposals for increasing it in special cases.

3. Places and periods of tenure.—Each scholarship is tenable for an average period of two years, which may be increased or reduced in special cases.

4. The scholarships may be held in Great Britain, on the Continent of Europe, or in America, and are payable from the date of the scholar's arrival in the country which he may select for study.

5. Subjects of study.—Law, Medicine, Forestry, Veterinary Science, Agriculture and Engineering have been excluded from the scope of the present proposal. The scholarships are in the first instance proposed to be used for the encouragement of the mining industry in Bengal, but any other branch of industry can similarly be helped and fostered. Industries in which native capital and enterprise are engaged, or likely to be engaged, and in which the trained scholar might, on return to his country, find scope for his skill and ability, will be particularly appropriate for selection.

6. Conditions of award.—The scholarships are tenable by persons who are natives of India within the meaning of section 6 of the Statute, 33 Vic., Cap. 3. A competent knowledge of English, or the language of any other country in which the candidate proposes to work and study is essential to enable him to take full advantage of the course of study.

7. In the matter of selection of scholars, Government will be guided by considerations of the candidate's capacity, intelligence, particular interest in and connection with the industry selected, and the assurance that he will continue to devote himself to the subject on his return to India. These being matters which cannot be decided by the holding of degrees obtained, by examination, or by competition, no special examination is considered necessary and none will be held. But a scholar before nomination should have received the best technical education available in the Province, in the particular industry which he has to study, and no candidate will be considered qualified unless he has displayed an aptitude for technical study.

8. No age-limit has been fixed. But it may be fixed by Government in certain cases.

9. The candidates for scholarships should submit certificates attesting (a) their moral character, (b) knowledge of the language of the country in which they elect to study, and (c) physical capacity, from recognized persons who may be considered fit to certify to these facts. These certificates will not be returned.

10. The scholars in England or elsewhere, as the case may be, will be under the control and supervision of the Secretary of State. The conditions under which they will hold the scholarships will be similar to those laid down for Government of India scholarships, and power will be retained to cancel a scholarship and to send the scholar back to India if his progress and conduct be not satisfactory.

11. Returned scholars.—No scholar will be bound on his return to India by any engagement to serve Government or a private firm, and the choice of his career will be in the first instance determined, on his return from Europe by his own inclination. Should any occasion arise, Government will be glad to turn his ability and increased knowledge to account as teacher in an Industrial school or in other capacities connected with the improvement of local industies.

12. Applications from natives of Bengal for such scholarships for the development of the mining industry, in the first instance, should be made direct to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, on or before the 1st May 1905. Full particulars should be furnished as to the past educational experience, training and future requirements of each applicant for a scholarship. Applicants should also indicate, if possible, what they wish to work at in their future careers on return to India. The scholarships will be awarded by the Government of India on the recommendation of the Local Government.

No. 120 (second publication).—The President, Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given notice (No. 4 of 1905), informing Masters of vessels and others that it is intended on the 10th instant, circumstances permitting, to place a Pile Beacon to mark the position of the Secret Rock.

The Beacon, having a diamond-shaped head and painted black, will be erected in lat. 34° 31′ 15″ S., long. 136° 7′ 30″ E. (approximate), and on the eastern edge of the rock in 10ft. L.W.S., with Point Bolingbroke bearing S. 42° W., two miles distant, and the centre of Kirkly Island E. 18° S., distant five miles.

This affects Admiralty Chart No. 2389B.

Port Adelaide—Approach to Semaphore anchorage.

No. 121 (second publication).—The President, Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given notice (No. 6 of 1905) that recent soundings show about 6in. less water on the four (4) fathom shoal than indicated by Admiralty Charts Nos. 1752 and 2389B. Masters of heavy draught vessels should, therefore, when approaching the anchorage (especially near low water), not bring the old Port Adelaide Lighthouse or the light thereon on a bearing north of N.E. by E. until the green light on the Semaphore Jetty bears S.E. or the two red lights are in line. They may then steer in and select an anchorage according to the vessel's draught.

Vessels leaving the anchorage should steer out N.W. until the above-mentioned bearings are on.

The shoal spot referred to bears from the lighthouse on Wonga Shoal N. 33° 30′ W., distant about 1·3 miles, and from the old structure S. 48° W., distant about 1·9 miles.

This affects Admiralty Charts Nos. 1752 and 2389 B.

REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE OPIUM DEPARTMENT IN THE LOWER PROVINCES, BENGAL, DURING THE YEAR 1903-1904.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 25T.-O.—The 12th April 1905.—The following extracts from the Report of the Board of Revenue, on the Administration of the Opium Department during the year 1903-1904, are published for general information.

E. A. GAIT,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 1743B., dated Calcutta, the 7th March 1905.

From—H. F. SAMMAN, ESQ., I.C.S., Offg. Secretary to the Board of Revenue, L. P.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

5. Check-measurements by Gazetted officers of the Department.—The number of villages in which check-measurements were conducted in the Bihar Agency was 9,609, as compared with 10,333 in the preceding year, the decrease being due to the smaller number of officers on duty during the touring season. On the other hand, the area test-measured rose from 16,280 bighas to 20,006; and there was a similar increase in the number of plots measured and of the raiyats whose lands were measured. * * * * The check-measurements in Benares covered 116,468 plots belonging to 67,964 raiyats in 19,050 villages, the corresponding figures in the previous year were 103,819, 60,455, and 18,351. * * * *

As regards the proportion of cases in which the area recorded by the departmental subordinates was found to be incorrect, the Bihar Agent writes that in Patna discrepancies were found in the measurements of two muharrirs who were duly punished. Cases of short cultivation were discovered in Hajipur, Aliganj and Motihari; and some of pretended cultivation in Gaya, Tehta, Hazaribagh and Giridih. The Opium Agent, Benares, reports that in most Divisions the measurements of the muharrirs were found to have been made with sufficient accuracy except those in Allahabad and Hardoi, where five muharrirs had to be punished for neglect of duty.

The results obtained from the check-measurements made during the year have been of undoubted value, and the Board trust that this important work will continue to receive the careful attention it deserves. * * * *

6. Settlements.—In the Bihar Agency 344,730 bighas were settled as compared with 346,956 in the previous year, showing a further decrease of 2,226 bighas which is ascribed mainly to the rejection of unprofitable cultivation. * * * *

Experiments in poppy cultivation by indigo-planters, to which reference was made in last year's report, were continued during the year under review, but with less success. Better results, however, are anticipated in the current year. * * * *

In the Benares Agency the total area settled amounted to 693,033 bighas as compared with 624,562 bighas in the preceding year, showing an increase of 68,471 bighas. To this increase every Division contributed except Hardoi and Sitapur. * * * *

The Agent reports that the desirability of securing, wherever possible, the personal attendance of cultivators to receive advances was kept in view, but there was no overstraining in this direction. In the Fyzabad Sub-Division the percentage of attendance dropped from 93 to 84, and in the Fyzabad Division from 92 to 86 per cent. In the Patherwa and Salempur Sub-Divisions of the Gorakhpur Division the percentages were as high as 95 and 93, respectively, whereas in the Basti Division, where the number of petty cultivators is large, the percentage of attendance in the several sub-divisions varied from 75 to 85.

In Bihar, the only Sub-Agency that approaches the Benares standard of personal attendance is Tirhut. * * * * The percentage has, however, generally increased. With the khatadari system it is not possible to secure a high rate of personal attendance. The cultivators rely upon the khatadar who acts as their representative, the more so, as it saves them time and trouble. There is little doubt, however, that it is to the ultimate interest of the Government as well as that of the cultivators that the latter should have personal and direct dealings with the Gazetted officers of the department, and it is to this cause, perhaps, more than to any other that the popularity of opium cultivation in the Benares Agency is due.

7. Measurements and actual cultivation.—In the preceding year both Agencies showed a deficiency in the area sown, as compared with that settled, amounting in Bihar to 6,392 bighas and in Benares to 12,551. In the year under review Bihar showed a deficiency of only 2,171 bighas, whereas Benares showed an actual excess of 17,429 bighas. The failures due to climatic causes affected 10,551 bighas in Bihar and 13,940 bighas in Benares as compared with 7,781 and 12,303, respectively, in 1902-1903. In Bihar the largest failure, viz., 4,069 bighas in Tirhut, is reported to have been due "to the sowings having failed altogether in large areas of unirrigated cultivation owing to total want of rain during the latter half of October and the whole of November." The area lost by non-fulfilment of engagements was considerably less in both Agencies than that reported during the preceding year. In Bihar the total loss on this account was 6,141 bighas, out of which no less than 3,648 bighas occurred in Tirhut where the loss amounted to over 13 per cent. of the total area engaged for. These figures are remarkable, the more so as Tirhut is the only Sub-Agency in Bihar where the percentage of personal attendance at settlements is high. The Agent will be asked to submit a further report upon the subject. In Benares the total loss through non-fulfilment of engagements fell from 19,686 to 4,981 bighas, the most noticeable failure being in the Bareilly Division, the settlements of one of the Sub-divisions of which were, it is said, open to serious objections.

The difference between the area settled and that actually sown in the Benares Agency calls for some further remarks. The figures in Statement II shew a deficiency of 4,051 bighas in 6 divisions accompanied by an excess of 21,450 bighas in 14 divisions. The most marked fall was in Allahabad which sowed 1,644 bighas short; about half being in the Fatehpur Sub-division (Mr. A. C. Roy), where the deficiency was about 7 per cent., and half in the Sarsa Sub-division (Mr. Bean), where the deficiency was over 10 per cent. "Both of these sub divisions," the Agent remarks, "have been unsatisfactorily worked for some time past." The Fatehgarh Division gave the greatest increase, namely, 4,666 bighas. Rao Bareli comes next with about 3,300 bighas and then Mainpuri with 2,900 bighas, while three other Divisions, viz., Budaon, Bara Banki and Fyzabad together made up another 7,000 bighas.

Mr. House considers the mere fact that there should have been any deficiency at all in a year following upon a bumper season as an unmistakable indication that the settlements were injudiciously high. He has accordingly made further enquiries into this matter, the result of which has disclosed a tendency in all parts of the Benares Agency to make advances too freely, especially to new cultivators. Mr. House has ascertained that about 250,000 cultivators, or one-fourth of the total number, sowed either not at all or in greater or less defect, their aggregate short sowings amounting to about 38,000 bighas. The gross area sown in excess was therefore more than 55,000 bighas. The Agent reports that in some Divisions it is the practice for cultivators to sow without advances and without formal engagements, the area thus obtained being exhibited only in the measurement returns and not in the settlement figures, but this area, it is estimated, does not exceed 3,000 bighas at the outside. Apart, therefore, from this area, "there must" as Mr. House remarks "have been thousands of cases in which cultivators sowed in excess, utterly irrespective of the terms of their engagements. This is not merely contrary to rule, but it renders control difficult and might prove a source of much embarrassment." The eagerness of the cultivators to grow poppy is remarkable, but the Board agree with Mr. House that it is desirable "while not discouraging the giving of a reasonable excess, to insist on cultivators keeping as far as possible within cover of the terms of their engagements," and notice with approval that he has now passed orders to this effect.

8. Weather and general results.—In the Bihar Agency heavy rain fell at the end of October in all the Sub-Agencies except Muzaffarpur and Hazaribagh and provided favourable conditions for early and successful sowings. The young crop looked exceedingly well and promising. But the cloudy weather and rain in February injuriously affected the crop, especially in places where lancing operations had commenced, and finally in the early part of March, when collections were in full swing, strong west winds began to blow which retarded the exudation of the drug and quickly dried up the scarified capsules.

In Benares the monsoon of 1903 ended with exceptionally heavy falls of rain in the first fortnight of October. Sowings were general in the third week in October, except in low-lying lands. Germination was good, but the intense heat which followed was disastrous, and second and third sowings were not uncommon. The plant at first did well; but in many Divisions it soon became apparent that the soil was oversaturated when the sowings took place, while damage by caterpillars was general, owing probably to the insufficient tillage of the soil after the heavy rainfall. There was a sprinkling of rain in some places about the end of December, but otherwise the weather was dry and clear up to the middle of January, when rain fell in the south-east of the Agency and in some other parts. In the third week of February some rain also fell, and in the early part of March the rainfall was general, and was accompanied in three or four divisions by hail. The cloudy weather which prevailed at the end of February and in the early part of March interfered with collections and rendered difficult the manufacture of good leaf.

10. Outturn of opium.—* * * * The damdeta produce at 70° consistence in the two Agencies was 12,745 maunds less than that of the previous year. In Bihar the general average gross produce per bigha (excluding failures) was 3 seers 14 chitaks and 2 kutchas during the year under report, against 4 seers 3 chitaks in the preceding year, and 3 seers 6 chitaks and 3 kutchas on the average of the preceding seven years. In the several sub-agencies the average varied from 5 seers 11 chitaks 3 kutchas in Tehta to 1 seer 11 chitaks in Bettiah. No explanation of this variation has been given. In Benares the average produce per bigha fell from 5 seers 13 chitaks in the preceding year to 4 seers 9 chitaks during the year under report. This is, however, higher than the average (4 seers 7 chitaks) of the preceding seven years. The best divisional average was that of Budaon (6 seers), and the worst that of Cawnpore (3 seers) where some damage was done by hail.

15. Consistence of the season's opium.—The average consistence of the opium manufactured in the Bihar Agency was 74·68° as compared with 73·80° during the previous year, the improvement being due to the strong west winds that prevailed at the time of collection. On the other hand the consistence of the drug in the Benares Agency was abnormally low, the average being 67·98°, as compared with 70·72° in 1902-1903, which was also the average of the last ten years. This decline is reported to be due partly to the oversaturation of the soil at the time of sowing and partly to the cloudy weather with which the season closed.

21. Abolition of khurchan in the Benares Agency.—"The chief incident of the weighment season," writes the Benares Agent "was the abolition of lambardars' khurchan, and the substitution therefor of a commission calculated upon the yield of each license, the effect of which is that Government now pays for the services of the lambardars instead of saddling the cultivators with this cost. In several Divisions I was informed that the change was received by the cultivators with absolute indifference, but in others it was welcomed by the cultivators as much as it was welcomed by the officers of the Department. In one Division a curious matter came to my notice. The lambardars had previously been in the habit of dividing the khurchan with the cultivators. This year, notwithstanding the fact that nothing had been taken from the latter, they insisted on the lambardars dividing with them the commission paid by Government." The abolition of khurchan was an excellent measure, as it furnished a constant source of dispute between the lambardar and his asamis. The additional charge to Government is not large.

23 Advances for wells.—The advances made for the construction of wells were in both Agencies much below those of the preceding year. The outstanding balance in the Bihar Agency fell accordingly, but that in the Benares Agency shows an increase of Rs. 5,281. The Bihar Agent reports that the officers of the Department have shown no relaxation in their efforts to popularize the system. But the figures of the year are somewhat disappointing. In the Sub-Agencies of Gaya, Patna and Monghyr the landlords are said to be opposed to their tenants improving their holdings by sinking new wells; while in Bettiah, Motihari and Muzaffarpur the cultivators themselves are, as was remarked last year, averse to employing irrigation in lands that are usually unirrigated. In Tirhut, however, there are indications of improvement, large advances being taken in that Sub-Agency during the year on account of the almost complete failure of rain in November. The wells thus constructed not only irrigate poppy-lands but other lands as well, and are a great standby in years of deficient rainfall.

Mr. Bright remarks: "There is no doubt whatever that even the small number of wells which we have been able to get constructed in the past have been of permanent value to the raiyats."

In Benares the advances made last year were about Rs. 20,000 less than in the year before. This, the Agent thinks, is not surprising considering the nature of the season.

With reference to the orders contained in paragraph 5 of the Resolution of Government on the Opium Report for 1902-1903, rules regarding the grant of well advances, similar to those in force in Benares, have recently been framed by the Board in consultation with the Opium Agent, Bihar.

31. Cost of a chest of Provision Opium and net revenue.—During the calendar year 1904, 48,000 chests of provision opium were sold in equal proportions from Bihar and Benares, the average prices realised for a chest from each Agency were Rs. 1,638 and Rs. 1,593, respectively, or Rs. 1,616 for both combined, and the total sale-proceeds amounted to Rs. 7,75,58,170. The total cost of manufacture of the produce sold (including Presidency charges, &c.) amounted to Rs. 1,18,41,880 in Bihar and to Rs. 1,17,56,677 in Benares, or a total of Rs. 2,35,98,557, giving an average cost per chest of Rs. 492. The net revenue derived from opium during the two calendar years 1903 and 1904 amounted to Rs. 3,97,83,395 and Rs. 5,39,59,613, respectively.

32. Sales.—The opium sales during the twelve months from November 1903 to October 1904, comprised 23,025 chests manufactured in 1901-1902 and 24,975 chests manufactured in 1902-1903, in all 48,000 chests, of which half was taken from each Agency in monthly lots of 4,000 chests. The number of chests sold during the twelve months was the same as that sold during the previous year.

* * * * As compared with 1902-1903 the average prices of Bihar and Benares opium for the twelve months under notice showed an increase of Rs. 346 and Rs. 308 per chest, respectively. This is mainly attributed to the increased demand for foreign opium in the China markets owing to the political disturbances in Korea and Manchuria, which have affected the cultivation and transport of the native drug.

33. The total outturn of provision opium during the year 1903-1904 was 50,000 chests and the balance of the previous year's crop amounted to 31,762 chests. The number of chests available for sale during 1905 is therefore 81,762. In accordance with the orders of the Government of India communicated with the Bengal Government order No. 1626T.—R., dated the 30th June 1904, 48,000 chests or 4,000 chests monthly, made up of 2,000 chests each of Bihar and Benares opium, will be sold during the year, and there will therefore be left on the 1st January 1906 a reserve of 33,762 chests, viz., 16,768 of Bihar and 16,994 of Benares opium.

34. Breaches of the Opium Laws.—The number of prosecutions under Act XIII of 1857 was quite nominal in the Bihar Agency, and was small also in Benares. Under Act I of 1878 the number of cases showed an increase of 86 in Bihar and a decrease of 70 in Benares. The percentage of fines realised in Bihar was very low, viz., only 61 as compared with 83 in the previous year. At the same time the amount paid in rewards was actually in excess of the fines imposed, whereas in the previous year it had been slightly less than the amount realised. On the other hand in Benares the realizations showed a marked improvement, whereas the percentage of rewards paid shewed a heavy fall.

36 Miscellaneous—(a). Utilisation of survey maps and settlement records.—The final orders of Government (No. 3723, dated the 25th August 1904) on this subject were that His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor agreed with the Board of Revenue that the Opium Department would derive no benefit from the use of the records of the Survey Department which would be at all commensurate with the cost and labour involved in the procedure. The question of the utilisation of the survey records by the Opium Department has therefore been dropped.

* * * * * * *

(c) Position and prospects of the Gazetted Officers of the Department.—The position and prospects of the officers of the Department have been materially improved by the orders of the Secretary of State which were received towards the close of the year. Under these orders the scale of personal salaries up to Rs. 600 a month has been revised with a view to accelerating promotion, and the system of personal salaries has been extended up to the grade of Rs. 800. The pay of probationers has been raised to Rs. 200 a month till they pass their Departmental Examinations and Rs. 250 after; and officers, on subsequent admission to the sanctioned cadre, are permitted to count service for promotion from the date on which they commenced to draw Rs. 250. The question of the adequacy of the staff is under consideration.

* * * * * * *

(e) Abolition of the Giridih Subdivision of the Hazaribagh Sub-Agency.—For reasons stated in their letter to Government No. 1058B., dated the 2nd

February 1904, the Board have approved of the Bihar Agent's proposal that Giridih should be abolished as a sub-division with effect from the 1st April 1904.

(g) Revision of the Departmental Manuals and Account Rules.—* * * *
Bihar Opium Manual.—Part I.—This part has been finally approved by the Board and will be published along with the other parts when they are ready for issue.

Parts II and III.—These parts have been thoroughly examined, and a clean proof asked for from the press.

Benares Opium Manual.—Part I.—This part has been delayed on account of the non-receipt of the revised Excise Rules of the United Provinces Government. It has now been decided not to include these rules in the Opium Manual, so no further delay is expected in the completion of this part.

Part II.—The revised rules in this part were discussed by the Honorable Member with the Agent during his recent tour in the Benares Agency. The Agent's final opinion on certain points is now awaited.

Part III —The examination of this part has been finished.

Part IV (Bihar and Benares)—This part has been finally passed and approved by the Board and will be published as soon as the other parts are ready.

* * * * * * *

38. Merits of Officers.—The thanks of the Board are due to the Agents for the efficient performance of their duties. Messrs. Bright and House are both tried and experienced officers and have done much to remove existing defects and introduce improvements, while Mr. Duke, who acted only for a few months, showed much zeal as well as a considerable grasp of the subjects that came before him. Both the Agents acknowledge the good services rendered by the officers subordinate to them. At their instance the Board desire to bring the good work done by the following officers to the notice of Government:—Messrs. J. Christian, Field, J. C. Roy and Mackertich in Bihar, and Messrs. Kennedy, G. A. Levett-Yeats, Bryson, Delmerick and Harris in Benares.

RABI CROPS IN BENGAL, 1904-1905.

THE following note is published for general information.

R. W. CARLYLE,

Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 11th April 1905.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Forecast of the Rabi Crops of Bengal, 1904-1905.

Explanatory.—This forecast furnishes estimates of the area and outturn of the rabi crops, with the exception of wheat, cotton, oilseeds, and sugarcane, for which separate forecasts are issued. The crops included in this forecast are summer rice, barley, gram, tobacco, poppy and other food and non-food crops which are harvested between February and April. These latter embrace the important pulses, rahar, kalai, mung, peas, lentils, khesari, and kurti, also buck-wheat, cheena potatoes, yams, melons, chillies and other spices as well as oats and rabi vegetable crops.

2. The character of the season.—Rainfall in October was for the most part deficient. Bihar is the only Division in which the rainfall was above the normal. Drought prevailed since then until January when rainfall was again general. In February the rabi crops were seriously jeopardised by hail, frost, and rain. The damage occurred chiefly in the Bihar districts where the bulk of the rabi crops are grown; but the Rajshahi Division also suffered to some extent. Rahar, tobacco, khesari, peas and vegetable seem to have suffered most severely, and in the Patna district linseed. On the whole the season was very unfavourable one for the growth of crops in the northern part of the province.

3. Area sown.—The normal area sown with the various rabi crops in the province dealt with in the forecast amounts to, according to the district returns which are summarised in Appendix I, 10,040,400 acres as against 10,053,300 acres, which was the normal area sown last year. The change is due to the revision of estimates of normal area by the District Officers of Hooghly, Nadia, Jessore, Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Mymensingh, Noakhali, Purnea, Angul, and Ranchi. The area actually sown this year is estimated at 9,405,100 acres against 9,605,500 acres sown last year.

According to the figures of District Officers, 4,705,724 acres out of the normal area and 2,462,495 acres out of the current area represent "ascertained areas," the remaining figures in each case being approximations.

4. Outturn.—From Appendix I it will be seen that only Balasore expects a 100 per cent. crop. In five districts, viz., 24-Parganas, Khulna, Darjeeling, Backergunge, and Bhagalpur, the estimates vary from 90 to 99 per cent.; in nine between 80 to 89, and in 18 others between 70 and 79 per cent. Nine districts anticipate a crop between 60 to 69 per cent., while Nadia, Jalpaiguri, and Palamau expect an outturn varying from 50 and 59 per cent.

According to the estimates of the District Officers, the outturn for the province, as a whole, amounts to only 75 per cent. of a normal crop as against 87 per cent., which was their estimate for last year. Considering the damage caused by frost in February, the estimate of the District Officers is not unduly pessimistic. In fact, I should be inclined to reduce the figure to 70 per cent. I have not however changed the figures reported from the districts.

5. Gross outturn of summer rice.—As shown in Appendix II, the gross yield of summer rice for the province may be put down at 2,873,100 cwt. as against 2,923,800 cwt. of last year.

CALCUTTA,

DECENTRALIZATION OF MUNICIPAL WORK IN CALCUTTA.

THE following papers are published for general information.

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DARJEELING,
The 17th April 1905.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

RESOLUTION—No. 1686M.

Dated the 30th March 1905.

THE attention of the Lieutenant-Governor has for some time been directed to the steps which are being taken by the Calcutta Corporation for the decentralization of the Municipal work by the division of Calcutta into districts. Four districts have been created, each equipped with a complete establishment for the working of (1) a Health Department under a District Health Officer, (2) a Building Department under a Building Surveyor and (3) an amalgamated Engineering and Conservancy Department under a District Engineer. The establishment necessary for the working of the scheme has been appointed, and the material equipment also has now been practically all supplied. The practice of holding meetings of ward Commissioners in these District offices has also been introduced with good results, and useful schemes have been discussed in the meetings, the wants of the rate-payers being thus brought directly to the notice of the executive staff.

2. The development has now reached a stage at which legislation is necessary if any further considerable advance is to be made. It is desirable moreover that the whole question should be carefully considered from all points of view, so that the course of development within Calcutta itself may not merely be accelerated but may be so controlled and directed that it may ultimately, if not immediately, fit in with a larger and more comprehensive scheme for the Municipal administration of the larger urban area comprising Calcutta, Howrah and the surrounding Suburban Municipalities.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor has accordingly been pleased to appoint the following Committee to work out the details of a scheme of decentralisation affecting the existing divisions of the Municipality, such as they may propose to carry out at once, and also to lay down principles for the framing of a scheme to include outside Municipalities in the future as occasion may arise:—

THE HON'BLE MR. R. T. GREER, C.S.I., I.C.S., Chairman of the Calcutta Corporation ... President.

THE HON'BLE DR. JUSTICE ASUTOSH MUKERJEE, M.A., B.L., F.R.A.S., F.R.S.E.,
MR. F. W. DUKE, I.C.S., Commissioner of the Presidency Division,
MR. C. G. H. ALLEN, I.C.S.,
THE HON'BLE BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BOSE,
THE HON'BLE BABU NALIN BEHARI SARKAR, C.I.E.,
MR. J. B. BERTRAM.
} Members.

It will be left to the Committee to appoint its own Secretary.

4. It will be the duty of the Committee to consider—(1) the constitution and functions of the District Councils, and (2) the relations of the District Councils to the Corporation. These two questions cannot be altogether kept distinct; but under the former head the attention of the Committee will be directed more particularly to the following points:—(a) Whether any alteration in the present District areas is desirable, (b) the number of members of which each Council should be composed, (c) the manner and frequency of elections or appointments, and (d) the constitution of the Councils, i.e., whether each Council should consist of a Chairman and a Council and be left to make its own arrangements as to Committees, or whether there should be any statutory Committees similar to the General Committee or whether there should be any other statutory Committees. Under the latter head the following points call for special examinations:—(e) Whether the members of the Corporation should [illegible] ex-officio members of the District Councils containing the wards for which they have been elected or in which they reside, or in what other way the Councils should be represented on the Corporation, (f) the revenues which should be at the disposal of the Councils, and (g) the powers and duties which the Councils should be called upon to exercise.

5. As regards the three last heads (e), (f) and (g) referred to in the preceding paragraph the scheme should, if possible, be so arranged that it may in the first instance involve a minimum of interference with existing arrangements, if this can be done without any great sacrifice of efficiency. This is desirable not only on general grounds, but also because the Bengal Legislative Council has already as much controversial legislation before it as it can conveniently deal with for some time to come, and any Act which is required to give effect to the recommendations of the Committee should therefore be as simple and non-controversial as possible. Thus even if the Committee consider that the Councils should ultimately elect members as their representatives on the Corporation they may nevertheless be of opinion that in the first instance the simpler plan of making the members of the Corporation ex-officio members of the District Councils may preferably be followed. Again, when outside Municipalities are ultimately brought within the scheme, the revenues of the Councils will have to be completely separated from those of the Corporation, but at first it may be better simply to allow Councils to have control over certain expenditure on the existing scale within their districts, on the analogy of the financial settlements made by the Government of India with local Governments. It is also a question whether the powers and duties of the Councils should be such as may be delegated to them by the Corporation, or whether such powers and duties should be partly defined by law and partly provided for by the Local Government being given power to transfer powers and duties from one body to the other. The former procedure is that contemplated in Sir William Harcourt's Bill of 1884 for the better Government of London and other purposes connected therewith, and the latter corresponds with the procedure laid down in the London Government Act, 1899.

6. The Committee will also have to consider very carefully what additional expenditure the scheme which they are inclined to recommend will probably involve; and they will have to make out the best case they can for the desirability of such a measure of decentralisation as they may advocate. They will probably be able to obtain some assistance from the Act and Bill referred to in the preceding paragraph, and from the report of the Royal Commission of 1894, for the unification of London which forms Appendix III of Mr. Shaw's "Municipal Government in Great Britain." Mr. C. G. H. Allen, I.C.S., who is one of the members of the Commission, has been requested to study on the spot the latest developments in the direction of decentralisation at London, Paris and Berlin, and to obtain copies of laws, rules and other documents throwing light on the system in those cities.

7. The Committee will meet in the beginning of July.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

L. P. SHIRRES,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Municipal Dept. letters Nos. 1687-93M., dated the 30th March 1905.

From—L. P. SHIRRES, ESQ., Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Municipal Dept.,

To—The HON'BLE MR. R. T. GREER, C.S.I., I.C.S., Chairman of the Calcutta Corporation, President; the HON'BLE DR. JUSTICE ASUTOSH MUKERJEE, M.A., B.L., F.R.A.S., F.R.S.E.; F. W. DUKE, ESQ., I.C.S., Commissioner of the Presidency Division; C. G. H. ALLEN, ESQ., I.C.S.; the HON'BLE BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BOSE; the HON'BLE BABU NALIN BEHARI SARKAR, C.I.E.; and J. R. BERTRAM, ESQ.

I AM directed to forward, for your information, copy of a Resolution No. 1686M., of this date, and to express a hope that it may be possible for you to act on the Committee in connection with decentralization of M[illegible] work in Calcutta.

2. I am to point out that the object of the Resolution is that the Committee appointed thereby would submit to the Government of Bengal a carefully worked out scheme for decentralization. This scheme will receive the careful consideration of the Government of Bengal, and will have to be submitted to the Government of India for sanction before any action is taken to give effect either to that scheme or to any modification of it. It will be published for general criticism and suggestion.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF MARCH 1905.

The abnormal features which distinguished the two previous months of the year were to a certain extent apparent in the weather of March. The cold-weather storms, which had been so marked a characteristic of the early part of the year, continued into the present month at least during the former half, and were accompanied by unusual precipitation and a marked depression of temperature. During the latter half of the month, on the other hand the weather was of the variable character which indicates the change of the season, and here, too, the weather was more unsettled and the period of change from the cold to the hot weather distribution of pressure more prolonged than usual.

At the beginning of the month a cold-weather depression, which entered the province on the last day of February, was affecting the weather. Though shallow and diffused and therefore accompanied by only a slight fall of pressure, it possessed in the main all the characteristics of its predecessors, bringing with it a fair amount of rain and being followed by a well-marked cold wave and a high pressure distribution. Even during its passage pressure remained well above the normal, while after it had disappeared, the excess of pressure became again abnormal.

On the morning of the 6th indications of a change appeared, but it was not till the 8th that a well-marked depression was shown over Orissa. This storm, which brought with it very considerable rainfall to the whole province, did not pass away till the 12th, on which date pressure for the first time during the month fell below the normal. Mean temperature naturally rose under the influence of the depression, the rise, which was, as usual, greatest in the night temperatures, being to a certain extent counteracted during the day by the rainy and cloudy skies. Notwithstanding this rise, however, mean temperature remained below the normal throughout the province. A recovery of pressure set in on the 13th, but it was of short duration, as the barometer fell rapidly on the 15th, to a point below the normal, and as the fall continued unchecked till the 18th, the defect from the normal was on the latter date very large. This last change of pressure was the first indication of the seasonal change of distribution which usually takes place in March and resulted in the establishment of ordinary hot-weather conditions on the morning of the 17th. On that date moist southerly winds were blowing over the greater part of the province, while the temperature for the first time in the month rose above the normal. Weather remained of the ordinary hot-weather character till the 23rd, though the pressure distribution was somewhat unstable, and this, combined with the strong indraught of humid winds from the bay due to the steep gradient from south-east to north-west, gave rise to showery and disturbed weather, especially in the south of the province. These unsettled conditions culminated on the 21st and 22nd, a well-defined depression being shown on the latter date over the province, and gave rise to general and in some cases moderately heavy rain.

Pressure had been falling during the greater part of this period, and on the 21st was in very considerable defect throughout the province. Temperature fluctuated but slightly between the 17th and the 21st, and the difference from the normal was at no time great, there being, if anything, on the whole, a slight defect.

On the 22nd a change in the weather conditions set in, pressure beginning to rise rapidly in the west, while temperature began to fall. On the 23rd the distribution was unusual, a narrow ridge of high pressure extending across the centre of the province from west to east, while the area of lowest pressure had shifted to the south-west of the bay. At the same time temperature had fallen still further, and was in large defect over the province. On the 25th pressure was still lowest in the south-west of the bay, but from that a gradual change took place in the distribution, the advance of an area of low pressure from the United Provinces leading to a re-establishment of more normal conditions on the 29th, when pressure was again highest in the south of the bay. This area of low pressure moved slowly eastwards during the last days of the month, and on the 31st was lying over Assam These changes were accompanied by light rainfall, which, however, was chiefly confined to Assam and the southern parts of the province. Though a steadily rising temperature likewise characterised this period, the weather was still cooler than usual in the southern portions of the province even on the 30th of the month. On the 31st the position of the area of lowest pressure in the extreme north-east gave rise to another change, weather being on that day fine and cool with very dry west winds.

Pressure remained for the first twelve days of the month above the normal and was at times in large excess. From this date till the 23rd it continued with one slight intermission on the 14th below the normal, the defect being very large on the 17th and 18th. On the 22nd a rise set in and pressure was in slight excess till the 28th; from this date to the end of the month there was a slight deficiency. On the whole there was a balance of high pressure during the month over the whole province, and the mean is slightly above the normal, though the excess is slight.

Temperature remained below the normal till the 17th, when for the first time slightly hotter weather than usual prevailed. From the 17th to the 21st the fluctuations were small, though temperature was, on the whole, below the normal; on the 22nd a sharp fall set in, and temperature was again in large defect on the 23rd and 24th; from the 24th to the 30th temperature was steadily rising, but even on the latter date weather was still comparatively cool over the south of the province. On the last day of the month a drop took place, and temperature was again low throughout.

The average of the mean daily temperature was consequently considerably below the normal, but the deficiency was much more marked in the day than in the night temperatures, the greatest recorded departure from the normal for the mean maximum being over 7°, while from the mean minimum it was only about 4°.

Rainfall was in excess for every division of the province. The weather was more or less showery for the greater part of the month, but there were, besides, special periods when unusual and fairly general precipitation took place, i.e., on the 1st and 2nd, in all the divisions except North Bengal; 7th to the 12th practically the whole province; 21st and 22nd the whole province except South Bihar and Chota Nagpur. The greatest excess is shown in East Bengal where the average rainfall amounting to 7·68 inches was over three times the normal amount, while even in North Bengal, where the percentage excess was least, the normal average rainfall of 1·19 inches was more than doubled. In Bihar, where the average rainfall for this month is usually very small, i.e., ·38, an average of 1·69 was reached for March of this year.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the month of March 1905:—

R. W. CARLYLE,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES RELATING TO REVENUE MONEY-ORDERS.

These rules are divided into four parts :—

PART I.—Form of Revenue Money-order.
" II.—Issue of Revenue Money-orders.
" III.—Payment of Revenue Money-orders.
Section A—Payment from Head Offices at the head-quarters of districts.
" B.—Procedure to be followed in the Collectorate.
" IV.—Disposal of Acknowledgments.

2. The forms in use are given in Appendix D.

PART I.

THE FORMS OF REVENUE MONEY-ORDER.

The forms.

1. There are two forms of Revenue Money-order, viz., Form $\frac{1}{R.M.O.}$ on white paper, for land revenue and zamindari dâk cess, and Form $\frac{1A}{R.M.O.}$ on pink paper, for Road and Public Works cesses. Each of these forms is divided into three parts, viz. :—

(a) The Money-order
(b) The Acknowledgment.
(c) The Coupon or Chalan.

2. Part (a) requires no description, as it is exactly like the corresponding portion of the ordinary Inland Money-order form. Parts (b) and (c) are considerably larger than the acknowledgment and coupon of an ordinary money-order. Part (b) is on one side a duplicate of the chalan and is returned to the remitter as his receipt; on the reverse of this part are the remitter's name and address. Part (c) contains on one side all the particulars required by the Treasury, and on the reverse instructions for remitters of revenue money-orders.

Not to be used for any other purposes.

3. Form $\frac{1}{R.M.O.}$ is to be used for remittances of land revenue and zamindari dâk cess, and Form $\frac{1A}{R.M.O.}$ for remittances of Road and Public Works cesses, and for no other purpose.

To be freely distributed.

4. The forms of Revenue Money order should be freely distributed among the revenue-paying classes, and no restrictions whatever should be placed in the way of zamindars obtaining these forms.

Supply of forms.

5. Every Postmaster, Sub-postmaster, and Branch postmaster will be personally responsible that a sufficient supply of Revenue Money-order forms of each kind is always available in his office. In cases of emergency, supplies may be obtained by telegraph direct from the Stock Depôt of the Circle. Divisional Superintendents and Inspectors, when visiting post-offices, will see that a sufficient supply of Revenue Money-order forms of each kind is available, and mention in their diaries and inspection reports that they have done so.

6. The Revenue Money-order system does not apply to remittances of revenue payable to any Native State. Such remittances should be made by the ordinary Money-order form and be dealt with under the ordinary rules for money-orders.

PART II.

ISSUE OF REVENUE MONEY-ORDERS.

Issue of Revenue money-orders.

7. Revenue money-orders are issued from every Head, Sub, and Branch Post-office under the rules which govern the issue of ordinary Inland money-orders. The following paragraphs contain additional instructions, which relate solely to the issue of revenue money-orders.

Limit of amount.

8. The rules in the Postal Guide fixing the limit of value of a single ordinary Inland money-order apply to revenue money-orders. The rule prohibiting the inclusion of pies (fractions of an anna) in the amount of a money-order is not applicable to revenue money-orders, which may be for amounts including any fraction of an anna not less than one pie.

Office of Issue to help remitter in making entries.

9. The Office of Issue will help the remitter in making the requisite entries, and, if necessary, will make entries for him in the form of a revenue money-order, but no fee or any other gratification whatsoever is to be demanded or accepted, either directly or indirectly, by any official of the Postal Department for this service. Disregard of this order will be punished by dismissal of the official in fault, who will, moreover, be liable to any further penalties provided by law. If, notwithstanding the assistance thus offered, the remitter is unable to fill up the entries himself or to give the information necessary for the purpose, the money-order should be returned to him and should not be issued by the post-office, till the information is complete.

Note.—Remitters should also be advised to allow ample time for their revenue money-orders for land revenue to reach the Treasury before kist day, as the acceptance of a revenue money order after kist day does not exempt an estate from sale, except as permitted by the rules applicable to personal payment of land revenue after kist day.

Responsibilities of the Office of Issue.

10. The Office of Issue is responsible that no revenue money-order is issued of which the coupon (Chalan) is blank or is not completely filled up. The post-office has no means of ascertaining the correctness of the information supplied by a remitter; all that it is necessary to see is that entries are made against every printed item in the coupon (chalan), that these entries are made against the appropriate printed items, that all the items are understood by the remitter, and that the money-order is not for a larger sum than is allowed by the rules for ordinary Inland money-orders. The spaces in the acknowledgment and chalan for the entry of interest, penalty and expenses (kharcha) are intended to meet the requirements of remitters who are in arrears as regards the payment of their cesses, and have incurred liabilities for interest, penalty, process-fees, or other costs of proceedings. Every alteration or correction in the money-order must be attested by the initials of the remitter.

Distinguishing of revenue money-orders.

11. The letter "R" should be written before the number of every revenue money-order, and this mode of distinguishing revenue money-orders should be adopted wherever the number is entered.

Number to be assigned to Revenue Money-orders.

12. The number assigned to a revenue money-order by the Head Office or Sub-office of Issue will also be entered at the top of the coupon (chalan) and acknowledgment by the money-order clerk of the Head Office or the Sub-postmaster of the Sub-office of Issue, as the case may be.

PART III.

PAYMENT OF REVENUE MONEY-ORDERS.

SECTION A.—Procedure in the Head Office of payment.

13. When the revenue money-orders are in all respects* ready to be handed over to the postman, they should be examined with reference to the name of the audit office stamped on them and a separate list in triplicate+ (Form $\frac{2}{\text{R. M. O.}}$) should be made out by the money-order clerk for each audit office, the name of the audit office being noted in red ink at the head of the list.‡ The money-orders should be entered in each list according to the offices of issue, and the entries in the money column of the list should be carefully totalled. The original copy of each list will take the place of the journal of money-orders paid, the duplicate will be sent to the Treasury under the procedure described below, and the triplicate will be sent to the audit office concerned. When for the preparation of a list more than a single sheet of Form $\frac{2}{\text{R. M. O.}}$ is required, each sheet should be separately totalled and a grand total should be made at the end of the last sheet of the list or on a separate sheet. The date stamp of the office of payment should be impressed on the space provided for it on the reverse of the acknowledgment portion of each money-order.

Note.—When it is necessary to prepare one or more separate lists in addition to the list for the Home audit office, the total of each other list should be entered below the total of the list for the Home audit office and a grand total made both in figures and words. In that case too, after the words "detailed above" in the printed entry to be signed by the Postmaster at the foot of the original and duplicate of the list for the Home audit office should be inserted in manuscript the words "and in the accompanying list" or "and in the accompanying two lists" as the case may require.

14. The postmaster should then check the entries in each list with those on the money-orders, and also check the total of the money column. He will then prepare a Treasury Voucher Form (A/c 12), representing the total value of the money-orders as entered in all the lists. The amount represented by the Treasury voucher will not be charged against the letter of credit, and will be paid quite independently of the balance of any letters of credit held by the Treasury in favour of the post-office. Postmasters before sending revenue money-orders to the Treasury should examine them carefully, and any error which might have been avoided should be brought to the notice of the Superintendent.

15. The duplicate copy of each list with the money-orders entered therein attached to it, and the Treasury voucher duly filled up, should then be made over to the postman for delivery at the Collectorate, the postman's receipt for the documents being taken in the usual manner in the Register of Money-orders received.

* Only the total number and amount of revenue money-orders received for payment need be entered in the Register of money-orders received. In order, however that the record may be complete, it will be necessary to make a note in the last column of the Register whenever all the revenue money-orders received in one day are not included in the list of that date. For example, if in the Register of money-orders received on the 5th July there are shown 500 revenue money-orders for Rs. 10,000 but 300 of these orders for Rs 7,000 were received too late for inclusion in the list sent to the Collectorate on the 5th, there should be an entry in the last column of the Register in this form:—

200 for Rs. 3,000 included in list of 5th.
300 for Rs. 7,000 included in list of 6th.

+ The duplicate and triplicate will be prepared by carbonic paper, and a hard pencil must therefore be used in writing the list.

‡ If on any date revenue money-orders stamped with the names of all three Audit offices are received for payment, it will be necessary to prepare three separate lists, each in triplicate.

16. The postman will take the duplicate copy of each list, the money-orders and the Treasury voucher to the Accountant, and will receive back from the Accountant the money-orders without the coupons and acknowledgments. The postman will be careful to see that he receives back all the money-orders and that they are all duly receipted by the Accountant, and in the case of money-orders for amounts exceeding Rs. 500, by the Treasury officer also.

17. The paid money-orders received back from the Treasury will be examined by the money-order clerk in the same way as ordinary money-orders, and checked in detail with the original list. The total amount of the money-orders entered in each list will then be entered in the appropriate journal of money-orders paid by a single entry thus:

Rs. A. P.

"As per Revenue Money-order list ." The money-orders will be disposed of in the usual way.

18. The original and triplicate of each list will be kept with the appropriate journal of money-orders paid until the next list of ordinary money-orders paid is sent to the audit office when the corresponding list of revenue money-orders paid will also be sent, the paid money-orders being arranged in order and attached to the lists. The original lists will then be filed, a separate file of original lists being kept with each journal of money-orders paid, so that the dates of the journal and file of revenue money-order lists correspond.

Entries in accounts.

19. The amount of the Treasury voucher will be entered in the head office summary, and the head office cash-book on the receipt side opposite the item, "Drawn from treasuries," and will be included in the sum entered on the disbursement side under the head, "Money-orders paid." The amount will also appear in the Treasury pass-book and Register of transactions with the Treasury as money drawn from the District Treasury. All these entries must be made on the same date.

Note.—The date referred to above is the date on which the money-orders are sent from the post-office to the Collectorate. If the procedure to be followed in the Collectorate is correctly observed, the money-orders will be credited in the Treasury on the same date. If, owing to press of work or other reasons, the money-orders are not credited in the Treasury on the same date, the entries in the head office summary, the head office cash book and the Treasury pass book should still be made as prescribed in rule 19 on the date on which the money orders are sent to the Treasury for payment

The money-orders should also be entered as paid on the same date in the appropriate paid list of money-orders, and if any revenue money-orders sent to the Collectorate have not been received back when the paid list is due to be sent to the audit office, the paid list should still be sent, and the money-orders should be forwarded on receipt, a note explaining the reason for their absence being submitted at the same time to the audit office.

20. On receipt of the acknowledgments duly signed, the money-order clerk will examine and compare them with the original list or lists already in his possession, and with the duplicate presented to him along with the acknowledgments; and, if all are found correct, the postmaster will sign each duplicate list and return it to the Collectorate official who brought back the documents to the post office.

Acknowledgments for money-orders.

21. The money-order clerk should be particularly careful to see that he receives from the Collectorate an acknowledgment for every money-order, except when a note has been made on the duplicate list against any order showing that it was not for Land Revenue, Road, or Public Works cess, or Zamindari Dák cess. The money-order clerk will also see that every acknowledgment which he receives is in acknowledgment of the full amount of the money-order to which it appertains, and that the date of credit entered on each acknowledgment agrees with the date of payment of the money-order.

[Comp]arison of the duplicate list with [orig]inal.

22. Before each duplicate list is returned to the Collectorate, the money-order clerk will carefully compare it with the original, and see that they are exactly alike, any remarks recorded in the one list (either in the Collectorate or by the money-order clerk, or the postmaster) being copied in the other list.

Duties of money-order clerk in respect of reports to postmaster.

23. It will be the duty of the money-order clerk to report to the postmaster if the signed acknowledgments and the duplicate list or lists are not returned to him at latest by 4 P.M. on the day following that on which the Treasury voucher was sent to the Collectorate. On receipt of such a report, the postmaster should at once bring the matter to the notice of the Treasury Officer. Any serious or oft-repeated delay in the return of the acknowledgments should be reported to the Head of the Circle. The money-order clerk should report to the postmaster every case in which revenue money-orders are not received back on the same day that they are sent to the Treasury, and if it is found that this happens frequently, the postmaster should bring the matter to the notice of higher authority.

24. The money-order clerk will report to the postmaster every case in which the coupon (chalan) of a revenue money-order received by him is blank or is imperfectly filled up, and each such case should be reported by the postmaster to the Superintendent of the Division, in which the Office of Issue is situated.

Return of all revenue money-orders received during previous month.

25. On the 5th of every month, the money-order clerk will prepare a return (Form $\frac{2}{M.O.}$) of all revenue money-orders received during the last month, and this return will be submitted by the postmaster to the Head of the Circle.

SECTION B.—Procedure to be followed in the Collectorate.

26. On receipt in the Treasury of the money-orders with the duplicate copy of the list or lists in which they are entered and the Treasury voucher, the Accountant will check and compare the documents. If there is any error, he will return all the documents to the Post-office with a note of the error or errors. This error note will be signed by the Accountant and the Tauzi Navis of the Department concerned; when the documents are correct, the Accountant will at once cut off the portion of each money-order containing the coupon and acknowledgment, sign and date the money-orders (as payee), and return the paid money-orders to the Postman. In the case of money-orders for amounts exceeding Rs. 500, the Treasury officer also shall sign and date the money-orders as payee. The Accountant will retain the lower portion of each money-order, including the coupon and acknowledgment, the duplicate list or lists of money-orders (Form $\frac{2}{M.O.}$) and the Treasury voucher. No money-order received from the Post Office may be refused.

The acceptance of the revenue money-order after kist day is to be treated in the same manner as the receipt of a personal payment of revenue after kist day, and the sum will be kept in revenue deposit till the Collector has passed orders accepting the payment.

27. The Treasury Officer will, on the same day, charge off the amount represented by the Treasury voucher (A/c 12) by transfer, and credit the amounts of the several money-orders as shown in the list or lists and on the acknowledgments to the appropriate departments.

Entries in accounts.

If the estate on account of which a remittance of land revenue has been received is situated in another district, the remittance should be credited in the usual way, and the Collector to whom the money-order should have been addressed should be advised of the credit, according to the procedure in Chapter II, section XII, rule 2, of the Board's Tauzi Manual, 1899. The remitter should also be advised of his error by a note on the money-order acknowledgment. In the case of Road and Public Works cess and Zamindari Dák cess, the amount thus erroneously remitted should be transmitted by remittance transfer receipts to the Collector of the district to which the cess properly belongs, and the remitter of the money-order should be advised of his error, as in the case of land revenue.

If it should be found that a revenue money-order has been erroneously issued for a remittance of some due other than Land Revenue, Road or Public Works cess or Zamindari Dák cess, the Treasury officer should make a note to that effect against the entry of the money-order on the duplicate list, and forward the coupon and acknowledgment with an advice list (Form 4, G.M.O.) to the appropriate department for disposal under the rules in Part III of the rules for Government money-orders other than revenue money-orders.

28. If it should be found that any money order represents a remittance apparently not due to or intended for Government or any department or authority having an account in the Treasury, or that the amount of the money-order cannot for this or any other reason be credited at once in the Treasury accounts, the amount should be disposed of according to the standing rules and practice of the Account Department, or be made over in cash to the officer who would have been entrusted with it had the money been paid in cash instead of by money-order, or had it been sent as cash in an ordinary or registered letter.

Money-orders which cannot at once be credited in the Treasury accounts.

29. The Treasury officer will be responsible that the total of the amounts credited to the different departments and any sum made over in cash under rule 28 is equal to the amount of the Treasury voucher received from the post-office, and debited to the Postal Department

Responsibility of Treasury officer.

30. The next business to be done in the Collectorate will be a rough examination of the acknowledgments and coupons to see that the necessary particulars of remittance are given in each case. This examination should be made by the Tauzi Navises of the Land Revenue and Cess Offices, and by the Certificate Department, if a certificate has issued on account of Road and Public Works cess. If the amounts due on account of any cess, interest, penalties, and expenses are wrongly distributed by the remitter in the money-order, the Land Revenue or the Cess Department will correct the distribution. It is not necessary at this stage that the money-orders should be sent to, or examined by, the Zamindari Dâk office, even when they contain remittances of zamindari dâk cess. The fact that the amount remitted is less or more than is due is immaterial. If more than is due is remitted, the excess will be treated as a payment in advance; if less than is due is remitted, it will be treated as a payment on account.

Examination of money-orders.

If owing to omissions or errors in the particulars of remittance, there is any uncertainty as to whether a remittance can be correctly credited according to the intentions of the remitter, a note should be made across the acknowledgment in red ink, stating how the remittance has been credited or what further particulars are required, and in the latter case the remitter should be asked to send the required information immediately by letter. If a remittance of land revenue by money-order is received in the Treasury after the sunset of kist day, a note should similarly be made across the acknowledgment in red ink to the effect that the payment is "too late for kist day." *

31. Immediately after the examination prescribed in the preceding rule, the acknowledgments should be signed, dated, and returned with the duplicate list or lists to the post-office. The date on the acknowledgments must be the date of receipt of the Treasury voucher by which the money-orders were paid.

Documents to be returned to the post-office and to be retained in the Collectorate.

* It is to be understood that the date of receipt of the money-order in the Treasury is the date of the Treasury voucher by which it is paid, and not necessarily the date on which the acknowledgment is examined, signed or returned.

The Treasury Officer will be responsible that the acknowledgments and duplicate list or lists are returned to the Post-office at latest by 4 P.M. on the day following that on which they were received in the Collectorate. The chalans will be retained in the Collectorate.

Treatment of chalans.

32. After the return of the acknowledgments to the Post-office, the chalans of Form $\frac{1}{R.M.O.}$ should be sent to the Land Revenue Tauzi Office, and those of Form $\frac{1A}{R.M.O.}$ to the Cess Tauzi Office, so that the remittances may be entered in the departmental registers. The chalans should be initialled by a responsible officer of each department, and then be returned to the Collectorate. On each coupon is to be noted by the muharrir the date when he posted in the tauzi ledger the amount referred to in the coupon. The muharrir is to sign such note.

Duplicate list or lists to be filed.

33. When the duplicate list or lists, with the Postmaster's acknowledgment for the documents returned to him, are received back from the Post-office they should be attached to the chalans and filed in the Collectorate.

PART IV.

DISPOSAL OF ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

Acknowledgments.

34. The Acknowledgments appertaining to Revenue Money-orders received from the Collectorate will be sorted separately for each Office of Issue, and enclosed in envelopes (Form $\frac{4}{R.M.O.}$) addressed to the Postmasters of those offices. The total number of acknowledgments closed in each envelope will be the registered number assigned to that envelope. The acknowledgments for orders issued at Branch office are not to be returned to the Branch office direct, but through the Account office.

Envelopes containing Acknowledgments.

35. The money orders issued by each office will then be bracketed together in the remarks column of the original copy of the list prepared in Form $\frac{3}{R.M.O.}$, and the registered number of the envelope enclosing the corresponding acknowledgments will be noted against each bracket. The closed envelopes will then be made over to the registration clerk for despatch, his receipt for the total number of envelopes 'numbered as above' being taken at the foot of the list.

Disposal of envelopes and acknowledgments.

36. On arrival in the Office of Issue, the envelopes will be opened and the acknowledgments contained in each envelope will be checked with the registered number of the money-order. The envelopes will then be destroyed. The acknowledgments will then be stamped with the Money-order stamp, and be sorted for distribution to postmen and village postmen. The numbers of all acknowledgments given to each postman and village postman will be detailed separately by the Money-order Clerk, Sub or Branch Postmaster in the postman's book or the village postman's register, the entries being repeated as often as the acknowledgments are given out for delivery.

Delivery of acknowledgments.

37. The postman or village postman will obtain the remitter's signature or mark when delivering each acknowledgment in the postman's book or the village postman's register.

Non-delivery and disposal of acknowledgments.

38. Acknowledgments which cannot be delivered in consequence of the remitter not being found will be returned by the postman, or village postman to the Money-order clerk, Sub-Postmaster, or Branch Postmaster as the case may be, who will sign for them in the Postman's Book or Village Postman's Register.

Undelivered acknowledgments.

39. Undelivered acknowledgments will be kept in the Office of Issue (if a Head Office) for a period of 12 months, and, if still unclaimed, will be destroyed.

40. In Sub-Offices and Branch Offices undelivered acknowledgments will be retained for a period of three months, and, if still unclaimed, will be forwarded to the Head Office under a Postal Service registered cover. Such acknowledgments will be kept in the Head Office for a further period of nine months, and, if then still on hand, will be destroyed.

Responsibility of Post-office for delivery of acknowledgments

41. Postmasters, Sub-Postmasters, and Branch Postmasters of the Offices of Issue will be responsible that acknowledgments are delivered to remitters of Revenue Money Orders without any unnecessary delay and free of charge. Enquiries as to the punctual and free delivery of acknowledgments should be made from time to time from zamindars who may call at the Post Office to have Revenue Money-orders issued.

Remitter to examine acknowledgments.

42. Remitters of Revenue Money-orders should be advised to examine carefully their acknowledgments for the money-orders, in case there should be any red ink note by the Collectorate calling for further particulars, or indicating a doubt as to whether a remittance has been correctly credited according to the intentions of the remitter.
